Khrushchev Accepts Offer

West Begins Consultations On Next Step

Washington Takes Cautious Attitude, Delays Reaction

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower held back any comment Wednesday night on Premier Khrushchev's conditions for summit talks at the United Nations. Many diplomatic officials were convinced such talks would take place.

A number, however, voiced strong doubts that any such parley as Khrushchev proposed—to begin Monday at U.N. headquarters in New York City—could be arranged as quickly as that.

Eisenhower deliberately delayed any reaction overnight until Secretary of State Dulles and diplomatic officials put Khrushchev's words under the microscope — figuratively reading the fine print for gimmicks.

The White House press secretary, James C. Hagerty, gave no indication when the U.S. reply to Khrushchev might be expected. He said he would be in his office early Thursday (7:30 a.m., EDT), but gave no hint that a reply might be made public at that time.

More Jockeying Expected

Some diplomatic sources forecast a period of further diplomatic jockeying while both sides agreed on who would attend the proposed talks and what would be discussed. They said it was highly doubtful these arrangements could be nailed down sufficiently in five days, as Khrushchev proposed.

To coordinate U.S. - British-French strategy, the State Department began immediate consultations with London and Paris over the Western Big Three answer.

Several members of Congress said they expect a summit meeting to discuss Mideast problems within the framework of the U.N. Security Council, as Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan suggested Tuesday night. Eisenhower did not say in so many words he would attend, but officials said he could hardly stay away if other heads of government showed up.

Dulles Plans Europe Trip

In his prompt reply, as broadcast by the Moscow radio, Khrushchev agreed on condition that the Western powers agree to include Prime Minister Nehru of neutralist India and Arab leaders in the summit session.

A clue that no meeting would be held Monday came when Dulles went ahead with plans to leave Friday for a trip to Europe. Dulles is due to return to this country Tuesday morning.

Eisenhower would be unlikely to attend any summit parley without Dulles on hand from the start to guide him in any face to face debates with Khrushchev over the Middle East crisis.

'Wickie' The Mouse Rockets Into Space

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Thor-Able rocket, carrying a mouse named "Wickie," blazed aloft Wednesday, aimed for a 6,000-mile journey through space and a return to earth.

Fifteen minutes after the blastoff, the Air Force said the rocket performed satisfactorily and "an effort will be made to recover the nose cone and its passenger."

An announcement on the recovery operation was expected within a few hours.

It was the third test of a Thor-Able rocket. Its mission, as before, was to drop its elaborately equipped nose cone on a target area where it—and its little passenger—could be recovered.

The Air Force wants to know primarily how the nose cone, designed to haul hydrogen warheads over intercontinental ranges, will withstand the fantastic friction heat it will encounter in its plunge from space back into the earth's dense atmosphere.

Of secondary importance in military thinking—but vitally interesting to space scientists—is the fate of Wickie, which rode in an airtight compartment within the nose cone.

The first Thor-Able test failed April 23 when telemetric contact with the rocket was lost shortly after takeoff.

The second, fired July 9, became the first U.S. ballistic missile to travel the 6,000-mile intercontinental distance. But attempts to recover its nose cone and a little mouse named Laska were abandoned after 2½ days.

The huge missile thundered up into a pale blue sky at 5:13 p.m. It roared straight upward for 70 seconds, then angled off on a horizontal course to the southeast, trailing a ball of orange fire behind it.

A fleet of Air Force ships and planes rendezvoused near Ascension Island, 1,000 miles off the African coast, awaiting the comet-like dive of the mushroom-shaped nose cone from space.

Cost Of Living Edges Upward

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government reported Wednesday that the cost of living almost came to a standstill in June but edged up just enough to set a new all-time high.

"We came about as close to having zero change as we ever do and still have a change," said Ewan M. Clague, commissioner of labor statistics.

The consumer price index nudged upward less than one-tenth of 1 per cent to reach 123.7 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This was 2.9 per cent higher than June, 1957, and was the 20th rise in the last 22 months.

Clague said the June yardstick showed a "very great balance and stability" at work in the economy. But he warned that the upward spiral could resume if consumers start panic buying because of the Middle East crisis.

The June increase was almost the same size as May's, when the index also rose one-tenth of 1 per cent. The May increase was due largely to higher prices for gasoline and used cars.

Although Labor Department experts called the June rise "tiny" and "fractional," it will mean slight pay increases for about 575,000 workers whose wages are tied to the index by escalator clauses.

South, Far West Bid Strongly For Miss U.S.A. Title

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—The South and the Far West put in a strong bid for Miss U.S.A. honors Wednesday night in final judging to choose the most beautiful representative for the nation in the Miss Universe pageant.

Of the 15 finalists, seven were from below the Mason-Dixon line and five were from the Far West. With two others from the Midwest, the only Eastern lovely with a chance was Virginia Fox, 21, of New York.

Contest officials, including Director Oscoar Meinhardt, have taken every precaution to avoid a repetition of last year's uproar created by the discovery that Leona Gage, chosen as Miss U.S.A., was married and the mother of two children.

Judges expected to know the names of the five top candidates by 10:30 p.m., P.D.T. However, the identity of Miss U.S.A. won't be disclosed until approximately midnight, P.D.T.

"It's Love," Says Girl, 18, Who'll Wed Widower, 73

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) — "It's love," 18-year-old Ida Jane Caudill said Wednesday in announcing she will marry a 73-year-old great grandfather next Monday.

"I never gave his age a second thought," the bride-to-be said. "I accepted as soon as he proposed."

Miss Caudill will marry Steve Horsley, a friend of her family for 35 years.

Horsley, a widower, has outlived two previous wives. The first, whom he married when he was 16, died after about 22 years and the second after 35.

He has two children, seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

"A body needs someone to come home to at night, somebody to talk to and to go to church with," said Steve. "This girl is a nice girl but she'll never fill Bessie's place.

He hastened to add, however, that not only does he love Ida Jane, but he knows she is a hard worker and a good cook.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bischer. They approve of the wedding.

Mr. Horsley said the romance began a few months ago, although he has known Ida Jane his second wife, Bessie, used to babysit for the Bischers about 15 years ago.

He said Bessie told him before she died that he should get married again.

Horsley has a farm at Pond Run near Portsmouth, Ky. and plans to take his new wife there "because she likes to work in the fields."

He married his first two wives 35 years apart in the same courthouse in Greenup, Ky.

Ike Praises Compromise Defense Bill

Senate And House Conferees Agree On Reorganization

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Senate-House conference committee agreed with almost unprecedented swiftness Wednesday on a compromise bill to reorganize the Defense Department to meet the need of the nuclear-space age.

President Eisenhower immediately gave the far-reaching measure his blessing. He said "except in relatively minor respects the bill adequately meets every recommendation I submitted to the Congress on this subject."

His statement, issued by the White House, spelled finis to one of the stormiest battles of the session between Congress and the administration. Final congressional approval of the compromise was considered a mere formality in view of Eisenhower's stand.

More Efficiency Seen

The President also praised House and Senate military experts who hammered out the final version and said he was convinced the legislation would result "in a more efficient and more economical national defense."

The measure, which won the unanimous approval of the conference committee, gives the President most of the power he urgently sought to streamline the nation's military machine to meet swiftly-changing methods of warfare.

However, the conference kept without change a provision which Eisenhower has denounced as "legalized insubordination." It would allow a service secretary or member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to bypass his superiors and take dissenting views straight to Congress.

25 Minutes To Agree

While retaining this feature, the conference group modified two other House-approved provisions which the President had assailed. They also included Senate-approved language assuring continuation of the Marine Corps, naval aviation and the National Guard.

It took the conferees only 25 minutes to agree on the compromise legislation supporting the President's concept of unified combat commands directed through a streamlined chain of authority.

The measure now goes back to the full House and Senate for final congressional approval.

U.N. Prepared To Hold Parley

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The United Nations stood ready Wednesday night to hold a summit meeting in the Security Council next Monday, as suggested by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

A source close to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold said the UN was prepared to hold the meeting any time the governments involved agreed to it.

The source denied reports by diplomats in Washington that Hammarskjold had said the meeting could not be held before Aug. 4 and that he was worried about security arrangements to safeguard the chiefs of government who would attend it.

Soviet Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev showed little concern about security arrangements. He told newsmen at a cocktail party that he would house Khrushchev, if and when he comes, at Russia's UN delegation headquarters on Park Avenue.

Sobolev delivered Khrushchev's reply to Hammarskjold Wednesday night. Earlier he had indicated private doubts, however, that the meeting of the heads-of-government could be arranged by Monday.

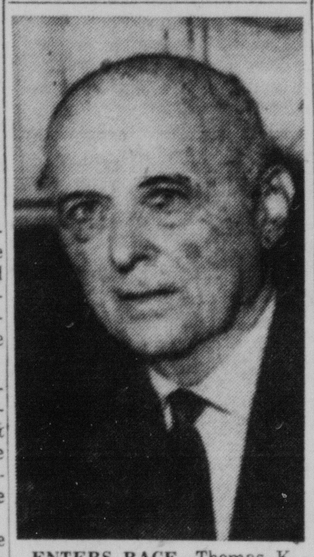

Anti-West Slogans In Baghdad Erased

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Anti-Western slogans daubed on Baghdad's walls during the Iraqi revolution were being scrubbed off Wednesday on orders from the army.

Pictures of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic still are everywhere. But they have been ordered removed from automobile windshields for safety reasons.

Troops have been withdrawn from the city except around the radio station, and civil police have been handed back responsibility for maintaining order.

Crisis Solution Brought Closer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — The 10-week-old Lebanese revolt moved a step toward a solution Wednesday. Pro - government law makers agreed to push ahead with election of a new Lebanese president a week from Thursday.

Parliament speaker Adel Osseiran accepted the recommendation that parliament meet July 31 to vote on embattled President Camille Chamoun's successor. He messaged the 6 deputies at once summoning them to Beirut.

The move brought the Lebanese crisis closer to solution than at any time since May 11, when it erupted in civil strife. It also brought nearer the possibility of a quick and graceful departure for the American armed force of more than 9,000 men here.

The pro government majority at a caucus gave peace hopes a further boost by agreeing to back a non - parliamentary presidential candidate if one could be found on whom both sides in the revolt could agree. It has been customary to choose a candidate from parliament.

Three Key Prospects

The decision was a major compromise.

Lebanese politicians now have a week to intensify their search for a compromise candidate. Three key prospects already had emerged from the pro-government side since U.S. Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert D. Murphy began his trouble - shooting mission in Beirut.

They were Salim Lahoud, pro-Chamoun and pro-Western member of parliament, former President Alfred Naccache, a lawyer and Hawral Araboulos, lawyer and scholar.

The opposition appeared to be ranging its forces behind former President Beshara Khoury, who was thrown out by a 1952 crisis resembling the present one. That was when Chamoun came to power.

Candidate Sought

Murphy has been busy lobbying in the background with the opposing political forces. His aim was to help find a candidate acceptable to both sides.

Prior to the latest political break, Adm. James (Lord Jim) Holloway, commander of all American military forces in Lebanon, said in a press conference that he believed his troops "are going to be able to get out of here without a fight."

Holloway said his troops would be withdrawn from Lebanon "as soon as a political solution is found." The withdrawal would follow attainment of their mission, which was to help assure the stability of the country and preserve its integrity and independance, he said.

Senate Group Seeks Defense Budget Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee studying the huge defense budget ran into a deadlock Wednesday on proposals to boost it by 2½ billion dollars. The extra money would go to buy more jet bombers and tankers, missiles and other weapons.

The stalemate developed after the White House sent word that President Eisenhower opposes the increases as proposed by Sens. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) and Henry M. Jackson (D - Wash). They would hike the money total for the fiscal year which started July 1 from 38½ billion dollars voted by the House to about 41 billion.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va) said the Senate Appropriations subcommittee accepted his proposal that a special six-man subcommittee of the group be set up to take a searching look at the proposals.

The proposed increases involve about $1,700,000,000 for the Air Force and 800 million dollars for other services.

"We decided we better take a look at the effects upon the economy and budget plans before actually voting on such large increases," Robertson told reporters after the closed-door session.

He said the special subcommittee would include three senior members of both parties on the defense subcommittee. The Democrats are Sens. Dennis N. Chavez (NM), Carl Hayden (Ariz) and Richard Russell (Ga). The Republicans are Sens. Styles Bridges (NH), Milton R. Young (ND) and William F. Knowland (Calif).

Both Jackson and Symington, in interviews, said they are confident the full Senate committee would vote some increase for additional jet bombers and tankers.

Word of Eisenhower's opposition came from Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill) after Tuesday's weekly conference between the President and Republican congressional leaders. Dirksen said Eisenhower doesn't want Congress to appropriate any more money for defense than can be effectively absorbed.

British Seize 1,200 In Cypriot Roundup

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—British troops swept into the Troodos Mountains Wednesday in their biggest roundup of Cypriot extremists in the three years of violence on this island. More than 1,200 men and women already have been placed in detention camps.

But the raids, ordered to halt a threatened new campaign by the Greek underground organization EOKA, failed to stop killings and violence between the Greeks and the Turks.

A 12-year-old boy and 70-year-old man, both Greek Cypriots, were stabbed to death Wednesday and a Turkish Cypriot died of wounds suffered Sunday.

Fuel Tank Falls Off Jet, Kills Two Aboard Carrier

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A gasoline tank fell off an FJ4B Fury jet fighter during takeoff, skinned across the deck of the aircraft carrier Ticonderoga and killed two sailors, the Navy reported Wednesday.

The accident occurred Saturday off the California coast where the 33,000-ton vessel was engaged in battle practice.

House Unit Approves 7% Hike In Security Benefits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways & Means Committee tentatively approved a bill Wednesday providing for a 7 per cent cost-of-living increase for the nation's 11,800,000 social security beneficiaries.

The measure would pay for the increased benefits by raising social security taxes on all employers and workers covered by the program.

The legislation was given a good chance of passage this session despite the congressional rush toward adjournment.

The tax increases would go into effect next Jan. 1. They would amount to a maximum of $25.50 a year for employes and $38.25 for self-employed persons.

Persons now receiving social security benefits would get an increase of $3 a month, or 7 per cent, whichever was greater.

Persons earning more than $350 a month who go on the rolls some years from now would get an increase of more than 7 per cent over the maximum $108.50 a month they now are guaranteed.

Benefits now range from $30 to a maximum of $108.50 for retired individuals. The committee bill would raise that to $33 and $116.10.

The social security tax is presently set at 2¼ per cent of the first $4,200 in earnings of employes, or a maximum of $94.50. Employers must match these contributions. Self-employed persons pay a 3⅜ per cent tax rate, or a maximum of $141.75 a year.

These rates would be raised Jan. 1 to 2½ per cent on the first $4,800 earned by employes or a maximum of $120 a year, with employers required to pay the same amount. The tax on self-employed persons would be raised to 3¾ per cent or a maximum of $180.

Bid For Power By Venezuelan Military Fails

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — An army plot to seize power in this oil-rich land melted Wednesday in the face of 100,000 angry demonstrators and a massive general strike.

The shouting crowd demanded and got the resignation of Defense Minister Gen. Jesus Maria Castro Leon, the man who tried to engineer the ouster of the ruling five-man government junta.

The White Palace announced that Castro Leon would leave the country in two or three days to take an undisclosed high post abroad.

He was replaced by Gen. Jose Lopez Henriquez, commander of the Venezuelan air force.

Rear Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabal, who received a strong display of civilian support in the general strike, appeared to have overcome the army threat. The admiral is head of the junta that overthrew the Marcos Perez Jimenez dictatorship six months ago. But it may be the military will make another bid for power.

Gen. Castro Leon Tuesday sent an ultimatum to Larrazabal demanding dissolution of the Communist and left-wing Accion Democratica parties, press censorship and postponement of the promised general elections.

Wants India, Arab States At U.N. Talks

Suggests Summit Meeting Open In New York Monday

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev Wednesday night provisionally accepted the Anglo-American proposal for a summit conference in the United Nations Security Council. He proposed that it be held in New York on Monday, with India and Arab States represented.

In letters to President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French Premier Charles de Gaulle and Indian Premier Jawaharlal Nehru, Khrushchev specified that the chiefs of state themselves attend to discuss the Middle East crisis.

Nehru and Macmillan fully supported the idea. Eisenhower went reluctantly along with Macmillan. But De Gaulle was reported opposed to a meeting in the klieglight atmosphere of the security council, although favorable to such a gathering outside the framework of the UN.

Khrushchev specified that the attendance of Nehru was "essential" and added a derisive reference to Nationalist China which is a permanent council member along with the United States, Russia, Britain and France. India is not a member at present of the 11-nation council.

The Soviet premier also insisted that "representatives of the Arab countries concerned" be brought to the meeting.

Seriousness Stressed

Khrushchev said he was taking into consideration the seriousness of the Middle East situation in agreeing to the Anglo-American call for a top-level meeting within the framework of the U.N. Security Council.

Khrushchev proposed the meeting be be held in New York on Monday.

In order to bring Nehru and representatives of the Arab countries into any summit meeting at the Security Council, the 11-nation council presumably would have to set up a special subcommittee.

At present, India is not a member of the Security Council. Of the Arab states, Iraq is represented at the present time, but the U.N. has not yet recognized the new Iraqi regime and seated the Iraqi delegate representing the revolutionary government in Baghdad.

Nehru of India already had agreed to participate in a five-power conference at the summit. The Indian acceptance was in reply to the original proposal by Khrushchev last Saturday for an urgent summit conference, "anywhere and any time" to discuss the Middle East and head off "the world's greatest catastrophe."

Newspaper Hits Proposal

The West's reply suggested a meeting in the Security Council.

Khrushchev's conditional acceptance was expected by many Western observers here. They had given the Western proposal a 50-50 chance of acceptance despite a broadside against the Western position in the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia Wednesday morning.

However, the paper was printed before receipt in Moscow of the Western notes proposing a top-level meeting under terms of the United Nations Charter.

Khrushchev's proposal now must be considered by the West—which made no reference of expanding the proposed conference to include Arab representatives.

The Security Council could meet anywhere for the summit meeting—New York, Geneva or any city decided on by the nations involved.

Clothes Closet Trap Claims Third Life

DALLAS (AP) — A third child died Wednesday from suffocation suffered when she was trapped in a clothes closet of her home Tuesday.

Two children of a Negro family were found dead and two others unconscious by their mother, Mrs. Cardie McDade, when she returned home from work.

Debra Joyce Moore, 3, and Tommy Allen Carr, 4, Mrs. McDade's children by a previous marriage, were dead.

Carolyn Moore, 3, died Wednesday. A fourth child, Cloyce Moore, 6, was in a critical condition. His temperature was 108 degrees. He is in a Dallas hospital packed in ice.

The children were trapped when a handle fell off the closet door.

Rayburn Endorses Ike's Trade Program Request

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Speaker Sam Rayburn Wednesday threw his powerful support behind President Eisenhower's request for a five-year extension of his authority to cut tariffs under the reciprocal trade program.

Rayburn's support, coupled with that of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), lent support to the growing belief that Congress would give President Eisenhower almost everything he wants in the way of a trade bill.

The Senate, in approving the bill Tuesday, removed most of the President's objections. However, the Senate bill carried only a three-year extension as opposed to five years requested by Eisenhower and approved by the House.

A House - Senate conference committee now must work out a compromise between the two versions.

Rayburn conceded the Senate had eliminated the "worst features" of the trade measure recommended by its Finance Committee. He predicted the conferees would have little difficulty in reaching agreement.

But Rayburn said the Senate's three-year limit on tariff - cutting authority was "very unfortunate."

He said it was news to him that Eisenhower had passed the word that he would accept a four-year bill. Rayburn said that would be somewhat better but indicated he would fight for a five-year extension.

The conference committee also will have to agree on a ceiling for tariff cuts. The Senate approved a limit of 15 per cent with a maximum of 5 per cent each year. The House bill would permit a reduction of 25 per cent during the life of the bill with no more than a 10 per cent cut in any one year.

House conferees were reported ready to concentrate their main effort on eliminating the Senate restriction which would prevent the President's added tariff-cutting authority from being carried over from year to year.

Some Wraps Taken Off 15,000 MPH Atlas

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (AP)— The Air Force took some of the wraps off the 15,000 m.p.h. Atlas missile Wednesday.

The Atlas propulsion system, called "the most powerful system in the free world to enter flight test and production," is a cluster of liquid - propellant rocket engines.

It consists of a twin chambered booster engine which hurls the missile to the fringes of space, a sustained engine which keeps it on course at high altitude, and two stabilizing venier engines to control roll.

The system was designed and developed by a division of North American Aviation, Inc.

Foreign Policy Study Favored

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Rules Committee Wednesday approved a $300,000 study of U.S. foreign policy. The study was proposed following the spread of Arab nationalism to Iraq in a coup which overthrew the pro-Western monarchy there.

The action paved the way for full Senate action on the Foreign Relations Committee's proposal for the long-range inquiry.

Also approved by the Rules Committee was $150,000 for a study of relations with Latin American republics and $35,000 for the special disarmament subcommittee headed by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, (D-Minn.).

The Latin American study was launched by a foreign relations subcommittee after Vice President Richard M. Nixon's violence-scarred tour of that area last spring.

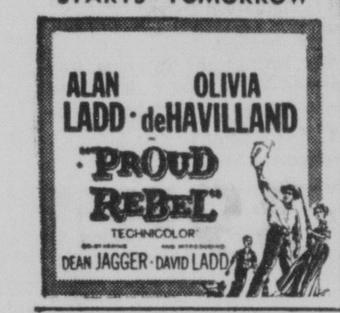

There were these other congressional developments bearing on the Middle East situation:

—Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) said a United Nations Summit meeting on the Middle East crisis would offer the West a chance to challenge Soviet suppression of freedom in Hungary.

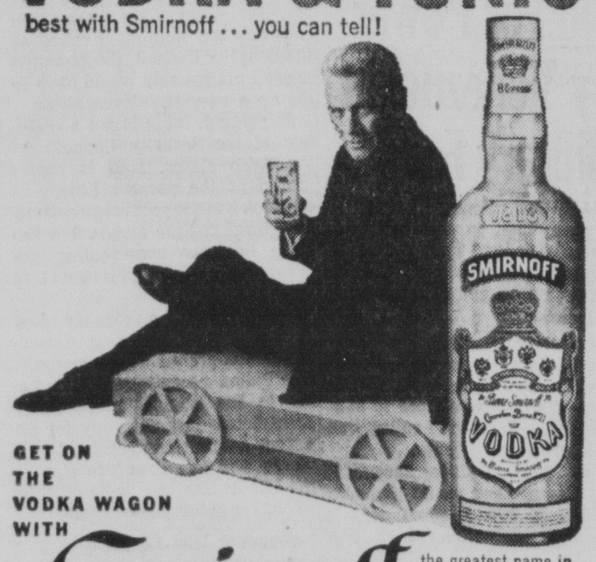

—Eight senators attended a briefing by Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter who was described as reporting "nothing new" on the crisis in the Moslem world.

—Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) urged that Latin American nations be given an active mediating role in the Middle East. He said the "balancing influence" of the 20 Latin American republics had been "too long overlooked" in world councils.

State Seeking To Speed Slot Ruling Appeal

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Court of Appeals will hear arguments Friday on a motion by the state to advance its appeal of a Circuit Court ruling which voided a law outlawing slot machines at Potomac River casinos.

Ordinarily, the appeal would be placed behind appeals already filed and would not be heard until December or January. The high court is on summer recess now and is not scheduled to reconvene until September.

The motion for advancement of the appeal was filed with Chief Judge Frederick W. Brune by Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert. The full court will hear arguments on it at 10 a.m. Friday.

Stedman Prescott Jr., deputy attorney general, and James H. Norris, an assistant, are expected to present the state's arguments. Paul J. Bailey and William O. A. Sterling, Leonardtown attorneys representing the Potomac casino operators, will oppose the motion.

The appeal was formally filed Wednesday in an order mailed by Atty. Gen. Sybert to the clerk of St. Marys County Circuit Court. There was no immediate indication whether Sybert would ask the court to move the case up for a special hearing this summer or merely advance it on the regular September docket.

Gov. McKeldin, who asked the 1958 General Assembly to outlaw the Potomac slots, had requested the attorney general to move for an immediate review of the decision by two St. Marys County Circuit Court judges that the law is unconstitutional.

Pending an appellate ruling, the gambling piers are continuing operations which the Legislature said would be illegal as of June 1, 1958.

Judges John B. Gray and Philip H. Dorsey held that the General Assembly "transcended its power" by enacting the anti-slot machine bill at a 30-day session limited by the constitution to consideration of statewide, budgetary and emergency matters.

Radio-Teletype Wave Bounced Off The Moon

FT. HUACHUCA, Ariz. (AP) — The Army Signal Corps has bounced an ultrahigh frequency radio-teletype wave off the moon and back to earth for possibly the first time, officials announced Wednesday.

In a series of tests conducted recently by the Army's electronic proving ground at Ft. Huachuca and the Collins Radio Co. of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a radio-teletype message was sent from the fort to Encino, N.M., using the moon as a passive relay.

Ft. Huachuca spokesmen said this was "very probably the first time intelligence has been transmitted via ultrahigh frequency waves over the nearly 500,000-mile distance from the earth to the moon and back."

Spokesmen said the range of this type of communications system is limited only by the ability to observe the moon simultaneously from both the transmitting and receiving points.

They added that it would be possible to send messages from one point on the earth to another by using artificial satellites as the passive relay station.

Marian Anderson Named U.N. Delegate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower Wednesday nominated singer Marian Anderson and six others as new members of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations' General Assembly.

In addition to the Negro contralto, new nominations include Sens. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Mike Mansfield, (D-Mont.); Herman Phleger, Redwood City, Calif., former State Department legal adviser; George M. Harrison, Silverton, Ohio, head of the Railway Clerks Union; Watson W. Wise, Tyler, Tex., businessman, and Irving Salomon, Escondido, Calif., industrialist.

Nuclear Icebreaker Measure Advanced

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Commerce Committee Wednesday approved a bill to authorize construction of a nuclear-powered icebreaker to explore the Arctic in a race with the Soviet Union.

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash), the bill's author, estimated it would cost 30 million dollars to build the vessel's nuclear power plant and about 25 million to build the icebreaker itself.

He said Congress should move fast in an effort to catch up with Moscow which reported last December it had launched an atomic-powered icebreaker.

Refugees Reach Rome

ROME (AP) — A hundred Americans, including 38 women and 50 children, flew into Rome Wednesday from troubled Baghdad.

They are the second group of Americans to be evacuated from Iraq, where a revolution upset the monarchy last week. All those arriving Wednesday are members of U.S. Government missions in Baghdad or dependents of government employes.

Cost Of Living Pushed Steadily Upward In Maryland

BALTIMORE (AP)—A series of legislative acts and administrative rulings by state regulatory agencies has nudged the cost of living steadily upward in Maryland this year. More of the same is in store for the near future.

Since the beginning of the year, costs have climbed in these areas:

1. Telephones — Private rates went up in February, as a result of a Public Service Commission ruling, by 55 to 80 cents a month. Business phone charges rose $1.20.

2. Gas and electricity—The PSC earlier this month permitted rate increases which will add an extra 35 cents to the average residential user's bill for electricity and 33 cents for gas. Customers using gas for home heating will pay an average annual increase of $6.80.

3. State taxes—A new 3 cents per pack state levy on cigarets went into effect July 1, and withholding of state income tax from paychecks rose 50 per cent.

4. Car insurance—The State Insurance Department last week approved a 20.3 per cent average increase in premiums paid for auto liability insurance.

5. Hospitalization insurance — The State Insurance Department also approved last week an overall increase of 13.9 per cent in annual Blue Cross rates. The group subscriber to the family plan will pay an extra $8.40 a year beginning in October.

6. Future bites—A 50 per cent increase in the state sales tax, from 2 per cent to 3 per cent on the dollar, goes into effect Jan. 1.

SRC Chairman Spikes Report

BALTIMORE (AP) — Chairman Robert O. Bonnell of the State Roads Commission said Wednesday the state has no intention of sidetracking the Chesapeake Bay Bridge and approach roads in favor of other highway projects.

Bonnell made the statement in answer to restaurant and motel owners that the state has dropped plans for dualizing Maryland 71, the Blue Star Memorial Highway on the Eastern Shore.

Bonnell said to the contrary, the dualization may be speeded up because of a Delaware decision to construct an expressway linking with Maryland 71 at the Delaware line.

As for claims of the businessmen that the Baltimore Harbor Tunnel and proposed new Northeastern Expressway paralleling U.S. 40 north of Baltimore will draw north-south traffic from the bridge route, the SRC chairman said all the evidence is not in on this.

He said the Northeastern Expressway, planned for part of the federal interstate system, will be built regardless of opposition from the business groups.

The roads chief said bad weather and generally poor business conditions are to blame for a drop in Bay Bridge traffic this year, rather than diversion of traffic to new roads or the new Baltimore Harbor Tunnel.

A-Test Ban Check Agreement Reached

GENEVA (AP) — The East-West conference of control of a nuclear test ban reached agreement Wednesday on a method to check distant nuclear blasts by collection of radioactive materials.

Details of the agreement, reached at the 18th session of the conference, were not announced.

Corriganville Firemen To Hold Parade Tonight

The annual parade and festival of the Corriganville Volunteer Fire Company will be held tonight.

The line of march will be from the western town limits of Corriganville over old Route 36 to the fire hall.

Participating in the parade that will start at 7:30 p. m. will be the drum and bugle corps of Fulton Meyers Post, American Legion and the Blue Angels of Westernport.

Fire companies entering vehicles will be Midland, Potomac 2 of Westernport, Short Gap, McCoole, Frostburg, Cresaptown, Lonaconing, Patterson Creek.

Baltimore Pike, Bowman's Addition, Bowling Green, Piedmont, LaVale, Clarysville, Wiley Ford, Keyser, Deer Park, Mt. Savage and Friendsville.

The drill team of the American Legion Post in Mt. Savage, also will participate.

After the parade, there will be a dance in the fire hall with participants in the line of march as guests.

Booths for refreshments have been set up on the fire hall grounds. There will be entertainment.

The humidity of the air in your household in winter should be about 35 per cent or a bit more, but lesser saturations are not disastrous.

Two Youths Are Sentenced To Reformatory

Two teen-age boys were sentenced yesterday to terms not to exceed two years in the Maryland Reformatory, with the recommendation that they each be examined for transfer to the Patuxent Institution as possible defective delinquents.

Sentenced on separate charges of burglary by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris were Jackie Wayne Poffenberger, 17, of Polish Mountain, and Philip L. Miller, 18, of this city, and Springfield, W. Va.

Prior to pronouncing sentence, Judge Harris said he had "never heard of more terrible records for 17-year-olds," and declared that they had been given every consideration by authorities on their previous appearances before county officials.

In presenting the prosecution, Assistant State's Attorney Donald W. Mason reviewed the extensive record of each youth in Allegany County Juvenile Court. Miller, Mason informed court, had been in trouble since 1950, while Poffenberger's court record ran back to 1953. Each had previously been confined at both the Maryland Training School for Boys and at Rosewood.

Miller and Poffenberger were tried on criminal informations, Poffenberger being accused of breaking into the residence of Merle Hinkle on Polish Mountain. It was revealed that Poffenberger had signed a statement admitting to the act during which he stole a number of weapons and ammunition valued in excess of $135, and a $20 bill.

Miller was arrested with two others in connection with a breaking and entering of a South Cumberland junk yard from which a pistol, ammunition and $270 in cash were stolen. The other two, Edward Rockwell, 17, and his brother, Albert Rockwell, 21, are out on bond for appearance before the October grand jury.

George R. Hughes Jr. was court-appointed to represent each youth yesterday. In his defense argument, Hughes pointed out that Miller was one of nine children and had apparently lacked necessary parental supervision.

Hughes also informed court that Miller wished to join the Regular Army, having a good record while serving six months of active duty as a member of Army Reserve, and would make restitution if permitted to enter the service.

Hughes expressed the opinion that Miller would make a useful citizen if permitted to enter the Army, pointing out that the youth would be under the kind of supervision and authority that he lacked in his home life.

MISS MUNSEL, BABY OK

PALMA, Majorca (UPI)—American operatic star Patrice Munsel was reported in "good condition" in a Majorca hospital Wednesday after giving birth to a premature baby weighing less than three pounds. The baby, a boy whose birth had been due for October, was also reported in good condition.

Algonquin Chapter No. 54, Degree of Pocahontas, held installation of officers at the Redmen's Hall Friday with William Buchholtz, great sachem of Maryland, as installing officer.

The chiefs inducted were Dorothy Turrano, propheteSs; Phylis McGaughy, Pocahontas; Dorothy Combs, Wenonah; Beverly Myers, keeper of the wampum; Mayme Bramble, keeper of records; Lois Wilson, collector of wampum; Lola Taylor, and June Lowery, scouts; Ruth Twigg, Evelyn Galford, Dorothy Payton and Margaret Hixenbaugh, warriors; Grace Davis and Ida McKenzie, guards; Loretta Robison and Anna Jenkins, runners; Rita Auril and Mary Grant, councilors.

Following the ceremony talks were given by Mr. Buchholtz, Albert Holler, of Westernport, past great sachem; and Robert Blair of Midland, past great sachem.

There were 14 members present from Algonquin Chapter; nine from Laetta Council of Midland, and two from Petunia Council of Westernport.

Concluding the meeting a social hour was held and refreshments were served by Mayme Bramble, Beverly Myers and Lois Wilson.

Hite Reunion Sunday

The annual Hite family reunion will be held July 27 at the Charles Hite farm near Centerville, Pa. It will begin with a basket picnic lunch at noon.

There will be games for the children and a business meeting with election of officers, during the afternoon.

Miss Dorothy Lee Campbell, Hill Top Drive, has returned from Minneapolis, Minn., where she attended the international convention of the National Secretaries Association. She is president of Algonquin Chapter.

JOAN MARLENE SNYDER

Joan Snyder To Be Bride Of John E. Wambaugh

Mr. and Mrs. H. Raymond Snyder, 444 Columbia Street, announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Miss Joan Marlene Snyder, to John Edward Wambaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wambaugh, of Mt. Savage.

Miss Snyder is a graduate of Ursuline Academy and Frostburg State Teachers College. She has taught at Virginia Avenue and John Humbird schools. This fall she will teach at District Heights Elementary School, Suitland.

Mr. Wambaugh is a graduate of Beall High School, Frostburg, and Frostburg State Teachers College. He will teach core at Suitland Junior High School. Prior to attending Frostburg State Teachers College, Mr. Wambaugh served with the Coast Guard.

The wedding will be solemnized at 10 o'clock August 2 in St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Cumberland. Rev. Arthur W. Bastress will officiate.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Terrence Burke will be the attendants. Mrs. Alpharetta King Parker is to be soloist with Sister Josephine accompanying her at the organ and playing the traditional wedding marches.

No formal invitations have been issued, but friends and relatives are invited to attend the ceremony.

A wedding breakfast for the immediate families and bridal party will be held at Moon's Dining room following the ceremony. The wedding reception will be held at the home of the bridegroom's parents at 1 o'clock.

The bride-elect was honored by Mrs. Burke at a kitchen shower and prenuptial party at the latter's home, 1016 Myrtle Street. A yellow color scheme was carried out in the decorations of flowers throughout the house and repeated in the yellow and white shower cake centering the refreshment table.

Guests were Mrs. Helen Wambaugh, Mrs. Mabel Snyder, Mrs. Margaret Bittinger, Mrs. Mary Burke, Mrs. Eileen Travis, Mrs. Sally Gaughan and Mrs. Joann Harris.

Social Chart

A festival will be held at Murley's Branch Methodist Church Saturday, beginning at 6 o'clock.

The Mizpah Class of Emmanuel Methodist Church will hold a lawn festival from 4:30 until 8 today. In case of rain it will be held in the social hall.

Oldtown Club Will Attend Fair

The Oldtown Homemakers Club decided to attend the Cumberland Fair as the August meeting. The meeting was held at the home of Miss Mabel Twigg with Mrs. Roy Twigg presiding.

Members repeated the collect in unison. The hymn of the month, "God of Our Fathers, Whose Almighty Hand," was sung with Miss Twigg at the piano. It was announced that the hymn was written by Daniel G. Roberts and is a prayer, "devotional, dignified and serviceable, and is one of the better hymns." Roll call was answered with each telling of her vacation plans.

A talk on "Quick Oven Meals" was given by Mrs. Minnie Miller, and recipes were distributed. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Mary Confer and Mrs. Eugene Carder. A report was given of the open house honoring Miss Nancy Marsteller, the new assistant agent.

Mrs. Evelyn Twigg was named delegate to attend the leaders' training meeting on "Home Carpentry Workshop" to be held September 19. The program closed with the group singing "America." Refreshments were served.

Guests included Miss Dixie Ellen Shank and Mrs. Mary McKenzie. There were 15 members present.

The next meeting will be held September 18 at the home of Mrs. Garland Myerly, Green Spring, W. Va.

Wilkinson, Taylor Team Tops Field

The teams of Norman W. Taylor - John R. Wilkinson and Mrs. Loraine Eisenberg - Mrs. James Hugglestone led the two sections of play in a fractional game of the Potomac Valley Bride Club, Tuesday night at the Woman's Civic Club house.

Runners-up to the Taylor -Wilkinson score of 85 in North-South play were Mrs. William Snyder and Hugo Keller, 82, and Miss Loretta Hannon and Roger X. Day, 75½.

Other high scores in the East-West section, besides the 80 posted by Mrs. Eisenberg and Mrs. Hugglestone, were Mrs. Robert Nichols and Thomas F. Hannon, 75, and Mrs. Roger X. Day and Mrs. John Laughlin, 67½.

Two team championships of the Western Maryland Bridge Club will be decided in a game today at 8 p.m. at the Cumberland Country Club. Play tonight will decide both the women's pair and men's pair championships.

No Nagging Backache Means a Good Night's Sleep
Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation...with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.
If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.
So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with restless, sleepless nights, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for new, large, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Local 'Blue Baby' Said Making Good Progress

Cumberland's "Blue Baby" returned home from Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore Tuesday night and is reportedly making excellent progress.

The child, Stephen Findling, four-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Findling, underwent a four-hour operation at the Baltimore hospital on July 3.

Mr. Findling said that physicians are very pleased with the child's progress and feel his recovery is a certainty.

Mr. Findling said the cooperation of newspapers played a major role in his son's progress. The local man said that after the newspapers started carrying stories on the child the doctors and nurses seemed to take special interest in his case.

The child was the subject of a number of state-wide news stories after he underwent a hectic ride by ambulance from Cumberland to Baltimore.

The child started to Baltimore in an ambulance of the Corriganville Volunteer Fire Company, but en route the right rear tire of the vehicle caught fire on Sideling Hill Mountain near Hancock.

Homer Golden, the ambulance driver, and his assistant, Mathias Madden stopped to change the tire, while the child's mother and a nurse remained in the ambulance.

A passing motorist was flagged down and asked to call Maryland State Police who reported to the scene of the damaged ambulance with oxygen.

The child was taken to Washington County Hospital in Hagerstown for treatment by two physicians and then taken to Johns Hopkins in Baltimore by the Hagerstown Community Rescue Service, a volunteer organization.

Last night the child returned to Cumberland for the first time since his hectic ride to Baltimore on June 27.

He will return to the hospital for treatment from time to time during the next several years.

Swim Classes Will Begin Today

Weather permitting, the Corriganville swimming classes, to be conducted by Miss Joan Snyder, Red Cross instructor, will begin today at Minke's Pool. In case of rain classes will be held at Central YMCA.

Fifty-three children are enrolled. The children will be picked up along the highway by a bus leaving Ford's Crossing at 9:15. Mrs. Kathryn Crabtree, Mrs. Harriet Wolfe and Mrs. Maxine Rice are in charge of arrangements.

GAS TANKS EXPLODE

MOHEDA, Sweden (UPI) — An explosion in a fuel dump killed three persons Wednesday and sent gasoline cascading into the streets and sewers. Troops and police moved 200 persons from their homes on the outskirts of town and built sandbag barricades to stem the flow of the high octane gasoline from shattered underground storage tanks.

SEE CHAPLIN'S HITLER

BERLIN (UPI) —Charlie Chaplin's famous satire on Adolf Hitler, "The Great Dictator," is slated for its German premiere at a West Berlin movie house this fall, 20 years after its production. Chaplin plays a double part in the film—that of a Jewish hairdresser and that of "Hynkel," an impersonation of Hitler.

Work Begins On New Gasline Loop In Moorefield Area

MOOREFIELD—The first steps in the construction of additional loops in the Atlantic Seaboard Company's pipeline through Hardy County started Wednesday when the Pipeline Maintenance and Construction Co. of Camp Hill, Pa., recruited the brush gang to start clearing operations.

The new loop in the pipeline will start at the Moorefield valve and will join the Lost River valve in an 18-mile loop. The loops run approximately parellel to the original pipeline and are used as much for storage as for added carrying capacity.

The Pipeline Maintenance Construction and Eqiupment Company has been unloading equipment in Moorefield for the past several days and included was one of the largest bull dozers built. The company will employ a crew of 10 to 15 immediately and will increase the crew to 30 within a week. The company expects to complete the loop within four months before starting on the next loop in Virginia, near Woodstock.

The construction will consist of clearing the right-of-way, followed by grading, digging the ditch for the pipe, stringing the pipe, welding the sections into a continuous pipe, then lowering it and filling and grading after the fill.

The company office will be located in Moorefield. The work crew came here from laying a pipeline in New York state.

Myrtle Temple Plans Annual Ham Supper

MIDLAND—Myrtle Temple No. 2, Pythian Sisters completed plans for a public ham supper to be held August 20 from 5 to 7:30 p. m. in the firemen's hall. Mrs. Naomi Kroll is in charge of tickets and has them for members who have not yet received theirs to sell. Members who were absent at the last meeting are asked to notify the chairman of their contribution of food or cash toward the supper.

The temple recently purchased a steel cabinet for their silverware, dishes and cooking utensils.

Plans are being made by Mrs. Eleanor Slinghoff, for a dinner party at Moon's Restaurant in Cumberland for September 23 or 24. Members have until September 11 to arrange for reservation and transportation.

Planning to attend the Maryland Grand Temple Pythian Sisters are Mrs. Pearl Blair, a past grand chief who will also be serving as chairman on the grand temple credential committee; Mrs. Anna Jenkins, district deputy grand chief for District No. 1 Pythian Temples in Western Maryland; Mrs. Rosemary MacMillan, representative from the local temple and Mrs. Pansy Thrasher, a past chief of the local temple.

Mrs. Blair will also be attending the Supreme Temple Session of Pythian Sisters as a Senior Supreme representative from Maryland Grand Temple in Boston, Mass., the week of August 9. Headquarters will be the Statler Hilton Hotel. She will be accompanied by Mr. Blair and Mrs. Edna Engle, Frostburg, who is a past supreme representative and will be serving on the Supreme Temple law committee.

A donation of $3 was given to the Cancer Drive. Prize of the evening was won by Mrs. Earlene Cordial.

Game Wardens Lecture FSTC Conservation Class

FROSTBURG—George Shields, Baltimore, chief game warden of Maryland and Joseph Minke, regional game warden, were speakers yesterday before the Conservation of Natural Resources class of the summer school now in session at Frostburg State Teachers College.

The two men spoke upon one of a series of studies of the class which have included lectures and field trips all over Maryland from the marshes and bays of Eastern and Southern Maryland to the mountains of the Western area.

Don Emerson, instructor of the class, pointed out that these trips and lectures are of tremendous advantage to the graduate students who are teachers of Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Minke spoke to the group on protecting, restoring and public relations in wild life conservation in Maryland. Shields explained the work of the State Game Commission, the policy-making body of the Game and Inland Fish Commission and explained the good that can be done by schools in promoting wild life conservation.

Another of the lectures given the class was by Paul W. McKee, director of the water pollution control commission with offices in Baltimore. He spoke to the class on sources and effect of water pollution state-wide and locally.

The class also recently journeyed to Choncoteaque Bay and Assateague Island on the Eastern Shore to study bay and ocean resources. They toured Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester counties to study game and forest resources. They also toured the marshes of Southern Maryland and studied the type of wildlife found there.

State resources personnel who helped conduct the weekend tour were Fred Sieling, state biologist, who is a specialist on the bay; John Warren, wild life superintendent, Region 3, who demonstrated wild life conservation practices.

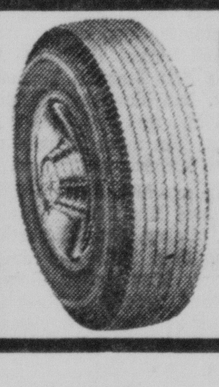

Other field trips are planned for the class before the summer session ends August 1.

Mrs. Wilson Entertains Frostburg Homemakers

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Homemakers Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Robert Wilson a recent evening.

Mrs. Perry Myers, president, opened the meeting with the reading of the 23rd Psalm and a challenge for homemakers.

Mrs. Margaret Williams, music chairman, gave the history of the hymn of the month, "God of Our Fathers." She led the group singing of the hymn and other patriotic songs.

A report was made of the progress to improve the cut along Eckhart Flat where the new part of the highway was cut through the mountain. The club is sponsoring this project and Miss Margaret Jones is chairman.

Plans were made to present a demonstration at the Cumberland Fair August 18-22. This demonstration will be given Friday, August 22, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Myers announced the club would begin classes in designing and hooking rugs and making lamp shades. These classes will begin in the fall when vacations are over.

The next event of the club will be a family picnic to be held on August 26 at Braddock Park.

Stock Market Irregular Despite Heavy Turnover

NEW YORK (UPI)—Irregularity came into the market after a six-session rise to new highs but the routine action of the general list was overshadowed by a few spectacular features and continued heavy volume.

Turnover climbed to 3,550,000 shares, 130,000 shares ahead of the Tuesday total and heaviest volume since Jan. 16.

Topping the active list were two of the day's big features—American Cyanamid and Alleghany Corp. Cyanamid held 4¼ points of a gain which had amounted to 6 points on talk of a "potent anti-cancer drug," later denied by the company which nevertheless reported progress in its cancer research program.

Alleghany common added ½ point to a new high of 6⅞ and held ¼ point as it moved along with preferred issues which soared after the company cleared arrears on the 5½ per cent issue with a declaration of nearly $150. The 5½ rose 30 to 270, prior preferred 5¼ to 108½ and 6 preferred ⅜ to 19⅝.

Addressograph - Multigraph, unopened until after noon, ran up 18½ points to 225 on its three-for-one stock split proposal. Pitney-Bowes picked up nearly 3 points as the company president gave a favorable forecast for the second quarter.

On the other hand, American Smelting fell more than 3 on its dividend cut. Gulf Oil and Crucible Steel lost over a point on lower earnings. Aluminum declined a point as the company cut its primary production by 10 per cent.

N. Y. Eggs And Butter

NEW YORK (AP)—(USDA) — Eggs steady to firm Wednesday. Receipts 14,200.

Nearby whites: Top quality (48-50 lbs) 44-48; mediums 36-37; smalls 26-27.

Butter steady, prices unchanged. Receipts 550,000.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain futures prices closed mostly firm on the Chicago Board of Trade Wednesday.

At Chicago, wheat finished up ⅛ to ⅞ cent; corn (old) off ⅛ to up ⅜ cent; (new) up ¼ to off ½ cent; oats unchanged to off ¼ cents; rye up ⅜ to off ¼ cents; soybeans up ⅞ to 1⅝ cents.

Wheat traders seemed to find little cause for further apprehension about the Middle East crisis in the immediate future and the market range hovered between unchanged to slightly higher tones. Some hedging by commission house representatives met the early upturn. Several reports of purchasing cargoes by Brazil, India and Israel were circulated in the pits.

Corn futures made slight gains throughout the day, with most options evidencing featureless trading.

Generally favorable weather was reported in store for northwestern states.

"PEACE BATON" RELAYED

TOKYO (UPI) —Japanese bicyclists are relaying a "peace baton" 850 miles from Nagasaki to Tokyo in protest against the testing and use of nuclear bombs. The baton is filled with sand from Nagasaki, which was atom-bombed three days after Hiroshima in 1945.

Feeling of pressure is most highly developed among humans at the end of organs, such as the tip of the tongue.

ALUMINUM OUTPUT DOWN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Primary aluminum production in the nation totaled 115,325 tons in June, down from 126,327 in May, and 138,007 tons in June a year ago, according to the Aluminum Association. Production for the first six months of the year dropped to 762,561 tons, from 824,128 tons during the same period last year.

DROP IN CARLOADINGS

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Pennsylvania Railroad reported Wednesday that carloadings in the week ended July 19 dropped sharply to 69,518 from the 105,260 cars in the corresponding 1957 week. For the year to date the Pennsylvania has loaded 2,129,641 as against 2,866,070 in the like 1957 period.

An Ethics Code With More Teeth

Nearly a year ago the House of Representatives passed a "code of ethics" resolution applying to all federal officials with salaries of $12,500 a year or more. The Senate has just finalized the resolution.

The code is merely "the sense of Congress," so it has no teeth. But it does outline good standards.

Key admonition is not to dispense special favors, whether for remuneration or not, and not to accept for oneself or family benefits that might be construed as influencing decisions.

Other recommendations are to uphold the laws, put loyalty to country above loyalty to friends, search for efficiency and economy, engage in no part time business with the government, and expose corruption wherever found.

Though this resolution applies to Congress as well as Executive department officials, Sen. Clifford Case of New Jersey proposes to particularize about the Congressional code.

He would make correspondence and telephone calls between members of Congress and the regulatory agencies public property. Then Case wants Congressmen and their staffs to file public expense accounts of their travels and to compel members of Congress and other high public officials to disclose their outside interests, their outside income and any gifts received. Case would create a commission to study Congressional contacts and outside interests.

If all this comes to pass, Washington sleuths can throw away their bugs, mikes and tapping devices and transfer their efforts to greener fields.

Early Casualty (Fainting Spell)

U. S., Still Losing Friends, Has Tough Time Lining Up Support

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—The American public doesn't know it, but all last weekend and early this week there has been more diplomatic arm-twisting, more table-pounding, and more due bills collected by American diplomats at the United Nations than at any other time in American history. The arm-twisting has been to drum up a two-thirds vote in the UN General Assembly to get a UN police force to take over for the Marines and thus get the United States off the hook and off the beaches in Lebanon.

The UN vote-getting has not been easy.

Here is how some of the one-time friends and allies of the United States have reacted:

IN LATIN AMERICA—Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Venezuela, Mexico have been cool. They argued privately that the good-neighbor policy has become a series of visits by American bigwigs and they are tired of smiling faces behind champagne glasses lifted to toast an empty policy. They point out that they are summoned by American-delegation office boys at the UN and told how to vote. They are telling American diplomats that they are tired of voting on instructions from the State Department.

IN EUROPE—West Germany, an anchor member of NATO, has been grumbling against American intervention in Lebanon. Norway, Denmark and Belgium are irritated. The French, though for intervention, are most unhappy over the fact that some 1,800 of their troops have been anchored off Beirut for almost a week, anxious to go ashore, but unwanted.

IN ASIA AND AFRICA—Japan, which we have depended upon as our chief Far Eastern ally, has been on the other side of the Lebanese fence. Saudi Arabia, which we have wooed and courted, sidestepped an OK for the use of the Air Force in Dhahran, and refused to send oil to Jordan, even though King Saud, less than a year ago, had stationed his troops in Jordan to rescue King Hussein. Indonesia, India, and most African-Asian states are against U. S.

Remarked one Latin-American ambassador: "How can I possibly explain to the people of my country why we should vote to take over for the U. S. Marines in a little country few of them have heard about and which they think is being occupied solely to protect American oil?"

Why We Slipped

In the last few days, some diplomats have been telling each other: "We've got to pitch in and save the United States. We can't allow her to lose face. It was bad enough to have Britain and France shown up as weak powers after Suez. We can't have the same thing happen to the United States."

All the above is not pleasant to contemplate. However, the American people would be guilty of keeping their heads in the sand if they did not wake up to the facts. And these unpleasant facts indicate how badly American prestige has slipped.

The question is—why? The answer, in brief, is that world leadership goes to:

1. The strong.
2. Him who leads.

On point 1, for the last 10 months it has been obvious that our onetime scientific and military supremacy has been going to the nation which was able to put a ton-and-a-half sputnik in the skies, and was able to test a long-range intercontinental missile as early as May 1957. In contrast, our ICBM, the Atlas, went p-f-f-ft at Cape Canaveral on July 19, the same day Khrushchev was demanding a summit meeting in brutal, bulldozing language.

On point 2, a nation which leads must not be a nation which waits. It must solve problems before they become acute. It must use imagination and inspiration. It cannot rely on bluster and talk. We have been talking big and carrying a little stick. We have been bragging about outer space, but beeping with a tiny sputnik. We have been talking about massive retaliation and agonizing reappraisal when the world knew we weren't going to attack massively with the atomic bomb, and the world has now come to realize that we have to undergo an agonizing reappraisal of our own policy of brinksmanship.

One policy we may have to reappraise is that of policing the world on the other side of the world—the equivalent of Russia landing troops near our border in Nicaragua, Guatemala, or Mexico. There was a time when we could do it without too much fear of the consequences. But Russia's intermediate range missile has changed that. She has them in quantity. We haven't.

These are some of the agonizing reappraisals we have to make. They are also some of the reasons why so much arm-twisting has been necessary at the United Nations to rally our old friends for a vote in the UN Assembly. They are not pleasant facts. But it's best for the American people to know them rather than keep our heads in the sand.

Near East Highlights

U. S. Ambassador Fletcher Warren left Turkey on July 12 for a two-month holiday. American Marines landed in Lebanon on July 15. Turkey, crucial key point in the Near East crisis, is now without an American ambassador. The new American charge d'affaires to Turkey is Carlos Hall, now en route to Istanbul and Ankara. Hall is a Latin American expert, speaks excellent Spanish, not one word of any Near East language. In fact, he knows almost nothing about the Near East. No wonder Turkish officials registered amazement . . . Chief goal of Colonel Nasser in the Near East is Kuwait, the little oil-soaked country at the head of the Gulf of Persia which gets $320,000,000 from oil annually, but has only 200,000 people. Saudi Arabia, with more than 6,000,000 people, gets $300,000,000 from oil. Nasser would prefer Kuwait to Saudi Arabia, with more oil per sonson. He wants oil to meet various Arab budget deficits. Nasser's book is like Hitler's "Mein Kampf." It outlines in detail his plans to take over the entire Near East . . . Trouble in the Near East and the danger of communism has put an end to the bickering between King Saud and his bother Price Faisal. For the time being they have made up.

Advantages Of Delay And Debate On Mid-East

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Delay and more debate — an honorable means of self-restraint that actuates big powers in a crisis when they really don't want to fight each other—could keep the unsolved Middle East problem in a state of suspense for a long time to come, except for a possible act of irresponsibility by any one of the Arab countries.

While outwardly Moscow and Washington have a certain degree of control over the next steps, the truth is that in a highly explosive situation, with rebel elements on the rampage, anything could happen to change the whole picture overnight.

The evidence is mounting that neither Washington nor Moscow wants to see the present situation aggravated. For one thing, the Soviets are eager to let the new Iraq government get stabilized, while Communist-inspired infiltration and subversion keeps on threatening the Jordan and Lebanon governments from within.

So the device of arguing inside the United Nations brings, for different reasons, satisfaction to both the East and the West for the time being.

The United States government, for instance, is well aware that it must satisfy world opinion and that it cannot let the impression be developed that the American Marines are to stay in Lebanon indefinitely. There is instead a repeated emphasis on the intention to withdraw as soon as the United Nations can take over.

But there are many things to be done before any such withdrawal of the military forces of Great Britain and the United States will be practicable. For one thing, the General Assembly of the United Nations must, by specific resolution, set up a police force with authority to prevent "indirect aggression" against both Lebanon and Jordan.

The mission of the American Marines, as stated by President Eisenhower last week, is to "assist the government of Lebanon to preserve its territorial integrity and political independence." The United Nations sent in a team of observers a few weeks back to investigate and report on the "infiltration," but it has no police powers and its members are unarmed. Soviet Russia has blocked the resolution offered by Japan to the Security Council providing for the strengthening of the U.N. "observer" force "to insure the territorial integrity and political independence" of Lebanon, but until a foolproof formula to accomplish this particular purpose has been worked out, the Marines cannot be withdrawn.

Likewise, in Jordan, until some assurance is forthcoming that the existing government of King Hussein is safe from outside interference, it is difficult to see how the British forces can be pulled out either.

So while both Britain and the United States will keep on saying they want to withdraw their troops at the earliest moment, the date when the evacuation will be practicable depends on lots of events that have not happened as yet.

The position of the Iraq government could be a pivotal factor. The new government at Baghdad claims it wants to protect foreigners and all their oil properties and wishes to honor all the commitments made by the previous government, including the Baghdad Pact. This is a natural maneuver designed to curry favor and to win diplomatic recognition for the new regime. But the United States will be wary about immediate recognition, preferring instead to wait and see just what happens innside Iraq. For the last few days the new government there has been permitting its radio to be used to broadcast Nasser's demand for an overthrow of its neighbor and supposed ally, the Jordan government.

The fact is that troops of Britain and the United States are on the soil of Lebanon and Jordan. To pull them out on the basis of paper assurances would be hazardous. Unless, therefore, some way has been found through the United Nations to maintain order by a small military force of its own, there is little likelihood of anything but stalemate for weeks to come.

During the debate that will ensue, there will be continued talk of a "summit" conference on the Middle East. Unless Moscow, however, shows some signs of agreeing on basic questions, the conference is not likely to materialize. The same reluctance to prepare in advance for a "summit" meeting has prevented any such conference on broader questions, and it could as readily block any other kind of conference outside the United Nations which seeks to deal with the Middle East.

There are all sorts of diplomatic missions, both at the United Nations and in the various capitals of the world, and an agreement would not be difficult if the Moscow government were sincere in its professed desire to arrange a settlement. It is the spread of propaganda that the Soviet government is really aiming for, and that is the chief reason why it has been agitating for a "summit" conference.

The encouraging thing about the general situation is that all sides are willing to talk. The Soviets may consider that they have a hold now on Iraq, but they are probably worried because their stooge, Nasser, no longer has a free hand to do as he pleases in the Middle East. For, staring him in the face today is a military force of sizable proportions consisting of units from the armies, navies and air forces of both Great Britain and the United States. The burden of proof rests this time not on the West, but on the East, which includes Nasser's regime. There must be evidence of an intention really to keep the peace before military forces will be withdrawn by Great Britain and the United States.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Continuous War

When troops move into position, it used to be a prelude to war. But not these days when war is continuous and troop movements are only a manifestation of irritability and resistance.

That war has been continuous and unceasing since 1939 is an historic fact which the politicians who manipulate nations do not like to admit. Yet there is no other word than war that rightly describes the condition that exists. In fact, one might be justified in saying that war has been continuous since the break-up of the Austro-Hungarian Empire in the war of 1914-18 left a vacuum in the middle of Europe which Russia sought to fill by new technical methods of warfare, namely propaganda and revolution.

The fall of the British Empire was the principal catastrophe of the early stages of this continuous war which has already lasted more than 40 years. In world affairs, the British Empire represented political and economic system—the word, stability, is too indefinite and will be contested by purists. The stabilized British pound sustained a wholesome currency throughout the world. The doctrine of freedom of the seas, maintained by the British Navy, which kept the lanes of trade and commerce open, was first damaged by the Kaiser's U-boats and then annihilated by the invention and development of the airplane.

The emergence of the United States as the world leader during the Presidency of Franklin D. Roosevelt was not an unmixed blessing. The United States was utterly inexperienced in assuming international responsibilities, and as Woodrow Wilson discovered, public sentiment among the American people could not be counted on to support a government policy. In Britain, it was different. A policy might be defeated to shreds in Parliament, but once adopted the people accepted it. In the United States, the people are not bound to and do not have the habit of following a leader. The President is always just another politician, and the public goes its own way.

So whereas Franklin D. Roosevelt was extraordinarily popular, he knew that he could not carry his people into the European war but could in a war against Japan. It might be an interesting speculation as to whether this country would have entered World War II had there been no Pearl Harbor.

In a continuous war, the costs are constant and the losses are constant. In 1958, it had been anticipated that the American people would be somewhat relieved of their enormous tax burden, but the continuous war, the enormous cost of war preparation, the shift from conventional techniques of war to novel techniques of war, are proving so costly that taxes may actually be increased or the standards of life could be reduced in quality.

There can be no stability either in currency or in commercial relations because the shifts in relationships among nations, the need for finding subsidies for countries which want them, the need to support weak but geographically well-placed nations, the habit of submitting to blackmail by so-called neutrals cost money which comes out of taxes, or by debasing currency, or by dumping goods. For instance, our present relations with Canada are based on the assumption that Canada is essential to our defense. The Government of the United States is therefore inclined to give Canada whatever that country wants. What is the alternative? There seems to be none.

But there will be many changes in this continuous war—changes in relationships, changes in personnel. The foundation of American strength is its own enormous economy. In addition, American strength will be prime as long as it remains part of the Western community of nations, which must always include Great Britain, France and Germany and the American continents. The United States possesses no gift for learning how to deal with Asiatic countries. Americans, of a very mixed origin, produce a soft, sentimental race which seems never to learn that weak and backward countries survive at the expense of strong states and develop a variety of techniques to achieve that end. The American attitudes toward Nehru and Nasser are examples of such softness.

In a continuous war of long duration, friends become foes, foes become friends and the strength of states waxes and wanes. That we see it all happen as on a radar screen does not change anything.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

My research department bugged the archives ten years ago and discovered the invention of fissionized warfare in 1815.

It was at Waterloo that Wellington yelled into the speaking tubes, "Up men and at 'em."

That was the launching of at 'emized warfare. It was the end of an illustrious Frenchman. Now an equally famous Frenchman wants to get at 'em.

De Gaulle has stuck in a bid for a portable H-bomb in case of a tie. He has no enemies but doesn't trust his friends.

What's Charley getting nervoused up about? He's winning all the parades.

Kuwait, Bahrein, Qatar

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

The best measure of the Western defeat in the Middle East is the character of the remedies that were discussed by Secretary of State Dulles and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

In brief, the American government has now three-quarters bought an idea that has always been popular in the British government — the idea of using the unpeopled-old-rich area at the head of the Persian Gulf as a kind of desperate hole-card in the desperate Middle Eastern game. Superficially, the hole-card looks attractive.

Even with no oil flowing from either Iraq or Iran, the entire British and Western European oil requirements can quite easily be met by the wells in the three little gulf-coast sheikhdoms, Kuwait, Bahrein and Qatar. All three are British protectorates. Kuwait in turn adjoins Saudi Arabia's eastern province of Al-Hasa, while the island of Bahrein lies just off shore. And the vast majority of the oil wells of Saudi Arabia is concentrated in this one province, which also contains the Dahran headquarters and refinery of the Arabian-American Oil Co.

In other words, the Western oil-jugular cannot be cut, so long as the oil flow from this single area at the head of the Persian Gulf is not interrupted. Britain furthermore maintains a considerable garrison on Bahrein, and Bahrein is also the base for British naval units operating in Persian Gulf waters. The United States also has some military forces in the area, at the Dahran air base close to ABAMCO's headquarters and refinery.

To complete the temptation, Bahrein is the only part of the area that is inconveniently overpopulated. Al-Hasa province is all but empty, except for the workers ABAMCO has brought in from all over the Arab world. The native population of Kuwait is only 35,000, although more than 150,000 non-Kuwaitis also live and work there now. Qatar was a mere village sheikdom before the big oil strike. Even Bahrein has only a million people. And although Bahrein is riddled with pro-Nasser sentiment, the place has been calm since the Sheikh of Bahrein locked up the committee of Nasser sympathizers who used to lead the agitation there.

The British idea is simply to hang on to the Gulf coast sheikhdoms by military force if need be. There would be no great difficulty in doing this, if the most important oil-producer happened to be Bahrein, where British troops are already stationed. But the Bahrein wells are of minor importance, and Kuwait and Qatar are the real prizes, with Kuwait by far the biggest prize of the two.

What Selwyn Lloyd asked for in Washington, therefore, was the promise of American support for military occupation of Kuwait and Qatar, if Nasserite agitation in the sheikhdoms made this step necessary. According to reliable sources, John Foster Dulles at least three-quarters committed himself to give the British moral support, providing the legitimate governments of the sheikhdoms ask the British to aid them with troops.

This in turn gives special interest to the sudden appearance in Damascus of the present ruler of Kuwait, Sheikh Abdullah As-Sabah. The Sheikh of Kuwait was apparently vacationing in the Syrian capital when Gamal Abdel Nasser flew in from Moscow. Hence the recent meeting between the Sheikh and Nasser may perhaps have been accidental. But taken in conjunction with the Sheikh of Kuwait's earlier visit to Cairo, it was "the sort of accident that makes you think," as one American policy-maker remarked.

At present, however, most of the real power in Kuwait is in the hands of Sheikh Abdullah Mubarrak. This uncle of Sheikh Abdullah As-Sabah is now Kuwait's acting ruler. It is thought that if the ruler himself strays towards a deal with Nasser, the acting ruler can be relied on to do whatever may be needful.

Besides the danger in Kuwait, the danger in Saudi Arabia cannot be overlooked. King Saud's virtual abdication in favor of Crown Prince Faisal has by no means stabilized the situation there. A Nasserite conspiracy to seize control of the Arabian government is just as likely, in fact, as a Nasserite grab for Kuwait. If this danger materializes, the British will surely press the American government to try to detach and hold Al-Hasa province. And this project looks fairly feasible, if it wins the support of the virtually independent Governor of Al-Hasa, Sheikh Saud din Jaloui.

There is, indeed, only one difficulty about the Persian Gulf hole-card. In the present state of the Middle East, the mere dispatch of British troops to Kuwait would have the approximate effect of a big bomb in a crowded movie house.

Children Must Learn Not To Tease The Pup

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A busy physician rarely misses a week without receiving a call about a child who was bitten by a pet. The youngster usually is at fault but there always is a question about rabies. Each case represents an individual problem that warrants careful investigation.

The wound should be cleaned immediately and carefully with soap or a detergent and water. Deep wounds need cauterization. Animal bites seldom are sutured except on the face to prevent ugly scarring. Tetanus antitoxin may be needed.

The decision to use rabies vaccine depends upon the health and the availability of the animal; it seldom is necessary when the animal is known to have been immunized against rabies or if a dog or puppy has been confined to the house and not exposed to rabies.

Dr. H. A. Carithers of Jacksonville, Fla., treated 157 children bitten by pets over a period of 20 months. The most common offenders were dogs, followed by cats, rabbits, squirrels and other mammals.

Dr. Carithers found that the child usually was responsible and, to avoid these mishaps, has devised the following rules:

1. Children should not own pets until they can show discretion in their handling and care. This ability is rare under age 4 and unusual under age 6.
2. Older animals make better pets for young children.
3. All youngsters should be taught that animals have rights, including freedom from pain and excessive teasing.
4. Teach boys and girls to avoid all strange animals, especially those that are sick or injured.
5. Children should be instructed not to try quelling a fight between animals, even though their own pet is involved. They should call for an adult, use a garden hose on the animals, or resort to coaxing.
6. Young people should be taught not to tresspass and not to ride bicycles where dogs are known to chase vehicles.
7. Every child ought to make friends with the pets in its neighborhood, under the supervision of an adult.

BLOOD AND URINE TESTS

B. P. writes: Are tests available to determine what vitamins and minerals are lacking in the system?

REPLY

Chemical tests of the blood and urine are available for most minerals and all vitamins except C and K but they are expensive and not practical. It is cheaper to eat a well balanced diet or to take a supplement containing all the known vitamins and minerals.

READING SUPINELY

M. W. writes: Does reading flat on the back damage the eyes?

REPLY

No, provided illumination is adequate and the eyes are not strained.

KIDNEY DILEMMA

A. J. writes: Is it possible to have one kidney removed and still have a floating kidney?

REPLY

Yes, if the floating kidney was not the one removed.

RELAXATION IN ULCER

W. S. writes: How will a tranquilizer help a duodenal ulcer?

REPLY

By encouraging relaxation of the victim. This in turn quiets the stomach and reduces the activity of the acid producing glands.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

In Washington there dwells an ambitious worker who has neither a first name nor a middle name: just Jones — plus initials R. B. The government took a dim view of this unusual nomenclature and entered his name officially as R (only) B (only) Jones. Sure enough, when RB's first pay check came rolling in, it was made out to Ronly Bonly Jones!

A Detroit youngster wasn't having any of his father's pontificating. "I'm tired of hearing about how a fool and his money are soon parted," he protested. "What I'd like to know is how they ever got together in the first place."

Hep youngster was out of school with a virus infection for a few days, accosted his teacher when he returned with a blithe, "So tell me, Miss Casey, what's new in ancient history?"

Frostburg Little Leaguers Host Williamsport Today

Teams Play In District Semi-Final

Game Set For 6 P.M., Home Club Hopes To Avenge 1957 Defeat

Williamsport and Frostburg, a pair of two-game winners, will battle it out today at 6 p. m., at Frostburg in a semi-final round contest in the Little League district elimination tournament.

The Washington countians earned the right to play Frostburg's Little League All-Stars by defeating Halfway, 6-0, on a no-hitter by Don Hott, and the Valley Little League All-Stars of Hagerstown, 14-1, on a one-hitter by Leo Payne.

Diehl, Richards Score

Frostburg, skippered by William Biggs and William Groves, made its debut in the tournament with an 8-1 victory over the Oakland All-Stars at Oakland Monday in a game highlighted by a one-hitter by Billy Diehl. On Tuesday, the Mountain City tossers, with Donnie Richards, Tom Wilson and Wayne Harper playing the leading roles, eliminated Hancock's All-Stars at Hancock by the score of 4-2. Richards turned in a five-hit performance, Wilson rapped a pair of doubles, scored one run and batted in two and second baseman Harper excelled in the field with a sparkling one-handed stab of a line drive that nipped a Hancock rally in the bud.

The Frostburg team is well stocked with pitchers for the tourney and has Robert Layman (3-1) of the Lions, Wayne Harper (3-0) of the Lions and John Denning (3-2) of Rotary available for duty in today's game. During the league campaign Donnie Richards was 2-1 for the Elks and Billy Diehl 3-1 for the Orioles.

Wilson Pounds Ball

Tommy Wilson has been the hitting star in the two games played to date. Against Oakland he smashed a double and two singles and in the Hancock game he banged a pair of two-baggers.

The winner of today's game at Little League Field in Frostburg will advance to the district finals. The district champion will compete in the state championship games July 29, 30 and August 7 at a site to be announced.

Same Teams Met In 1957

The Washington countians of the Conocoheague League won their first two games and in the third contest at Williamsport, Frostburg was eliminated in a 6-5 battle after it had disposed of Oakland, 4-3, and Berkeley-Hancock, 6-0 on a no-hitter by Jimmy Diehl who also blasted a two-run homer. Williamsport trimmed Halfway, 18-2, and the Hagerstown Federals, 11-0.

In the district finals, the Frederick Nationals stopped Williamsport, 5-4, and went on to win state honors by whipping Easton at Frederick, 15-3.

Frostburg will be aiming to gain revenge for last year's setback when it tackles Williamsport today.

Alston Still Backs Dodgers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "Don't count out the Los Angeles Dodgers. We'll have a lot to say about who is going to win the National League pennant."

A brash statement? Maybe so. But it comes right from manager Walt Alston whose club is 9 games off the pace and locked in a grip with the Pittsburgh Pirates for seventh place.

The amiable skipper of the Dodgers said any club could win the pennant.

"The team is in good spirits and I still think we will have a lot to say about who is going to win the pennant. The current eastern swing could tell the story."

Power Not Enough, Giants Seeking Better Pitching

Rigney Feels 92 Wins Takes Flag

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Power alone won't win pennants as the Giants of 1947 can testify. They set a home run record with 221 and finished fourth.

The San Francisco Giants of 1958, the most surprising club in the majors, have power with a crop of come-through rookies and established veterans. How about pitching and defense?

Long before the 1958 Giants opened their spring training, manager Bill Rigney observed, "pitching won't be one of my worries this year."

It turned out to be his biggest worry as his club battles to remain at or near first place.

"Al Worthington and Stu Miller came on when others fell back," Rigney declares."

Pitchers Disappointing

Disappointments have been Ruben Gomez and Ramon Monzant. Monzant in recent days shows improvement, with Gomez yet to find his early season stuff.

Rigney still seeks another relief hurler or two. Veteran Marv Grissom has a 6-3 mark. Newcomer Don Johnson from Toronto has seen only limited action. Former Minnesota football All-America Paul Giel goes in spot starts and relief.

Daryl Spencer at short and Danny O'Connell at second base have proved a reliable double play combination, and the club slipped defensively when Danny was sidelined in June with a rib injury.

While the Giants stand first in batting with .271, they are sixth in the National League in fielding with .976.

Willie Mays in center field provides stellar defensive strength. Leon Wagner and Willie Kirkland, the rookies who flank him, prove adequate defensively and give left handed hitting power. In late innings Rigney has substituted Felipe Alou, another rookie and a better fielder, as defensive insurance.

Catches On Quickly

Orlando Cepeda, the 200-pound rookie at first base, catches on quickly to the fielding tricks, and Jimmy Davenport at third rates with Henry Thompson in the days when he played standout ball for the Giants.

Rigney, who feels it will take 92 games to win the pennant, believes his club can do it. He sums up:

"It would be tough to pick out one man or one single thing. There's a combination. A tremendous spirit on the club, power and determination—a club that isn't beaten until the game's through.

"There's also help from a stronger bench. Last Saturday Jabbo (Ray Jablonski) got us even with just one smash with that pinch home run with two on."

Orioles Rally To Nip Chisox

Ginsberg Hitting Star In 6-4 Win

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Baltimore Orioles exploded for four runs in the ninth inning Wednesday to shatter Early Wynn's bid for his 10th victory and defeat the Chicago White Sox, 6-4.

Wynn, yielding only two runs on four hits through eight innings, was nicked for all the ninth-inning runs when the Orioles belted him for four hits.

Bob Nieman opened the rally with a double and scored on Joe Ginsberg's single. Ginsberg took second on Brooks Robinson's sacrifice. After Wynn struck out Billy Gardner for the second out, he lost control completely to walk Gus Triandos on four straight pitches.

Jack Harshman lined a pinch single to score pinch-runner Jim Busby and Bob Boyd completed the rally with a two-run double off the center field wall.

Chicago scored in the second on singles by Sherm Lollar, Al Smith, and Luis Aparicio, and collected three unearned runs in the fourth inning after errors by Boyd and Gardner. Ginsberg was the Orioles' batting hero, hitting his first home run of the season with Gene Woodling on base in the fourth inning, and batting in a run with a single in the ninth-inning outburst.

French Lick Opens Today

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (UPI)—A field of 23 of the country's leading women professionals are entered for Thursday's start of the First Annual $7,500 French Lick Open Golf Tournament, with such name stars as Beverly Hanson, Fay Crocker, and Louise Suggs among the top contenders.

Host pro Roy Seneff said only cooperation from the weatherman was needed to make this first venture here a success.

The girls are scheduled to play four 18-hole rounds through Sunday. Should rain wash out one or more rounds, tourney officials indicated the play-for-pay troupe might be forced to double up for 36 holes.

Finsterwald, Bolt, Snead To Vie In Eastern

Slammer Finally Decides To Play

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Dow Finsterwald and Tommy Bolt are set to open bids for the Eastern Open golf title Thursday but tournament officials are smiling mainly because Sammy Snead decided to compete.

Finsterwald is the newly-crowned P.G.A. champion. Bolt, the U.S. Open champion who was placed on indefinite probation last week by the P.G.A. is the defending Eastern champion.

But it's Snead, the favorite of golf galleries everywhere, who brings in the money. The last time the Eastern tournament was a financial success was in 1952 when Sam entered and won with a 72-hole total of 275 that still stands as the tournament record.

Originally, Snead didn't plan to play here this year. But Sam stopped in Baltimore to visit a friend, Charles Bassler, after the P.G.A. tournament ended last week end and was asked to enter the $20,000 Eastern. He said he would because "Gus Hook wants me to." Snead said Hook had done a lot of golf in the Middle Atlantic area, Sam 's home P.G.A. section, and he wanted to repay him. Hooks is superintendent of parks in Baltimore.

Besides Finsterwald, Bolt and Snead, other stars in the field include Cary Middlecoff, Jackie Burke, Jay Hebert, Frank Stranahan, Dick Mayer, Bill Casper, Fred Hawkins, Porky Oliver, Julius Boros, Ken Venturi, and the young South African, Gary Player.

The tournament will be held on the 6,895-yard course of the Mt. Pleasant Golf Club. The fairways are wide and the greens are open in front and very large, offering large targets. Tournament officials believe most final scores for the 72 holes will range in the high 270's and low 280's.

Runaway Race Hurts Jr. Loop

Attendance Down Comiskey States

CHICAGO (AP) — American League attendance has slumped for lack of a pennant race, White Sox vice president Chuck Comiskey said Wednesday, but he disagreed that "break up the Yankees" might be the cure.

Comiskey said "why break up something that's good?"

"It's up to the other clubs to build up so that they're equally good," continued the Sox executive, who said league attendance is down by some 600,000 or approximately 12 per cent.

"That's stricly because there is no pennant race," Comiskey said. "The Yankees were six games out in front before they even came west to meet the clubs in this sector. That was ruinous."

The first pure food law in the United States was passed by the state of Michigan.

Dark Vintage Takes Lassie

Filly Wins Sixth Straight Victory

CHICAGO (UPI)—Dark Vintage, a fast-stepping brown filly, rolled to her sixth straight win without defeat by two lengths Wednesday in the $101,150 Arlington Lassie to win $63,850.

It was the fourth stake win for the horse, owned by Edward E. Voynow and Stanley Hubbard. She was clocked at 1:10 4-5, only 2-5 of a second slower than the best time ever posted in 29 previous runnings of the race.

Dark Vintage, who earlier won the Miss Chicago, the Joliet and the Pollyanna, was backed down to the even money choice in the field of 15 by the crowd of 19,555.

Starting from post position No. 4, she was never worse than second in the six-furlong chase. She trailed Mrs. Harry Trotsek's Debbie Lorraine on the far turn at the top of the stretch, but never by more than two lengths. Jockey Johnny Heckman moved Dark Vintage into contention at the eighth pole and she drew out going down the stretch.

Little Kid, owned by Kennedy-Veale Stables, finished second for $20,000 place money, Debbie Lorraine held on to show for $10,000 and W. N. Modglin's Khalita, previously unbeaten in four starts with two stake victories, grabbed fourth for $5,000.

Practice Scheduled

The Toy Shop team of the City High School Baseball League will drill Friday at 10 a. m. at Fort Hill field.

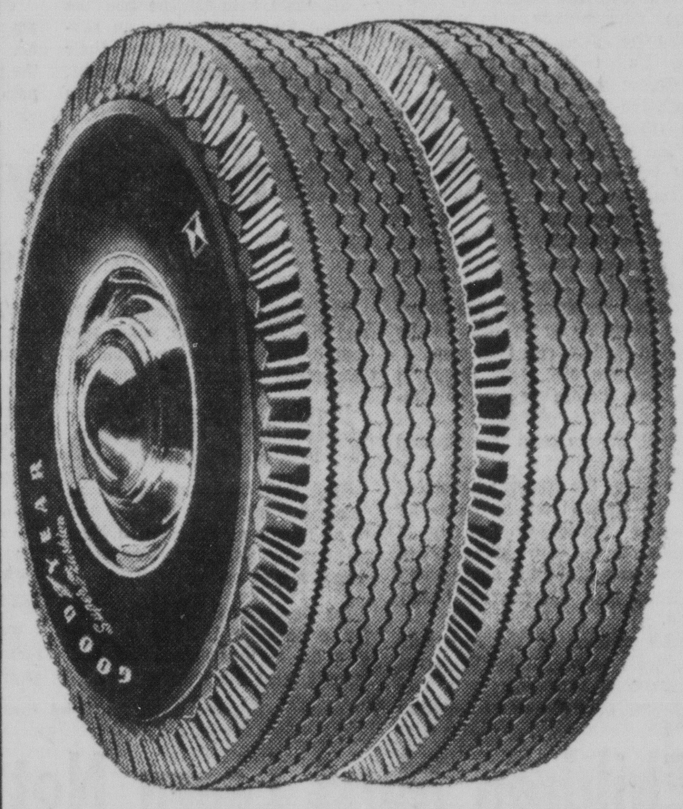

All-Stars To Drill

The Dan Division all-stars will hold a practice session today at 9:30 a.m. at East Side Field, the manager of the Little Leaguers announced last night.

Brown Retains Lightweight Title, Decisions Lane

Late Rally Gets Nod Of Three Judges

Sellout Crowd Of 11,000 Sees Champ Win Close Battle

By JACK CUDDY
United Press International

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Joe Brown's rally in the second half of the fight Wednesday night enabled him to keep his world light weight championship on a close but unanimous 15-round decision over southpaw Kenny Lane before a sellout of more than 11,000 fans in the Coliseum.

It was a terrific fight in which former farmboy Lane of Muskegon, Mich., almost turned into an upset against veteran Brown of New Orleans.

Second Title Fight

Each weighed 134¼ pounds for Houston's second title fight within three months. And their battle had the huge crowd cheering in almost every round. And the promoters were cheering also, for the gate was estimated at more than $68,740 for a new Texas record.

When the decision was announced, the crowd greeted it with mingled boos and cheers. The sentiment sounded almost evenly divided.

Referee Ernie Taylor, 143-142; Judge Jimmy Webb, 145-141, and Judge Bill Cornelius, 144-143. The United Press International had the bout a draw, with each getting 143 points.

See-Saw Bout

It was a see-saw fight in which Lane, 26, forced the action in most of the rounds with his right-handed attack and solid lefts to the body and head. However, Brown landed apparently the harder punches and had the muscular brown-haired Kenny bleeding from the mouth, left brow and nose. Kenny also had a "scrape" on his forehead.

There were no knockdowns; but Lane was set back onto his heels in the eighth, ninth, 10th, 12th and 13th by Brown's countering right uppercuts and left hooks. Thirty-two-year old Joe knocked out Kenny's mouthpiece in the 10th and 15th rounds. In the 15th he had Kenny practically out on his feet at the final bell.

The three ring officials agreed in giving Brown unanimously seven rounds and Lane six.

Prep For Bout

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Pete Rademacher and Zora Folley put the finishing touches Wednesday on preparations for their nationally-televised 10-round bout Friday night, with Folley still rated a 2½-1 favorite.

Phils Jolt Giants Twice In Sawyer's Pilot Debut

Win Suspended Tilt By 3-2; Cop 2nd, 2-0

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies welcomed Eddie Sawyer back as manager Wednesday night by knocking the San Francisco Giants out of first place in the hot National League pennant race with a 2-0 regulation game victory after taking a 3-2 decision in a completion of a suspended game of June 22.

The twin triumph gave Sawyer an auspicious debut in his return to baseball after a six-year absence. Sawyer, who led the Phillies to the National League pennant in 1950, took over as the Phils manager when Mayo Smith was fired suddenly by the front office.

Rookie right - hander Ray Semproch picked up his twelfth victory against six defeats as he hurled five-hit ball in the regulation game. The Phils' victim was southpaw Mike McCormick who suffered his second loss against seven wins and his first defeat in his last four outings.

Philadelphia gave Semproch the one run he needed in the first inning on a walk to Chico Fernandez and successive singles by Harry Anderson and Ed Bouchee. The other Philadelphia run came on Bob Bowman's fifth homer of the season to lead off the fourth inning.

The suspended game was decided by Harry Anderson's three-run sixth inning homer off reliever Johnny Antonelli. The June 22nd game had been suspended due to Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew law with the Giants leading 1-0 and the Phils having runners at first and third and two out. Ruben Gomez had been pitching at that time but manager Bill Rigney replaced him with Antonelli, a southpaw, against the left-hand swinging Anderson.

Anderson ruined that strategy when he homered on a one-two count over the right field wall, insuring Robin Roberts his ninth victory against nine defeats.

Nixon's Bat Paces Tribe To 5-3 Win

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Russ Nixon drove in three runs Wednesday night to pace the Cleveland Indians to a 5-3 victory over the Washington Senators.

Nixon hit his fourth home run in the second innings off Pete Ramos, and then doubled two runs home in the seventh to break a 3-3 tie.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant scored his seventh victory with a route job in which he gave up only five hits. Ramos lost his ninth game and also suffered a badly bruised leg. Vic Power hit him with a line drive in the third inning.

New York Finally Whips Frank Lary

DETROIT (UPI) — The New York Yankees, sparked by Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra and a pair of six-run innings, Wednesday night hammered the Detroit Tigers for the second straight night, 16-4, and beat Frank Lary for the first time this year.

The Yankees, still stinging from Detroit's seven victories in a row over them earlier this year, routed Lary, who had beaten them six straight times, with four runs and then went on to rake three other pitchers for a dozen runs.

Art Ditmar, who pitched three-hit ball until the ninth, took the victory although he needed help from Johnny Kucks after Detroit rapped out four straight hits to open the inning.

Bob Friend Wins His 12th Victory

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates shoved the Los Angeles Dodgers into sole possession of the National League cellar Wednesday night, sweeping a twi-night double-header, 11-3 and 6-3.

The teams were tied for eighth place going into Wednesday night's meeting.

Bob Friend won his 12th victory of the season in the nightcap but failed to last the route. Roy Face replaced him with two outs and two men on base in the ninth and got pinch-hitter John Roseboro on a pop-up to preserve the victory.

Between the first and the ninth innings, Friend had allowed only one hit—a scratch single by Gino Cimoli. He struck out 10 batters, a high mark for the season by a Pirate hurler.

The Pirates splurged on extra-base power to win the opener, collecting 14 hits from four Dodger pitchers. Ron Kline, picked up his 10th victory, allowing only four hits.

Anne Quast Wins, Two Curtis Cuppers Lose Golf Matches

CHICAGO (UPI) — Two Curtis Cup players were eliminated from the 58th Women's Western Amateur Golf Tourney Wednesday, but medalist Anne Quast and two other team members advanced to the quarter-finals.

Miss Quast, a 20-year-old Stanford University history student, stroked even par for 14 holes to oust Sandra Clifford, Mexico City, 5 and 4. She had four one-putt greens to give her 19 for 47 holes played in the tournament.

Anne Richardson, another Curtis Cup player from Columbus, Ohio, was four over par, but played consistently to defeat Berridge Long, Huntington, W. Va. Barbara McIntire, Jupiter, Fla., eliminated another Curtis Cup member, Barbara Romack, Sacramento, Calif., 7 and 5.

The second Curtis Cup player to lose was Polly Riley, a veteran competitor from Fort Worth, Tex. She lost to Mrs. Paul Dye Jr., the Indiana state champion from Indianapolis, who was six over par with two double bogies, both attained when she hit into the water. But Miss Riley had trouble with nearly every shot to lose 3 and 2.

Philadelphia Signs Catcher Gus Niarhos

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday signed catcher Gus Niarhos and sent righthand pitcher John Gray to Miami.

Niarhos has been working this season as a pitching instructor with the Phils' Johnson City, Tenn., team and saw previous major league service with the New York Yankees.

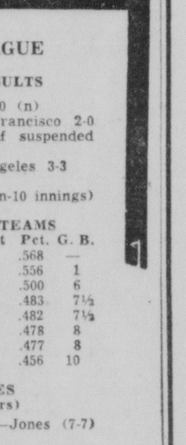

Gray had a 0-0 record this year, working a total of 17 innings in relief, allowing 12 hits and nine runs.

Milwaukee Moves Into First Place

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Young Joey Jay pitched a sparkling two-hit, 6-0 shutout over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night to put the Milwaukee Braves in firm possession of first place over the San Francisco Giants, who dropped two games to Philadelphia.

The only two base runners for the Cardinals were Gene Freese who got an infield hit in the fifth and Don Blasingame who topped a safety into the infield in the ninth.

The strapping right handed Jay who signed for $40,000 with the Braves in 1953, walked none and struck out seven. He faced only 29 batters, or just two over the minimum for a nine-inning game.

The win was also Jay's fifth straight and his sixth complete contest in nine starts. As a starting pitcher he has allowed just 10 earned runs in 72 innings for an ERA of 1.25.

Eddie Mathews' 20th home run of the season, with Mel Roach and Wes Covington on base in the second inning, was the big blow of the game. One other run was scored in the inning before Mathews parked the ball in the right field bleachers. It came on Johnny Logan's lead - off double, Roach's infield hit and Covington's scratch single off starter Larry Jackson's leg.

North End Plans Field Day Today

North End Playground will hold a Field Day today, with children participating in various track and field events, according to Maureen Cavanaugh, play leader.

The events will include a discus throw, broad jump and 50 and 100 yard dashes. The program will run from 1 to 5 p. m., Miss Cavanaugh said, and there will be separate divisions for senior, junior and pee-wee entrants.

A doll show will be presented today at 7:30 p.m. at the playground, the play leader said.

The expression to "read the riot act" dates back to old laws which provide that a soldier read a notice to warn a disorderly crowd of people to disperse before arresting any of them.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 heart	Pass
3 clubs	Pass	3 diamonds	Pass
3 spades	Pass	5 clubs	Pass
6 clubs	Pass	Pass	Pass

A complete description of the layout of a hand is quite as important as conveying information as to its high card contents. Today's hand from a recent tournament was subjected to a wide variety of treatments in the bidding and the play.

The opening bid and response were uniform. Some Souths chose to rebid two no trump. This call is somewhat unorthodox, for the South hand contains only 17 high card points, two short of the requirements, but there is compensation in the form of the near solid six card suit plus the promoted value of the queen in partner's suit. The no trump rebid almost uniformly resulted in a three no trump contract.

Those Souths who chose a jump in clubs glided into the suit slam. North properly showed his second suit and South cue bid in spades as a temporizing measure. North now showed the fine fit by jumping to five clubs. South needed no further coaxing and proceeded to six.

The low score on the hand was made by the pairs that reached the three no trump contract. The five of spades was opened and some declarers held themselves to five when they needlessly ducked two rounds of the suit.

One no trumper took the first spade trick, since everything hinged on the finesse in clubs. When this worked, he took all the tricks because as he ran down the clubs and hearts West was unable to hold on to both the diamonds and the spades.

Actually it would have been safe for him to unguard his diamonds except for the fact that East had carelessly let go a small diamond, placing the burden of stopping that suit entirely on West's shoulders.

The slam in clubs is a safer contract than three no trump, because even had the finesse lost six clubs could be made, but an unfavorable location of the club king might ruin a three no trump contract.

Four Hurt In Turnpike Crash

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — A Connecticut woman and her three children were seriously injured Wednesday afternoon when their car swerved off the Pennsylvania Turnpike near here.

Mrs. Patricia Smolen, 35, of 150 North Ave., Westport, Conn.; her daughter, Debbie, 9, and her sons, Robert, 2, and Jay, 11, were admitted to Harrisburg Hospital where they were reported in "unsatisfactory" condition.

Police said Mrs. Smolen was traveling west on the Turnpike when her car swerved across the medial strip, broke through a guard rail and plunged down an embankment, rolling over several times.

FISHY REPORT

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI)—The state Fish Commission Wednesday denied reports that thousands of dead fish were floating down the Susquehanna River towards here. The commission said a "large amount" of fish were destroyed in Clearfield and Cambria counties by heavy storms last week, but the dead fish would either be grounded or deteriorate before reaching Harrisburg.

Even though curly hair doesn't need a permanent, it, too, must be disciplined for beauty's sake.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

A Hair Line

Not every woman can afford to be a slave to her hairdresser. Even if you could, there are certain fundamental things — all strictly personal — that should be known about your crowning glory. That is, if you want to choose the right hairdo for yourself.

For instance, you must first know whether your hair is easy or hard to manage: whether it is fine, coarse or medium in texture: and whether it is curly, straight or slightly wavy.

In the summertime, particularly, you want a hair style that doesn't require elaborate fussing. You usually want it short — and this season when short hair's in fashion, you'll really go in for a bout with the scissors. A permanent will make it easier to wave and get your hair in a certain shape. It also gives body to the hair, if needed.

But, you may have the kind of hair that does better without a permanent. Usually very soft, fine hair doesn't take a permanent too well. If you have this kind, you may eliminate any difficulties and look better if its natural tendencies are observed and encouraged.

Also, very thin hair looks better with a diagonal part. It should run from a point on your forehead line to an opposite point on the crown of your head. What this accomplishes is to provide an even distribution of the hair, making it appear to be heavier.

If you have a widow's peak, you're one of the fortunate ones; for this is one of the most coveted natural hair flatterers. When you're young, you can wear it straight back without a part. But later, part to one side of the peak . . . . never in the direct center.

Naturally, as the use of mails increased, it was only a matter of time that the picture postals or picture post cards came into being. While records are sketchy, it appears that the Austrian government issued its Korrespondenzkarten in about 1869, and within a few years the German, Swiss, Belgian, British and Dutch post offices followed suit.

Privately produced picture cards seem to have made their appearance in 1870, and there is some debate as to whether the industry's birthplace was France or Germany. However, the scenes and comic designs attracted attention and laughs around the world.

The Post Office has long since outlawed some which became too fancy—decorated with gilt, bits of metal or sequins. Mail carriers and clerks complained that these gadgets scratched and cut their hands. It was also found that they frequently clogged or damaged cancelling machines. So they were ruled out.

Picture post cards, once a popular penny item, were later raised to three for a nickel and two for a nickel. However, a few penny cards can sometimes be found, but the better grade of post cards showing historic scenes, vacation spots, and the like now sell for as much as 10 cents each, and there always bargain-priced cards for much less. Each of these requires a two-cent stamp and after August 1, the price will be a three-cent stamp.

Under the new regulations, the "cute" miniature cards, if less than two and three - quarters inches by four inches, will not be handled at all after July 1, 1959. Cards over the accepted regulation size are now subject to letter postage rates.

Stamp increases August 1, in addition to the rise of the two-cent postal to three cents, also provide for a five-cent air mail card, instead of the present four-cent air mail missive. First class letters of course jump from three cents to four cents, and air mail letters go from six to seven cents. Other rates also have been adjusted upward.

Two Neighboring Mayors Have Traffic Problems

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI)—The mayors of Wheeling and adjacent Bethlehem are involved in separate traffic squabbles, each on a different end of his respective controversy.

Wheeling Mayor Jack R. Adams fined earlier this week after being stopped and charged with going 50 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone, claimed police cruisers had been "tailing" him and his family for two weeks.

Adams viewed the alleged action as a result of published reports that he was against a pay raise for policemen. He said this was not true — that he favored a 3 per cent across-the-board pay raise for all city employes, including policemen.

Mayor William N. Dixon of Bethlehem was accused, on the other hand, of ordering the village's four-man part-time police force to pick up residents for minor traffic infractions. And Wednesday he refused to allow a Wheeling News-Register reporter to see the records of arrests.

"The records do not concern the newspaper in any way, shape or form," Dixon said. The village's four councilmen said they didn't mind the reporter looking over the records and said they were a matter of public record. But Dixon said the records were "not for publicity."

A number of Bethlehem citizens said they planned to protest at an Aug. 4 council meeting against what they said was the practice of the village marshals of "tailing" cars and hiding in wait for cars to go a mile or two over the speed limit. The marshals get $25 a month plus $3 for each arrest.

B&O Crew Restores 13 Derailed Cars

Thirteen cars of a B&O freight train that were derailed in the westbound yards here yesterday morning were restored yesterday at 4 p. m.

The cars were a part of a slow-moving eastbound train, and all 13 remained upright after leaving the track. No one was injured in the incident.

A B&O spokesman said last night that it is believed that a broken rail caused the derailment.

tossing it into the South Branch near a camp owned by one boy's parents.

Police recovered $31 from one boy and $50 from the other. The boys hid the money in their bedrooms. The rest of the $190 was spent on beer, gasoline and other items, police said.

During questioning, one boy ran out of the Police Station, but was later apprehended by police.

The same two boys, Detective Morrissey said, admitted being with two others and taking beer on the Centre Street Playground earlier this week. They informed police the beer had been purchased in nearby West Virginia with a phony draft card.

Detective Morrissey last night questioned another youth in connection with the draft card that the youths used to purchase the beer.

Equity Suits Filed

Four equity suits have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Theodore R. Robertson vs. Dorothy M. Robertson, LeEsta M. Martin vs. Delbert W. Martin, Johanna Claudette Cartwright vs. James Robert Cartwright, and Hazel E. Day vs. Thomas L. Day.

Metallic potassium will burst into flame when water is poured on it.

Pa. Republicans Ask Help With Platform

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — A committee of high-ranking state Republicans Wednesday called on interested organizations and individuals to help nail the planks in the GOP platform for the fall elections.

House Majority Leader Albert W. Johnson, platform committee chairman, requested interested parties to submit ideas in writing before Aug. 6.

Johnson said the 21 - member committee will meet Aug. 7 to set up dates for public hearings to be held in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg.

The committee, at its initial organization meeting here Wednesday, pin-pointed 21 fields which will be subject to a thorough going over before platform recommendations are submitted to the state committee Sept. 6. They included agriculture, education, appropriations, revenue, youth programs, mental health and welfare, women in business and government, veterans affairs, civil rights, industrial development, and public health and sanitation, including atomic energy and radiation studies.

The committee also named Mrs. Sara Leffler, of Lebanon, as permanent secretary, and Gloria Sabatini, Philadelphia, assistant secretary.

Among those attending the Wednesday meeting were Johnson, House Speaker W. Stuart Helm, state Chairman George I. Bloom, Mrs. Esther Detweiler, committee vice chairman, Judge Robert E. Woodside, candidate for the state Supreme Court, and Andrew J. Gleason, Johnstown, candidate for lieutenant governor.

The three other candidates for state office, ex officio committee members, were unable to attend.

Drivers Face Charges After Accidents

Drivers of two automobiles have been charged with motor violations in two separate accidents in which three persons were injured, according to Maryland State Police.

In the first accident, which occurred late Tuesday night in Mt. Savage, Mrs. Virginia L. Gordon, 49, Mt. Savage, has been charged by Trooper Willis E. Foreman with failing to grant the right of way.

Also charged in an accident yesterday morning on Town Creek Road near Flintstone is Thomas E. Tribut, 25, of RFD 1, Flintstone. He has been charged with failing to drive to the right of center by Trooper J. W. McFarland.

Mrs. Gordon will be given a hearing July 29 in Frostburg, and the hearing for Tribut has been set for July 28 in Flintstone.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital following the mishap yesterday morning were Mrs. Vivian Irene Slider, 19, of RD 1, Oldtown Road, and Tribut.

Tribut suffered abrasions of his face and possible internal injuries. He is reported as "fair."

The accident was also investigated by Cpl. Harry S. Bosley.

Police said Ronald R. Slider, husband of the injured woman, was driving north on the road, while Tribut was driving south. The cars met almost headon on a slight curve. Police said the mishap was apparently caused by Tribut's failure to keep to the right of the center line.

Trooper Foreman said Miss Betty Gordon, 18, of Mt. Savage, was treated at Miners Hospital, Frostburg.

County Obtains

Allegany County has ranked sixth consistently in the state after Baltimore City and the four counties adjacent to Baltimore and Washington. In the past fiscal year, according to Mr. Tawes' figures, the leaders were Baltimore City, $1,027,533.33; Baltimore County $244,499.13; Prince George's County, $169,120.79; Anne Arundel County, $123,014.29; Montgomery County, $112,225.12; Allegany County, $61,022.28.

Garrett County does not share in this tax because sale of distilled spirits is not licensed there.

Seek Beer License

Robert R. and Ida May Norris have filed an application with the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners for a Class D beer license in premises on U.S. Route 40 near Piney Grove.

JP REAPPOINTED

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Gov. George M. Leader reappointed Wednesday Raleigh C. Snell, Edinboro, as justice of the peace for that Erie County borough, to serve until January, 1960.

County Obtains $140,085 From Tax On Liquor

Yield Covers 27-Month Total

Allegany County has received a total of $140,085.72 from the excise tax on distilled spirits in the 27 months since it was first collected in the spring of 1956.

Mrs. Johanna N. Sills, the county auditor, receives a check each quarter from State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes. It represents 50 cents on each gallon of distilled spirits delivered to authorized retail outlets in this county. The latest check was for $13,442.14, representing collections for 26,884.29 gallons delivered to retailers in this county in the quarter between April 1 and June 30. The check arrived late last week.

When Comptroller Tawes distributed the latest checks to Baltimore City and 22 of the 23 Maryland counties, he reported Allegany County's total for the fiscal year at $61,022.28. That included the final check of $13,442.14.

Checks Come Later

However, Mr. Tawes' figures and those prepared by the county auditor for the fiscal year do not coincide for one very obvious reason. The state comptroller reports on the taxes collected during a fiscal year. However, his check for each quarter does not go out to the county until the next month after the quarter ends.

Mrs. Sills must close her books for the fiscal year as of June 30 and the check for collections between April 1 and June 30 does not reach her until well into the following month.

The 122,044.58 gallons delivered to Allegany County retailers in the fiscal year which ended June 30 represented an average of 1.36 gallons a year for each of Allegany County's 89,556 persons counted in the 1950 census.

The $61,022.28 reported by Mr. Tawes for Allegany County for the fiscal year ended June 30 was 4.65 per cent less than the $63,999.32 reported in the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1957.

During the 1956-57 fiscal year which ended June 30, 1957, Mrs. Sills received a total of $65,627.42 from the state comptroller. During the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1958, she received and deposited $61,016.16 from this tax source. Now she has the first $13,442.14 for the current fiscal year.

More In Holiday Season

Highest quarterly returns each year have been in the quarter ending December 31, reflecting increased purchases for the Christmas season. Biggest check of all was $22,440.43 for the quarter which ended December 31, 1956. During the same quarter last year the total was $20,375.31. In each case, the figure represented about one-third of the annual yield.

Following are the quarterly collections, beginning with the quarter which ended June 30, 1956.

$15,064.12, June 30, 1956; $15,045.92, September 30, 1956; $22,440.43, December 31, 1956; $13,076.95, March 31, 1957; $13,436.02, June 30, 1957; $14,267.91, September 30, 1957; $20,375.31, December 31, 1957; $12,936.92, March 31, 1958; $13,442.14, June 30, 1958.

Since the tax has been distributed beginning in June 1956,

Pets Win Honors

New Price Of Postal Cards Surpasses Cost Of Living

In these days of mounting living costs, few such widely used items as the postal card have tripled in price in a four-year period.

The United States government entered the field of postal cards in 1873 and sold them for a penny each. A special card stock was eventually designed for the purpose. The cards met with instant acceptance and sold for one cent each, including the affixed stamp, until 1952 when the price was raised to two cents.

On August 1, postal cards will be raised to three cents, but the Post Office Department anticipates their popularity will continue.

The nation's enormous post card business was not started by the government, but originated in 1861 when John P. Charlton of Philadelphia obtained a copyright for the first practical open-face mailing form or card.

Shortly after, the inventor passed the copyright on to another Philadelphian, who set up a business of printing and selling "Lipman's Postal Cards."

The Post Office Department reports that of the 60 billion pieces of written mail now handled annually, nearly three and a third billion are cards. Their contribution to the government's income is around $66 million annually, and with the increase in price is expected to produce close to another $33 million annually.

Printed stamps on the first official postal cards showed the profile of the Goddess of Liberty. Later editions bore the portraits of Jefferson, Grant, McKinley, Washington, Lincoln and Franklin.

But regardless of the stamp portrait, the idea of a quick, one-piece mailing device proved a good one. In fact, a double postal card which provides for a return answer has evolved and has also been highly popular.

The government has continued to call its cards "postal cards," while other manufacturers more

Family Service Representative To Speak Here

Mrs. Marion Sisson, field representative of the Family Service Association of America from New York City, will speak at a meeting of the family counciling committee of the Allegany County Youth Commission at 8 p. m. today in the office of the County Board of Education.

Magistrate Morris Baron, who is chairman of the committee, said that all committee members, members of the Youth Commission and other interested persons are invited to attend tonight's meeting.

Mrs. Elinor Westerfeld, director of the County Welfare Department, who contacted Mrs. Sisson, said that the visitor will discuss how the Youth Commission might conduct a survey to determine whether the family counseling services offered by local clergymen and school officials and existing agencies are sufficient to meet the needs of the community and the area.

In some large cities, family counseling is provided by skilled persons who operate much as do psychologists or psychiatrists. In general they charge for their services on the basis of the patient's ability to pay. In some cases there is no charge whatsoever.

The Family Service Association of America is composed of representatives of family agencies whose members are properly qualified to perform their required services.

The Youth Commission was organized in the spring to help coordinate activities designed to reduce delinquency in the area.

Boy Is Fined After Crash Injures Mother

A young driver of a car in which his mother was injured was fined $15.50 yesterday in Romney, W. Va., as a result of a motor violation which caused an accident on Cooper Mountain in Hampshire County.

Richard Robinson, 16, of Glen Burnie, pleaded guilty of driving on the wrong side of the road and was fined by A. L. Russell, justice of the peace.

The auto operated by the Robinson youth skidded across the highway and struck an automobile operated by Robert See, 37, of Fairfax, Va.

The youth's mother, Mrs. Mary Robinson, 51, suffered head injuries when she was thrown through the windshield, but refused medical treatment, according to Sgt. W. Frank Bowley.

A similar accident occurred earlier in the day at the same location atop the mountain.

The first accident happened about 2:30 p. m. when a late model automobile driven by Glenn Wesley Rhodes of West Des Moines, Iowa, skidded on the wet highway and crashed head-on into the left front of a tractor trailer that was ascending the steep grade on U.S. Route 50.

Rhodes and his wife were taken to Winchester (Va.) Memorial Hospital where he was released after treatment of minor injuries.

Mrs. Rhodes was admitted to the hospital with fractures of both lower legs and severe lacerations of the head and face suffered when she was thrown through the windshield of the car by the impact of the collision.

Trooper C. E. Dorsey, who investigated, said the driver of the tractor rig was Robert Lee Marshall, 27, of Hagerstown.

Charges are still pending, Trooper Dorsey said.

Boy Scouts Advanced

Fourteen Boy Scouts of Troop 80 sponsored by the Bowling Green Volunteer Fire Company received advancements last night at a court of honor.

Harley Winer was advanced to first class and was presented with five merit badges.

Advanced to second class were David Arrington, William Aumiller, Lester Boden, James Castle, David Grove, Richard Jackle, Delton Johnson, Robert Mongold, James Shrout, Bradley Stone and Michael Wagoner.

Also advanced were Clinton Campbell and Edward Morrison to tenderfoot.

The awards were presented by Preston Luck, neighborhood commissioner for the troop, and a short talk on advancement was made by John C. Means, district advancement committeeman.

July Tax Collections Exceed $3,000 Daily

Tax Collector J. Wallace Close at the Court House reported yesterday that daily collections of county and state real estate taxes have been averaging between $2,000 and $4,000 during the month of July.

Collections during July are entitled to a four per cent discount on county taxes. In August, the discount drops to three per cent and in September a one-half per cent penalty will be charged.

Local Guard Unit To Train Next Month

Captain Eugene M. Light, commanding officer of Company C First Battalion, 115th Infantry Regiment, Maryland National Guard, said the unit will begin its annual field training on August 16.

Captain Light said the local unit will undergo its training this year at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation in Pennsylvania, for a two-week period.

The local guard unit will join other units from other armories in Maryland and West Virginia, at the campsite near Harrisburg.

The local group will physically join the regiment for the first time since last year's field training was devoted to the advanced phases of infantry training.

The training next month will be the culmination of the Army teamwork lessons learned during the weekly sessions during the year.

The activities this year will include "pentomic" tactics under the new Army policy of the infantry's duties in combat in the event of an attack under nuclear conditions.

It also will consist of range firing of larger weapons and the training will be concluded with a division on August 23.

Last year the local unit scored well on its training and is looking forward to bringing its members up to a high degree of efficiency during the field training.

Captain Light expressed his appreciation to the employers of the National Guardsmen for their cooperation by making the men available for training.

$75,000 Sought In Four Suits In Court Here

Thanksgiving Day Crash Involved

Four damage suits seeking a total of $75,000 from a Delaware woman and the operators of a local petroleum company were filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The four actions resulted from a three-way collision on U. S. Route 40 near the eastern end of Allegany County involving two cars and a tractor-trailer truck last Thanksgiving Day.

A $40,000 suit was filed for Mrs. Mary Metz, 464 Columbia Street, against Mrs. Annie Mason, 104 East Monroe Avenue, Wilmington, Del., and James H. Garland, trading as Garland Petroleum Company, 12 West Roberts Street.

Mrs. Metz stated in her declaration, filed by Attorney Edward J. Ryan, that she sustained a fracture of the left femur, fracture of the right hip, bruises, shock and other injuries. She was a passenger in an automobile being driven east on U. S. Route 40 by her niece, Miss Viola McCoy, 4606 Main Avenue, Baltimore. Mrs. Metz said her niece was driving properly behind an eastbound Garland truck, operated by Franklin Westfall.

She asserted that suddenly the tractor-trailer owned by Garland crossed to the left of the center line of the road in the path of a west-bound car driven by the Delaware woman. The woman lost control of her car and struck the McCoy vehicle which she said was being driven properly.

A $20,000 suit was filed by Mr. Ryan in behalf of Mrs. Emma M. McCoy, 4606 Main Avenue, Baltimore, sister of Mrs. Metz and mother of the driver. A passenger in the same car, she contended that she was badly cut about the head and body. She stated that a tube had to be inserted in her throat to keep her from suffocation, and nerves in her face and head were damaged.

Miss McCoy, the driver, sued for $10,000 for the loss of her car wrecked in the crash and for a fractured wrist.

The fourth suit filed by Mr. Ryan seeks $5,000 damages for Joseph Metz, husband of Mrs. Mary Metz, for loss of his wife's services and for hospital, medical, surgical and nursing expenditures as a result of her injuries.

Thunderstorms Again Forecast By Weatherman

Rain Continues To Dampen Area

Thundershowers and more thundershowers have been in the forefront of the weatherman's predictions all week, and late last night he was still calling the same turn.

For today, weather is expected to be warmer, more humid, with more thundershowers in the area during the afternoon. Some clearing is anticipated for Friday and probably a warm, dry weekend is in sight.

Thus far July has been unseasonably wet, with almost an inch of rainfall reported here in the past 24 hours alone. Thus far for the month, the area has had close to six inches of rainfall with 1.65 inches recorded on a single day, July 16.

Despite the heavy rains, however, streams have not approached anything near a flood stage, are swollen but not as much as might be expected. The rains have come intermittently enough that water has run off steadily and safely.

Local gardeners of both the vegetable and flower variety are complaining this week because everything, including the weeds, is growing too fast. One man, who had anticipated a record tomato and pepper crop said, "So far, the plants have just kept growing and growing, but we need some sun and dry weather to produce the ripened vegetables."

Nobody Swims

Outdoor activity has been greatly curtailed, putting a crimp in the vacation business. Swimming pools have been almost neglected, except for a few brave souls who will swim come rain or shine, warm or cool. In the Deep Creek Lake area almost two inches of rain has fallen in the past seven days, and cottagers and summer residents have spent more time than they like indoors.

In West Virginia, which was hit with up to two inches of rainfall in a 24-hour period, some streams were high, debris was washed onto a number of roads and highways, but last night, the State Road Commission reported all highways open and clear and no streams in danger of flooding.

Some low-lying farmlands were inundated when small streams and creeks went out of their banks, but damage was reported slight.

W. Va. Rivers Overflow

The rain was extremely heavy Wednesday in a 75-mile radius of Charleston. Charleston itself recorded 2.07 inches from midnight to 4 p. m. and 2.5 inches was measured at Sutton. This latter caused some sharp rises on the Elk River, resulting in low - lying areas getting some overflow.

The Ohio, Monongahela, Kanawha, Little Kanawha, Greenbrier, Gauley and New Rivers rose, with some lowland flooding along the latter four.

The rain left W. Va. 2 slick near Pt. Pleasant and a skidding car crashed into another, killing two persons and injuring three. An electrical storm hit near West Union and two young boys were injured when a bolt of lightning struck a tree under which they were playing.

The same electrical storm also hit in Barbour County where a lightning bolt struck a barn, killing one cow and setting fire to the structure. Five other animals were not injured. Earl Forman of Nestorville, operator of the farm, estimated his loss at $5,000.

Money Is Stolen From Restaurant

City Police are investigating the theft of $21 from the Little Ritz Restaurant on Virginia Avenue early yesterday morning.

Parade Will Feature Ridgeley Homecoming

The committee planning the annual homecoming celebration in Ridgeley, announced last night that the week-long activities will begin Monday

The activities during the homecoming event will be featured by a parade that will be held next Friday at 7 p. m.

The committee also listed the prizes that will be offered to units participating in the march. They include $50 for the best band; $50 best drum corps; $25 best appearing unit; $25 unit with most in line; $25 unit traveling greatest distance; and $25 for the best float.

The committee has received word from 15 units that plan to take part next Friday. Other units in the area, interested in marching, may contact the American Legion home in Ridgeley.

Judges for the parade will be William W. Jackson, 10th district commander of the American Legion in Charles Town, W. Va.; Lincoln Cox, department first vice commander of the American Legion in Kirby, W. Va.; Glenn Boyd, Luke, a member of Voiture 164, 40&8 Society in Cumberland, and Fred Steward, chef de gare of Voiture 1212, 40&8 Society, Keyser; and David Shears, mayor of Romney, W. Va.

The homecoming activities on Thursday will be featured by "The Barbarians" from Keyser. This group of 24 members is made up of boys and girls from Keyser High School.

They have played several times at Baker VA Center in Martinsburg, W. Va., and have received an award from the hospital for entertaining the personel hospitalized there.

Vets Bonus Study Group To Be Named

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Aides to Gov. McKeldin said Wednesday they are preparing a list of six appointments to a special commission created by the 1958 Legislature to study the possibility for payment of a veterans bonus.

The appointments will be announced shortly after his return from a vacation abroad about Aug. 15.

The 1958 law provides the commission be made up of six delegates appointed by the Speaker of the House, three senators appointed by the Senate president and six at-large members named by the governor. At least three at-large members are to represent veterans organizations.

The commission is to name its own chairman and to study all legislation affecting veterans with emphasis on the bonus study.

House Speaker John C. Luber (D-Balto 5th) has appointed Dels. Thomas Hedrick (D-Balto 2nd), Lloyd Simpkins (D-Somerset), Charles Culver (D-Balto County), Noel Cook (R-Allegany), Lewis Tawney (D-Anne Arundel) and William Hodges (D-Balto 6th).

Senate President Louis L. Goldstein (D-Calvert) has appointed Sens. Ralph Mason (D-Worcester) Frank Shipley (D-Howard) and Thomas Mudd (D-Charles).

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sawyer, Jennings, La., announce the birth of a son there on July 19. The mother is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Boone, 15 Pennsylvania Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett B. Smith, Williamson, W. Va., announce the birth of a daughter there yesterday. The mother is the former Miss Peggy Jo Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis, LaVale.

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Allen W. Liller, Wiley Ford, a son last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenville Rader, LaVale, a daughter last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Bosley, 236 West Oldtown Road, a son last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin W. O'Brien, RFD 1, Ridgeley, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney G. Whetzel, Romney, W. Va., a son yesterday.

RAYMOND M. KELLEY

Cumberland Man Appointed To Luke Post

Raymond M. Kelley, 636 Bedford Street, has joined the maintenance department at the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Mr. Kelley is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, attended Potomac State College, Keyser, W. Va., for two years and then transferred to West Virginia University where he received a bachelor of science degree in business administration in 1952. He served in the Navy from 1943 to 1948.

He joined the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company at Akron, Ohio, in 1952 as a supervisor in sales accounting, but the following year returned to Cumberland to join the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company for time study work. In 1956 Mr. Kelley joined the Westinghouse Electric Corporation in Baltimore as a time and motion analyst. The following year he went to work at the Celanese Corporation of America plant at Amcelle as an engineering supervisor.

Mr. Kelley is married to the former Miss Elizabeth Louise Coyle of Cumberland. They have two sons, Randall James, 4, and John Douglas, 6 weeks.

Boys Admit Theft From Woman's Home

City Police have questioned two local boys who they said have admitted taking $190 in cash from the home of Mrs. Charles A. Ways, Bedford Street, last Saturday night.

The two 16-year-olds were picked up Tuesday night and were questioned by Detective Kenneth W. Morrissey.

Mrs. Ways told police that $450 in cash and a $600 watch had been stolen from her home during the past several weeks.

Detective Morrissey questioned the youths for several hours Tuesday night, but they would not admit to the crime until the father of one of the boys came to headquarters.

Police said the boys had a key made in a downtown store last week and entered Mrs. Ways' apartment around 9:30 p. m. Saturday.

They admitted ransacking the apartment until they found the cash in a money sack under Mrs. Ways' bed. They took all the bills, but left an amount of change.

The boys informed Detective Morrissey that after obtaining the money they went to a local theatre where they split the "take." They later got rid of the key by

City Officials Discuss Plans For Thruway

Ramp To Armory Site Proposed

City officials came away from a three-hour conference in Baltimore yesterday afternoon without any absolute decisions but with a better understanding concerning the west approach of the Cumberland Thruway.

Meeting in the office of Norman M. Pritchett, chief engineer of the State Roads Commission, were Major General Milton A. Reckord, adjutant general of the Maryland Military Department; Mayor J. Edwin Keech, City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum, City Attorney William R. Carscaden and City Plumber Simon Carroll.

One of the chief topics of discussion was the possibility of a ramp leading from the Thruway to the new National Guard Armory which is to be built in Ridgedale Addition. In that particular area, city officials were told, there is a six per cent grade on the Thruway and a 60-foot cut through the hillside.

Mr. Pritchett assured the conferees that the matter will be studied and if the cost is not prohibitive a ramp will be planned to the new armory. Plans for the Thruway do call for an interchange with U. S. Route 220, the McMullen Highway. Vehicles could leave the Thruway at that interchange, travel to the Dingle Circle and thence on Gephart Drive to the armory site.

Primary interest at yesterday's conference, which ended about 5 p. m., was learning full details of the sewer and water lines the city will have to relocate in connection with the western end of the Thruway. Plans for water and sewage lines to the new armory, another city obligation, also were discussed.

In planning a ramp from the Thruway, SRC officials are not limited to a six per cent grade, it was learned yesterday. It was reported that the steepest grade on any city street at the present time is 17 per cent and the ramp would have far less grade than that.

Many False Insurance Law Claims Filed

A check by the Motor Vehicle Department of Maryland has indicated that a number of registrants erroneously answered the insurance question on the application form for their 1958 licenses.

James B. Monroe, commissioner of Motor Vehicles, said this was noted in a comparison of accident reports submitted to the financial responsiblity division with the registration records of the Motor Vehicle Department.

The Unsatisfied Claim and Judgment Fund Law provides, in substance, that every person who registered an uninsured motor vehicle in this state for the yearly period commencing April 1, 1958 or May 1, 1958, must pay an additional fee of $8.

Persons who registered an insured vehicle during this same period were required to pay only a $1 fee.

The law further provides that any person who operates an uninsured motor vehicle without having paid the prescribed fee is subject to a fine of $100 to $500, or imprisonment for not more than 30 days, or both.

The commissioner of motor vehicles announced his intention of referring to Dan M. Vann, manager of the Unsatisfied Claim and Judgment Fund Board, files on which it appeared that improper fees had been paid at the time of registration.

Mr. Vann will study the files submitted to him and refer them to the prosecuting authorities where such procedure is indicated.

Agent Seeks To Trap Moving Gypsy Moth

A representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture was in Allegany County this week setting traps for gypsy moth and urging enforcement of the quarantine to keep travelers from bringing plants into Maryland from the New England and Middle Atlantic states.

The gypsy moth has been active in New England for years and at times defoliates entire hillsides. Phillip Schroder, the agricultural department agent, who is working an area from Ohio to New Jersey, reported that some gypsy moths have been found in Pennsylvania this year and the aim is to keep them from spreading farther south.

Traps set out to catch the male gypsy moth are baited with the abdomen of the female moth.

Work Progresses On Allegany Gymnasium

Workmen of the George F. Hazelwood Company are making daily progress in the construction of a large new gymnasium for Allegany High School plus additional classrooms for music and art. Contract for the new addition to the school was awarded in February by the Allegany County Board of Education on a low bid of $871,870. The addition is not expected to be finished until late winter or early spring. The gym will have a seating capacity of more than 2,100, the largest in the county.

Khrushchev Accepts Offer

Washington Takes Cautious Attitude, Delays Reaction

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower held back any comment Wednesday night on Premier Khrushchev's conditions for summit talks at the United Nations. Many diplomatic officials were convinced such talks would take place.

A number, however, voiced strong doubts that any such parley as Khrushchev proposed—to begin Monday at U.N. headquarters in New York City—could be arranged as quickly as that.

Eisenhower deliberately delayed any reaction overnight until Secretary of State Dulles and diplomatic officials put Khrushchev's words under the microscope — figuratively reading the fine print for gimmicks.

The White House press secretary, James C. Hagerty, gave no indication when the U.S. reply to Khrushchev might be expected. He said he would be in his office early Thursday (7:30 a.m., EDT), but gave no hint that a reply might be made public at that time.

More Jockeying Expected

Some diplomatic sources forecast a period of further diplomatic jockeying while both sides agreed on who would attend the proposed talks and what would be discussed. They said it was highly doubtful these arrangements could be nailed down sufficiently in five days, as Khrushchev proposed.

To coordinate U.S. - British-French strategy, the State Department began immediate consultations with London and Paris over the Western Big Three answer.

Several members of Congress said they expect a summit meeting to discuss Mideast problems within the framework of the U.N. Security Council, as Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan suggested Tuesday night. Eisenhower did not say in so many words he would attend, but officials said he could hardly stay away if other heads of government showed up.

Dulles Plans Europe Trip

In his prompt reply, as broadcast by the Moscow radio, Khrushchev agreed on condition that the Western powers agree to include Prime Minister Nehru of neutralist India and Arab leaders in the summit session.

A clue that no meeting would be held Monday came when Dulles went ahead with plans to leave Friday for a trip to Europe. Dulles is due to return to this country Tuesday morning.

Eisenhower would be unlikely to attend any summit parley without Dulles on hand from the start to guide him in any face to face debates with Khrushchev over the Middle East crisis.

'Wickie' The Mouse Rockets Into Space

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Thor-Able rocket, carrying a mouse named "Wickie," blazed aloft Wednesday, aimed for a 6,000-mile journey through space and a return to earth.

Fifteen minutes after the blastoff, the Air Force said the rocket performed satisfactorily and "an effort will be made to recover the nose cone and its passenger."

An announcement on the recovery operation was expected within a few hours.

It was the third test of a Thor-Able rocket. Its mission, as before, was to drop its elaborately equipped nose cone on a target area where it—and its little passenger—could be recovered.

The Air Force wants to know primarily how the nose cone, designed to haul hydrogen warheads over intercontinental ranges, will withstand the fantastic friction heat it will encounter in its plunge from space back into the earth's dense atmosphere.

Of secondary importance in military thinking—but vitally interesting to space scientists—is the fate of Wickie, which rode in an airtight compartment within the nose cone.

The first Thor-Able test failed April 23 when telemetric contact with the rocket was lost shortly after takeoff.

The second, fired July 9, became the first U.S. ballistic missile to travel the 6,000-mile intercontinental distance. But attempts to recover its nose cone and a little mouse named Laska were abandoned after 2½ days.

The huge missile thundered up into a pale blue sky at 5:13 p.m. It roared straight upward for 70 seconds, then angled off on a horizontal course to the southeast, trailing a ball of orange fire behind it.

A fleet of Air Force ships and planes rendezvoused near Ascension Island, 1,000 miles off the African coast, awaiting the comet-like dive of the mushroom-shaped nose cone from space.

Cost Of Living Edges Upward

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government reported Wednesday that the cost of living almost came to a standstill in June but edged up just enough to set a new all-time high.

"We came about as close to having zero change as we ever do and still have a change," said Ewan M. Clague, commissioner of labor statistics.

The consumer price index nudged upward less than one-tenth of 1 per cent to reach 123.7 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This was 2.9 per cent higher than June, 1957, and was the 20th rise in the last 22 months.

Clague said the June yardstick showed a "very great balance and stability" at work in the economy. But he warned that the upward spiral could resume if consumers start panic buying because of the Middle East crisis.

The June increase was almost the same size as May's, when the index also rose one-tenth of 1 per cent. The May increase was due largely to higher prices for gasoline and used cars.

Although Labor Department experts called the June rise "tiny" and "fractional," it will mean slight pay increases for about 575,000 workers whose wages are tied to the index by escalator clauses.

South, Far West Bid Strongly For Miss U.S.A. Title

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—The South and the Far West put in a strong bid for Miss U.S.A. honors Wednesday night in final judging to choose the most beautiful representative for the nation in the Miss Universe pageant.

Of the 15 finalists, seven were from below the Mason-Dixon line and five were from the Far West. With two others from the Midwest, the only Eastern lovely with a chance was Virginia Fox, 21, of New York.

Contest officials, including Director Oscoar Meinhardt, have taken every precaution to avoid a repetition of last year's uproar created by the discovery that Leona Gage, chosen as Miss U.S.A., was married and the mother of two children.

Judges expected to know the names of the five top candidates by 10:30 p.m., P.D.T. However, the identity of Miss U.S.A. won't be disclosed until approximately midnight, P.D.T.

"It's Love," Says Girl, 18, Who'll Wed Widower, 73

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) — "It's love," 18-year-old Ida Jane Caudill said Wednesday in announcing she will marry a 73-year-old great grandfather next Monday.

"I never gave his age a second thought," the bride-to-be said. "I accepted as soon as he proposed."

Miss Caudill will marry Steve Horsley, a friend of her family for 35 years.

Horsley, a widower, has outlived two previous wives. The first, whom he married when he was 16, died after about 22 years and the second after 35.

He has two children, seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

"A body needs someone to come home to at night, somebody to talk to and to go to church with," said Steve. "This girl is a nice girl but she'll never fill Bessie's place.

He hastened to add, however, that not only does he love Ida Jane, but he knows she is a hard worker and a good cook.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bischer. They approve of the wedding.

Mr. Horsley said the romance began a few months ago, although he has known Ida Jane his second wife, Bessie, used to babysit for the Bischers about 15 years ago.

He said Bessie told him before she died that he should get married again.

Horsley has a farm at Pond Run near Portsmouth, Ky. and plans to take his new wife there "because she likes to work in the fields."

He married his first two wives 35 years apart in the same courthouse in Greenup, Ky.

Ike Praises Compromise Defense Bill

Senate And House Conferees Agree On Reorganization

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Senate-House conference committee agreed with almost unprecedented swiftness Wednesday on a compromise bill to reorganize the Defense Department to meet the need of the nuclear-space age.

President Eisenhower immediately gave the far-reaching measure his blessing. He said "except in relatively minor respects the bill adequately meets every recommendation I submitted to the Congress on this subject."

His statement, issued by the White House, spelled finis to one of the stormiest battles of the session between Congress and the administration. Final congressional approval of the compromise was considered a mere formality in view of Eisenhower's stand.

More Efficiency Seen

The President also praised House and Senate military experts who hammered out the final version and said he was convinced the legislation would result "in a more efficient and more economical national defense."

The measure, which won the unanimous approval of the conference committee, gives the President most of the power he urgently sought to streamline the nation's military machine to meet swiftly-changing methods of warfare.

However, the conference kept without change a provision which Eisenhower has denounced as "legalized insubordination." It would allow a service secretary or member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to bypass his superiors and take dissenting views straight to Congress.

25 Minutes To Agree

While retaining this feature, the conference group modified two other House-approved provisions which the President had assailed. They also included Senate-approved language assuring continuation of the Marine Corps, naval aviation and the National Guard.

It took the conferees only 25 minutes to agree on the compromise legislation supporting the President's concept of unified combat commands directed through a streamlined chain of authority.

U.N. Prepared To Hold Parley

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The United Nations stood ready Wednesday night to hold a summit meeting in the Security Council next Monday, as suggested by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

A source close to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold said the UN was prepared to hold the meeting any time the governments involved agreed to it.

The source denied reports by diplomats in Washington that Hammarskjold had said the meeting could not be held before Aug. 4 and that he was worried about security arrangements to safeguard the chiefs of government who would attend it.

Soviet Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev showed little concern about security arrangements. He told newsmen at a cocktail party that he would house Khrushchev, if and when he comes, at Russia's UN delegation headquarters on Park Avenue.

Sobolev delivered Khrushchev's reply to Hammarskjold Wednesday night. Earlier he had indicated private doubts, however, that the meeting of the heads-of-government could be arranged by Monday.

Anti-West Slogans In Baghdad Erased

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Anti-Western slogans daubed on Baghdad's walls during the Iraqi revolution were being scrubbed off Wednesday on orders from the army.

Pictures of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic still are everywhere. But they have been ordered removed from automobile windshields for safety reasons.

Parliament Will Elect Lebanon Chief July 31

Crisis Solution Brought Closer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — The 10-week-old Lebanese revolt moved a step toward a solution Wednesday. Pro - government law makers agreed to push ahead with election of a new Lebanese president a week from Thursday.

Parliament speaker Adel Osseiran accepted the recommendation that parliament meet July 31 to vote on embattled President Camille Chamoun's successor. He messaged the 6 deputies at once summoning them to Beirut.

The move brought the Lebanese crisis closer to solution than at any time since May 11, when it erupted in civil strife. It also brought nearer the possibility of a quick and graceful departure for the American armed force of more than 9,000 men here.

The pro government majority at a caucus gave peace hopes a further boost by agreeing to back a non - parliamentary presidential candidate if one could be found on whom both sides in the revolt could agree. It has been customary to choose a candidate from parliament.

Three Key Prospects

The decision was a major compromise.

Lebanese politicians now have a week to intensify their search for a compromise candidate. Three key prospects already had emerged from the pro-government side since U.S. Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert D. Murphy began his trouble - shooting mission in Beirut.

They were Salim Lahoud, pro-Chamoun and pro-Western member of parliament, former President Alfred Naccache, a lawyer and Hawral Araboulos, lawyer and scholar.

The opposition appeared to be ranging its forces behind former President Beshara Khoury, who was thrown out by a 1952 crisis resembling the present one. That was when Chamoun came to power.

Candidate Sought

Murphy has been busy lobbying in the background with the opposing political forces. His aim was to help find a candidate acceptable to both sides.

Prior to the latest political break, Adm. James (Lord Jim) Holloway, commander of all American military forces in Lebanon, said in a press conference that he believed his troops "are going to be able to get out of here without a fight."

Holloway said his troops would be withdrawn from Lebanon "as soon as a political solution is found." The withdrawal would follow attainment of their mission, which was to help assure the stability of the country and preserve its integrity and independance, he said.

Senate Group Seeks Defense Budget Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee studying the huge defense budget ran into a deadlock Wednesday on proposals to boost it by 2½ billion dollars. The extra money would go to buy more jet bombers and tankers, missiles and other weapons.

The stalemate developed after the White House sent word that President Eisenhower opposes the increases as proposed by Sens. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) and Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash). They would hike the money total for the fiscal year which started July 1 from 38½ billion dollars voted by the House to about 41 billion.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va) said the Senate Appropriations subcommittee accepted his proposal that a special six-man subcommittee of the group be set up to take a searching look at the proposals.

The proposed increases involve about $1,700,000,000 for the Air Force and 800 million dollars for other services.

"We decided we better take a look at the effects upon the economy and budget plans before actually voting on such large increases," Robertson told reporters after the closed-door session.

He said the special subcommittee would include three senior members of both parties on the defense subcommittee. The Democrats are Sens. Dennis N. Chavez (NM), Carl Hayden (Ariz) and Richard Russell (Ga). The Republicans are Sens. Styles Bridges (NH), Milton R. Young (ND) and William F. Knowland (Calif).

Both Jackson and Symington, in interviews, said they are confident the full Senate committee would vote some increase for additional jet bombers and tankers.

Word of Eisenhower's opposition came from Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill) after Tuesday's weekly conference between the President and Republican congressional leaders. Dirksen said Eisenhower doesn't want Congress to appropriate any more money for defense than can be effectively absorbed.

British Seize 1,200 In Cypriot Roundup

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—British troops swept into the Troodos Mountains Wednesday in their biggest roundup of Cypriot extremists in the three years of violence on this island. More than 1,200 men and women already have been placed in detention camps.

But the raids, ordered to halt a threatened new campaign by the Greek underground organization EOKA, failed to stop killings and violence between the Greeks and the Turks.

A 12-year-old boy and 70-year-old man, both Greek Cypriots, were stabbed to death Wednesday and a Turkish Cypriot died of wounds suffered Sunday.

Bid For Power By Venezuelan Military Fails

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — An army plot to seize power in this oil-rich land melted Wednesday in the face of 100,000 angry demonstrators and a massive general strike.

The shouting crowd demanded and got the resignation of Defense Minister Gen. Jesus Maria Castro Leon, the man who tried to engineer the ouster of the ruling five-man government junta.

The White Palace announced that Castro Leon would leave the country in two or three days to take an undisclosed high post abroad.

He was replaced by Gen. Jose Lopez Henriquez, commander of the Venezuelan air force.

Rear Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabal, who received a strong display of civilian support in the general strike, appeared to have overcome the army threat. The admiral is head of the junta that overthrew the Marcos Perez Jimenez dictatorship six months ago. But it may be the military will make another bid for power.

Gen. Castro Leon Tuesday sent an ultimatum to Larrazabal demanding dissolution of the Communist and left-wing Accion Democratica parties, press censorship and postponement of the promised general elections.

Fuel Tank Falls Off Jet, Kills Two Aboard Carrier

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A gasoline tank fell off an FJ4B Fury jet fighter during takeoff, skinned across the deck of the aircraft carrier Ticonderoga and killed two sailors, the Navy reported Wednesday.

The accident occurred Saturday off the California coast where the 33,000-ton vessel was engaged in battle practice.

House Unit Approves 7% Hike In Security Benefits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways & Means Committee tentatively approved a bill Wednesday providing for a 7 per cent cost-of-living increase for the nation's 11,800,000 social security beneficiaries.

The measure would pay for the increased benefits by raising social security taxes on all employers and workers covered by the program.

The legislation was given a good chance of passage this session despite the congressional rush toward adjournment.

The tax increases would go into effect next Jan. 1. They would amount to a maximum of $25.50 a year for employes and $38.25 for self-employed persons.

Persons now receiving social security benefits would get an increase of $3 a month, or 7 per cent, whichever was greater.

Persons earning more than $350 a month who go on the rolls some years from now would get an increase of more than 7 per cent over the maximum $108.50 a month they now are guaranteed.

Benefits now range from $30 to a maximum of $108.50 for retired individuals. The committee bill would raise that to $33 and $116.10.

The social security tax is presently set at 2¼ per cent of the first $4,200 in earnings of employes, or a maximum of $94.50. Employers must match these contributions. Self-employed persons pay a 3⅜ per cent tax rate, or a maximum of $141.75 a year.

These rates would be raised Jan. 1 to 2½ per cent on the first $4,800 earned by employes or a maximum of $120 a year, with employers required to pay the same amount. The tax on self-employed persons would be raised to 3¾ per cent or a maximum of $180.

Wants India, Arab States At U.N. Talks

Suggests Summit Meeting Open In New York Monday

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev Wednesday night provisionally accepted the Anglo-American proposal for a summit conference in the United Nations Security Council. He proposed that it be held in New York on Monday, with India and Arab States represented.

In letters to President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French Premier Charles de Gaulle and Indian Premier Jawaharlal Nehru, Khrushchev specified that the chiefs of state themselves attend to discuss the Middle East crisis.

Nehru and Macmillan fully supported the idea. Eisenhower went reluctantly along with Macmillan. But De Gaulle was reported opposed to a meeting in the klieglight atmosphere of the security council, although favorable to such a gathering outside the framework of the UN.

Khrushchev specified that the attendance of Nehru was "essential" and added a derisive reference to Nationalist China which is a permanent council member along with the United States, Russia, Britain and France. India is not a member at present of the 11-nation council.

The Soviet premier also insisted that "representatives of the Arab countries concerned" be brought to the meeting.

Seriousness Stressed

Khrushchev said he was taking into consideration the seriousness of the Middle East situation in agreeing to the Anglo-American call for a top-level meeting within the framework of the U.N. Security Council.

Khrushchev proposed the meeting be be held in New York on Monday.

In order to bring Nehru and representatives of the Arab countries into any summit meeting at the Security Council, the 11-nation council presumably would have to set up a special subcommittee.

At present, India is not a member of the Security Council. Of the Arab states, Iraq is represented at the present time, but the U.N. has not yet recognized the new Iraqi regime and seated the Iraqi delegate representing the revolutionary government in Baghdad.

Nehru of India already had agreed to participate in a five-power conference at the summit. The Indian acceptance was in reply to the original proposal by Khrushchev last Saturday for an urgent summit conference, "anywhere and any time" to discuss the Middle East and head off "the world's greatest catastrophe."

Newspaper Hits Proposal

The West's reply suggested a meeting in the Security Council.

Khrushchev's conditional acceptance was expected by many Western observers here. They had given the Western proposal a 50-50 chance of acceptance despite a broadside against the Western position in the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia Wednesday morning.

However, the paper was printed before receipt in Moscow of the Western notes proposing a top-level meeting under terms of the United Nations Charter.

Khrushchev's proposal now must be considered by the West—which made no reference of expanding the proposed conference to include Arab representatives.

The Security Council could meet anywhere for the summit meeting—New York, Geneva or any city decided on by the nations involved.

Clothes Closet Trap Claims Third Life

DALLAS (AP) — A third child died Wednesday from suffocation suffered when she was trapped in a clothes closet of her home Tuesday.

Two children of a Negro family were found dead and two others unconscious by their mother, Mrs. Cardie McDade, when she returned home from work.

Debra Joyce Moore, 3, and Tommy Allen Carr, 4, Mrs. McDade's children by a previous marriage, were dead.

Carolyn Moore, 3, died Wednesday. A fourth child, Cloyce Moore, 6, was in a critical condition. His temperature was 108 degrees. He is in a Dallas hospital packed in ice.

The children were trapped when a handle fell off the closet door.

Rayburn Endorses Ike's Trade Program Request

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Speaker Sam Rayburn Wednesday threw his powerful support behind President Eisenhower's request for a five-year extension of his authority to cut tariffs under the reciprocal trade program.

Rayburn's support, coupled with that of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), lent support to the growing belief that Congress would give President Eisenhower almost everything he wants in the way of a trade bill.

The Senate, in approving the bill Tuesday, removed most of the President's objections. However, the Senate bill carried only a three-year extension as opposed to five years requested by Eisenhower and approved by the House.

A House - Senate conference committee now must work out a compromise between the two versions.

Rayburn conceded the Senate had eliminated the "worst features" of the trade measure recommended by its Finance Committee. He predicted the conferees would have little difficulty in reaching agreement.

But Rayburn said the Senate's three-year limit on tariff - cutting authority was "very unfortunate."

He said it was news to him that Eisenhower had passed the word that he would accept a four-year bill. Rayburn said that would be somewhat better but indicated he would fight for a five-year extension.

The conference committee also will have to agree on a ceiling for tariff cuts. The Senate approved a limit of 15 per cent with a maximum of 5 per cent each year. The House bill would permit a reduction of 25 per cent during the life of the bill with no more than a 10 per cent cut in any one year.

House conferees were reported ready to concentrate their main effort on eliminating the Senate restriction which would prevent the President's added tariff-cutting authority from being carried over from year to year.

Some Wraps Taken Off 15,000 MPH Atlas

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (AP)— The Air Force took some of the wraps off the 15,000 m.p.h. Atlas missile Wednesday.

The Atlas propulsion system, called "the most powerful system in the free world to enter flight test and production," is a cluster of liquid - propellant rocket engines.

It consists of a twin chambered booster engine which hurls the missile to the fringes of space, a sustained engine which keeps it on course at high altitude, and two stabilizing venier engines to control roll.

The system was designed and developed by a division of North American Aviation, Inc.

Foreign Policy Study Favored

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Rules Committee Wednesday approved a $300,000 study of U.S. foreign policy. The study was proposed following the spread of Arab nationalism to Iraq in a coup which overthrew the pro-Western monarchy there.

The action paved the way for full Senate action on the Foreign Relations Committee's proposal for the long-range inquiry.

Also approved by the Rules Committee was $150,000 for a study of relations with Latin American republics and $35,000 for the special disarmament subcommittee headed by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, (D-Minn.).

The Latin American study was launched by a foreign relations subcommittee after Vice President Richard M. Nixon's violence-scarred tour of that area last spring.

There were these other congressional developments bearing on the Middle East situation:

—Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) said a United Nations Summit meeting on the Middle East crisis would offer the West a chance to challenge Soviet suppression of freedom in Hungary.

—Eight senators attended a briefing by Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter who was described as reporting "nothing new" on the crisis in the Moslem world.

—Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) urged that Latin American nations be given an active mediating role in the Middle East. He said the "balancing influence" of the 20 Latin American republics had been "too long overlooked" in world councils.

State Seeking To Speed Slot Ruling Appeal

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Court of Appeals will hear arguments Friday on a motion by the state to advance its appeal of a Circuit Court ruling which voided a law outlawing slot machines at Potomac River casinos.

Ordinarily, the appeal would be placed behind appeals already filed and would not be heard until December or January. The high court is on summer recess now and is not scheduled to reconvene until September.

The motion for advancement of the appeal was filed with Chief Judge Frederick W. Brune by Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert. The full court will hear arguments on it at 10 a.m. Friday.

Stedman Prescott Jr., deputy attorney general, and James H. Norris, an assistant, are expected to present the state's arguments. Paul J. Bailey and William O. A. Sterling, Leonardtown attorneys representing the Potomac casino operators, will oppose the motion.

The appeal was formally filed Wednesday in an order mailed by Atty. Gen. Sybert to the clerk of St. Marys County Circuit Court. There was no immediate indication whether Sybert would ask the court to move the case up for a special hearing this summer or merely advance it on the regular September docket.

Gov. McKeldin, who asked the 1958 General Assembly to outlaw the Potomac slots, had requested the attorney general to move for an immediate review of the decision by two St. Marys County Circuit Court judges that the law is unconstitutional.

Pending an appellate ruling, the gambling piers are continuing operations which the Legislature said would be illegal as of June 1, 1958.

Judges John B. Gray and Philip H. Dorsey held that the General Assembly "transcended its power" by enacting the anti-slot machine bill at a 30-day session limited by the constitution to consideration of statewide, budgetary and emergency matters.

Radio-Teletype Wave Bounced Off The Moon

FT. HUACHUCA, Ariz. (AP) — The Army Signal Corps has bounced an ultrahigh frequency radio-teletype wave off the moon and back to earth for possibly the first time, officials announced Wednesday.

In a series of tests conducted recently by the Army's electronic proving ground at Ft. Huachuca and the Collins Radio Co. of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a radio-teletype message was sent from the fort to Encino, N.M., using the moon as a passive relay.

Ft. Huachuca spokesmen said this was "very probably the first time intelligence has been transmitted via ultrahigh frequency waves over the nearly 500,000-mile distance from the earth to the moon and back."

Spokesmen said the range of this type of communications system is limited only by the ability to observe the moon simultaneously from both the transmitting and receiving points.

They added that it would be possible to send messages from one point on the earth to another by using artificial satellites as the passive relay station.

Marian Anderson Named U.N. Delegate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower Wednesday nominated singer Marian Anderson and six others as new members of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations' General Assembly.

In addition to the Negro contralto, new nominations include Sens. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Mike Mansfield, (D-Mont.); Herman Phleger, Redwood City, Calif., former State Department legal adviser; George M. Harrison, Silverton, Ohio, head of the Railway Clerks Union; Watson W. Wise, Tyler, Tex., businessman, and Irving Salomon, Escondido, Calif., industrialist.

Nuclear Icebreaker Measure Advanced

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Commerce Committee Wednesday approved a bill to authorize construction of a nuclear-powered icebreaker to explore the Arctic in a race with the Soviet Union.

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash), the bill's author, estimated it would cost 30 million dollars to build the vessel's nuclear power plant and about 25 million to build the icebreaker itself.

He said Congress should move fast in an effort to catch up with Moscow which reported last December it had launched an atomic-powered icebreaker.

Refugees Reach Rome

ROME (AP) — A hundred Americans, including 38 women and 30 children, flew into Rome Wednesday from troubled Baghdad.

They are the second group of Americans to be evacuated from Iraq, where a revolution upset the monarchy last week. All those arriving Wednesday are members of U.S. Government missions in Baghdad or dependents of government employes.

Cost Of Living Pushed Steadily Upward In Maryland

BALTIMORE (AP)—A series of legislative acts and administrative rulings by state regulatory agencies has nudged the cost of living steadily upward in Maryland this year. More of the same is in store for the near future.

Since the beginning of the year, costs have climbed in these areas:

1. Telephones — Private rates went up in February, as a result of a Public Service Commission ruling, by 55 to 80 cents a month. Business phone charges rose $1.20.

2. Gas and electricity—The PSC earlier this month permitted rate increases which will add an extra 35 cents to the average residential user's bill for electricity and 33 cents for gas. Customers using gas for home heating will pay an average annual increase of $6.80.

3. State taxes—A new 3 cents per pack state levy on cigarets went into effect July 1, and withholding of state income tax from paychecks rose 50 per cent.

4. Car insurance—The State Insurance Department last week approved a 20.3 per cent average increase in premiums paid for auto liability insurance.

5. Hospitalization insurance — The State Insurance Department also approved last week an overall increase of 13.9 per cent in annual Blue Cross rates. The group subscriber to the family plan will pay an extra $8.40 a year beginning in October.

6. Future bites—A 50 per cent increase in the state sales tax, from 2 per cent to 3 per cent on the dollar, goes into effect Jan. 1.

New Name, Old Boat.

DETROIT (AP) — Miss Detroit is the new name for Charles (Chuck) Thompson's unlimited hydroplane. The speedster had been named Short Circuit. Originally the boat was Tempo VII, built for bandleader Guy Lombardo in 1955. It won the national high point championship that year when driven by Danny Foster.

SRC Chairman Spikes Report

BALTIMORE (AP) — Chairman Robert O. Bonnell of the State Roads Commission said Wednesday the state has no intention of sidetracking the Chesapeake Bay Bridge and approach roads in favor of other highway projects.

Bonnell made the statement in answer to restaurant and motel owners that the state has dropped plans for dualizing Maryland 71, the Blue Star Memorial Highway on the Eastern Shore.

Bonnell said to the contrary, the dualization may be speeded up because of a Delaware decision to construct an expressway linking with Maryland 71 at the Delaware line.

As for claims of the businessmen that the Baltimore Harbor Tunnel and proposed new Northeastern Expressway paralleling U.S. 40 north of Baltimore will draw north-south traffic from the bridge route, the SRC chairman said all the evidence is not in on this.

He said the Northeastern Expressway, planned for part of the federal interstate system, will be built regardless of opposition from the business groups.

The roads chief said bad weather and generally poor business conditions are to blame for a drop in Bay Bridge traffic this year, rather than diversion of traffic to new roads or the new Baltimore Harbor Tunnel.

A-Test Ban Check Agreement Reached

GENEVA (AP) — The East-West conference of control of a nuclear test ban reached agreement Wednesday on a method to check distant nuclear blasts by collection of radioactive materials.

Details of the agreement, reached at the 18th session of the conference, were not announced.

Corriganville Firemen To Hold Parade Tonight

The annual parade and festival of the Corriganville Volunteer Fire Company will be held tonight.

The line of march will be from the western town limits of Corriganville over old Route 36 to the fire hall.

Participating in the parade that will start at 7:30 p. m. will be the drum and bugle corps of Fulton Meyers Post, American Legion and the Blue Angels of Westernport.

Fire companies entering vehicles will be Midland, Potomac 2 of Westernport, Short Gap, McCoole, Frostburg, Cresaptown, Lonaconing, Patterson Creek.

Baltimore Pike, Bowman's Addition, Bowling Green, Piedmont, LaVale, Clarysville, Wiley Ford, Keyser, Deer Park, Mt. Savage and Friendsville.

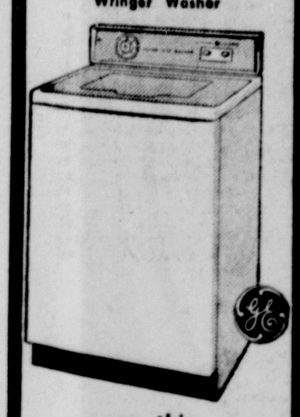

The drill team of the American Legion Post in Mt. Savage, also will participate.

After the parade, there will be a dance in the fire hall with participants in the line of march as guests.

Booths for refreshments have been set up on the fire hall grounds. There will be entertainment.

The humidity of the air in your household in winter should be about 35 per cent or a bit more, but lesser saturations are not disastrous.

Two Youths Are Sentenced To Reformatory

Two teen-age boys were sentenced yesterday to terms not to exceed two years in the Maryland Reformatory, with the recommendation that they each be examined for transfer to the Patuxent Institution as possible defective delinquents.

Sentenced on separate charges of burglary by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris were Jackie Wayne Poffenberger, 17, of Polish Mountain, and Philip L. Miller, 18, of this city, and Springfield, W. Va.

Prior to pronouncing sentence, Judge Harris said he had "never heard of more terrible records for 17-year-olds," and declared that they had been given every consideration by authorities on their previous appearances before county officials.

In presenting the prosecution, Assistant State's Attorney Donald W. Mason reviewed the extensive record of each youth in Allegany County Juvenile Court. Miller, Mason informed court, had been in trouble since 1950, while Poffenberger's court record ran back to 1953. Each had previously been confined at both the Maryland Training School for Boys and at Rosewood.

Miller and Poffenberger were tried on criminal informations, Poffenberger being accused of breaking into the residence of Merle Hinkle on Polish Mountain. It was revealed that Poffenberger had signed a statement admitting to the act during which he stole a number of weapons and ammunition valued in excess of $135, and a $20 bill.

Miller was arrested with two others in connection with a breaking and entering of a South Cumberland junk yard from which a pistol, ammunition and $270 in cash were stolen. The other two, Edward Rockwell, 17, and his brother, Albert Rockwell, 21, are out on bond for appearance before the October grand jury.

George R. Hughes Jr. was court-appointed to represent each youth yesterday. In his defense argument, Hughes pointed out that Miller was one of nine children and had apparently lacked necessary parental supervision.

Hughes also informed court that Miller wished to join the Regular Army, having a good record while serving six months of active duty as a member of Army Reserve, and would make restitution if permitted to enter the service.

Hughes expressed the opinion that Miller would make a useful citizen if permitted to enter the Army, pointing out that the youth would be under the kind of supervision and authority that he lacked in his home life.

The Mizpah Class of Emmanuel Methodist Church will hold a lawn festival from 4:30 until 8 today. In case of rain it will be held in the social hall.

Oldtown Club Will Attend Fair

The Oldtown Homemakers Club decided to attend the Cumberland Fair as the August meeting. The meeting was held at the home of Miss Mabel Twigg with Mrs. Roy Twigg presiding.

Members repeated the collect in unison. The hymn of the month, "God of Our Fathers, Whose Almighty Hand," was sung with Miss Twigg at the piano. It was announced that the hymn was written by Daniel G. Roberts and is a prayer, "devotional, dignified and serviceable, and is one of the better hymns." Roll call was answered with each telling of her vacation plans.

A talk on "Quick Oven Meals" was given by Mrs. Minnie Miller, and recipes were distributed. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Mary Confer and Mrs. Eugene Carder. A report was given of the open house honoring Miss Nancy Marsteller, the new assistant agent.

Mrs. Evelyn Twigg was named delegate to attend the leaders' training meeting on "Home Carpentry Workshop" to be held September 19. The program closed with the group singing "America." Refreshments were served.

Guests included Miss Dixie Ellen Shank and Mrs. Mary McKenzie. There were 15 members present.

The next meeting will be held September 18 at the home of Mrs. Garland Myerly, Green Spring, W. Va.

Wilkinson, Taylor Team Tops Field

The teams of Norman W. Taylor - John R. Wilkinson and Mrs. Loraine Eisenberg - Mrs. James Hugglestone led the two sections of play in a fractional game of the Potomac Valley Bride Club, Tuesday night at the Woman's Civic Club house.

Runners-up to the Taylor-Wilkinson score of 85 in North-South play were Mrs. William Snyder and Hugo Keller, 82, and Miss Loretta Hannon and Roger X. Day, 75½.

Other high scores in the East-West section, besides the 80 posted by Mrs. Eisenberg and Mrs. Hugglestone, were Mrs. Robert Nichols and Thomas F. Hannon, 75, and Mrs. Roger X. Day and Mrs. John Laughlin, 67½.

Two team championships of the Western Maryland Bridge Club will be decided in a game today at 8 p.m. at the Cumberland Country Club. Play tonight will decide both the women's pair and men's pair championships.

Personals

Mrs. Joseph Crane, Boston, is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James House, Oldtown.

Miss Dixie Ellen Shenk, Hagerstown, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Minnie Miller, Oldtown.

Mrs. Dorothy Hinkle, Woodville, Ohio, has returned home after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Shaw, Oldtown.

Bud Robinson, Oldtown, is a patient in Memorial Hospital.

Rev. Lawrence P. Landrigan, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, is reported in good condition in Sacred Heart Hospital, where he underwent an operation.

Pleasant Valley Homemakers Projects Reported

Pleasant Valley Homemakers decided to report at each meeting on work achieved during the month. The list given at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Georgia Perdew, Creek Road, Flintstone, included gardening, canning, deepfreezing, painting, remodeling, building, sewing, preserving, quilting and reading.

Following a covered dish supper on the lawn, the business session was held with Mrs. Edgar Rephann presiding. The group recited the collect and offered prayer. The hostess read the Scripture. The history of the hymn of the month was given by Mrs. Robert Deremer. Mrs. Marshall Deremer read a poem. Mrs. Charles Smith distributed booklets on crocheting. Announcement was made of a rug making demonstration, to be given September 25, October 1, 2 and 16 at the Court House. A donation was made to the Flintstone baby clinic.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Davis Jr., Flintstone, with Mrs. James Davis Sr., cohostess. It will be August 12.

Guests were Miss Nellie Smith, Mrs. Edison Beeman and Carol Ann Beeman. Other members present were Mrs. Carl Wilson, Mrs. Roy Smith, Mrs. Lola Hebner, Mrs. Robert Altstetter and Mrs. James Davis Jr.

Deaths And Funerals

WILLARD J. PRITT

ELKINS — Willard Jesse Pritt, 66, died here Tuesday after an extended illness. He was a retired railroad employe, having retired in January, 1949. At the time of his retirement he was supervisor of track for the Western Maryland Railway at Cumberland.

He was born at Beverly, a son of the late John Hadden and Mary Elizabeth (Shiflett) Pritt. He was married to Martha Effie (Godwin) Pritt who died in 1944.

Surviving are a son, Arthur D. Pritt, Washington; a daughter, Mrs. Robert Tritt, Lancaster, Pa.; a brother, Wye Pritt, of here, a sister, Mrs. John Hinchman, also of here; a nephew, Roy Pritt, of here with whom he resided, and three grandchildren.

He was a member of Pythagoras Lodge 128, AF and AM of Parsons, of which he was past master; Modern Woodmen of America of Parsons, and the Davis Memorial Presbyterian Church of Elkins.

Services will be conducted from the John W. Lohr Funeral Home today at 2 p. m. and interment will be in Maplewood Cemetery.

JACOB T. SMITH

PITTSBURGH—Jacob Thomas Smith, 69, of 3507 McClue Avenue, died Tuesday at a hospital here.

A native of Artemas, Pa., he was born May 5, 1889 a son of the late Joseph L. and Eleanor (Miller) Smith.

He was a retired structure iron worker.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Margaret Smith; two stepsons, John and Harvey Walker, both of Pittsburgh; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Gladys Cross, Pittsburgh; a brother, Owen C. Smith, Clearville, Pa., and three sisters, Mrs. Daisy D. Smith, Cleveland; Mrs. Maude B. Stottler, and Mrs. Cinda F. Smith, both of Cumberland.

The body is at the Sirlin Funeral Home, 620 East Ohio Street, where services will be conducted on Friday at 2 p. m. Interment will be in a Pittsburgh cemetery.

BENNETT SERVICES

Services for Elmer N. Bennett, 73, of 405 Laing Avenue, who died Tuesday in Memorial Hospital, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Stein Funeral Home by Rev. B. F. Hartman, pastor of Ellerslie Methodist Church. Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Members of Potomac Lodge 100, AF & AM will conduct Masonic rites at graveside.

Mr. Bennett was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Local 'Blue Baby' Said Making Good Progress

The child, Stephen Findling, four-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Findling, underwent a four-hour operation at the Baltimore hospital on July 3.

Mr. Findling said that physicians are very pleased with the child's progress and feel his recovery is a certainty.

Mr. Findling said the cooperation of newspapers played a major role in his son's progress. The local man said that after the newspapers started carrying stories on the child the doctors and nurses seemed to take special interest in his case.

The child was the subject of a number of state-wide news stories after he underwent a hectic ride by ambulance from Cumberland to Baltimore.

The child started to Baltimore in an ambulance of the Corriganville Volunteer Fire Company, but en route the right rear tire of the vehicle caught fire on Sideling Hill Mountain near Hancock.

Homer Golden, the ambulance driver, and his assistant, Mathias Madden stopped to change the tire, while the child's mother and a nurse remained in the ambulance.

A passing motorist was flagged down and asked to call Maryland State Police who reported to the scene of the damaged ambulance with oxygen.

The child was taken to Washington County Hospital in Hagerstown for treatment by two physicians and then taken to Johns Hopkins in Baltimore by the Hagerstown Community Rescue Service, a volunteer organization.

Last night the child returned to Cumberland for the first time since his hectic ride to Baltimore on June 27.

He will return to the hospital for treatment from time to time during the next several years.

Swim Classes Will Begin Today

Weather permitting, the Corriganville swimming classes, to be conducted by Miss Joan Snyder, Red Cross instructor, will begin today at Minke's Pool. In case of rain classes will be held at Central YMCA.

Fifty-three children are enrolled. The children will be picked up along the highway by a bus leaving Ford's Crossing at 9:15. Mrs. Kathryn Crabtree, Mrs. Harriet Wolfe and Mrs. Maxine Rice are in charge of arrangements.

GAS TANKS EXPLODE

MOHEDA, Sweden (UPI) — An explosion in a fuel dump killed three persons Wednesday and sent gasoline cascading into the streets and sewers. Troops and police moved 200 persons from their homes on the outskirts of town and built sandbag barricades to stem the flow of the high octane gasoline from shattered underground storage tanks.

SEE CHAPLIN'S HITLER

BERLIN (UPI) —Charlie Chaplin's famous satire on Adolf Hitler, "The Great Dictator," is slated for its German premiere at a West Berlin movie house this fall, 20 years after its production. Chaplin plays a double part in the film—that of a Jewish hairdresser and that of "Hynkel," an impersonation of Hitler.

Work Begins On New Gasline Loop In Moorefield Area

MOOREFIELD—The first steps in the construction of additional loops in the Atlantic Seaboard Company's pipeline through Hardy County started Wednesday when the Pipeline Maintenance and Construction Co. of Camp Hill, Pa., recruited the brush gang to start clearing operations.

The new loop in the pipeline will start at the Moorefield valve and will join the Lost River valve in an 18-mile loop. The loops run approximately parellel to the original pipeline and are used as much for storage as for added carrying capacity.

The Pipeline Maintenance Construction and Eqiupment Company has been unloading equipment in Moorefield for the past several days and included was one of the largest bull dozers built. The company will employ a crew of 10 to 15 immediately and will increase the crew to 30 within a week. The company expects to complete the loop within four months before starting on the next loop in Virginia, near Woodstock.

The construction will consist of clearing the right-of-way, followed by grading, digging the ditch for the pipe, stringing the pipe, welding the sections into a continuous pipe, then lowering it and filling and grading after the fill.

The company office will be located in Moorefield. The work crew came here from laying a pipeline in New York state.

Myrtle Temple Plans Annual Ham Supper

MIDLAND—Myrtle Temple No. 2, Pythian Sisters completed plans for a public ham supper to be held August 20 from 5 to 7:30 p. m. in the firemen's hall. Mrs. Naomi Kroll is in charge of tickets and has them for members who have not yet received theirs to sell. Members who were absent at the last meeting are asked to notify the chairman of their contribution of food or cash toward the supper.

Plans are being made by Mrs. Eleanor Slinghoff, for a dinner party at Moon's Restaurant in Cumberland for September 23 or 24. Members have until September 11 to arrange for reservation and transportation.

Planning to attend the Maryland Grand Temple Pythian Sisters are Mrs. Pearl Blair, a past grand chief who will also be serving as chairman on the grand temple credential committee; Mrs. Anna Jenkins, district deputy grand chief for District No. 1 Pythian Temples in Western Maryland; Mrs. Rosemary MacMillan, representative from the local temple and Mrs. Pansy Thrasher, a past chief of the local temple.

Mrs. Blair will also be attending the Supreme Temple Session of Pythian Sisters as a Senior Supreme representative from Maryland Grand Temple in Boston, Mass., the week of August 9. Headquarters will be the Statler Hilton Hotel. She will be accompanied by Mr. Blair and Mrs. Edna Engle, Frostburg, who is a past supreme representative and will be serving on the Supreme Temple law committee.

A donation of $3 was given to the Cancer Drive. Prize of the evening was won by Mrs. Earlene Cordial.

Game Wardens Lecture FSTC Conservation Class

FROSTBURG—George Shields, Baltimore, chief game warden of Maryland and Joseph Minke, regional game warden, were speakers yesterday before the Conservation of Natural Resources class of the summer school now in session at Frostburg State Teachers College.

The two men spoke upon one of a series of studies of the class which have included lectures and field trips all over Maryland from the marshes and bays of Eastern and Southern Maryland to the mountains of the Western area.

Don Emerson, instructor of the class, pointed out that these trips and lectures are of tremendous advantage to the graduate students who are teachers of Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Minke spoke to the group on protecting, restoring and public relations in wild life conservation in Maryland. Shields explained the work of the State Game Commission, the policy-making body of the Game and Inland Fish Commission and explained the good that can be done by schools in promoting wild life conservation.

Another of the lectures given the class was by Paul W. McKee, director of the water pollution control commission with offices in Baltimore. He spoke to the class on sources and effect of water pollution state-wide and locally.

The class also recently journeyed to Choncoteaque Bay and Assateague Island on the Eastern Shore to study bay and ocean resources. They toured Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester counties to study game and forest resources. They also toured the marshes of Southern Maryland and studied the type of wildlife found there.

State resources personnel who helped conduct the weekend tour were Fred Sieling, state biologist, who is a specialist on the bay; John Warren, wild life superintendent, Region 3, who demonstrated wild life conservation practices.

Other field trips are planned for the class before the summer session ends August 1.

Mrs. Wilson Entertains Frostburg Homemakers

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Homemakers Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Robert Wilson a recent evening.

Mrs. Perry Myers, president, opened the meeting with the reading of the 23rd Psalm and a challenge for homemakers.

Mrs. Margaret Williams, music chairman, gave the history of the hymn of the month, "God of Our Fathers." She led the group singing of the hymn and other patriotic songs.

A report was made of the progress to improve the cut along Eckhart Flat where the new part of the highway was cut through the mountain. The club is sponsoring this project and Miss Margaret Jones is chairman.

Plans were made to present a demonstration at the Cumberland Fair August 18-22. This demonstration will be given Friday, August 22, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Myers announced the club would begin classes in designing and hooking rugs and making lamp shades. These classes will begin in the fall when vacations are over.

The next event of the club will be a family picnic to be held on August 26 at Braddock Park.

Stock Market Irregular Despite Heavy Turnover

NEW YORK (UPI)—Irregularity came into the market after a six-session rise to new highs but the routine action of the general list was overshadowed by a few spectacular features and continued heavy volume.

Turnover climbed to 3,550,000 shares, 130,000 shares ahead of the Tuesday total and heaviest volume since Jan. 16.

Topping the active list were two of the day's big features—American Cyanamid and Alleghany Corp. Cyanamid held 4¼ points of a gain which had amounted to 6 points on talk of a "potent anti-cancer drug," later denied by the company which nevertheless reported progress in its cancer research program.

Alleghany common added ½ point to a new high of 6⅞ and held ¼ point as it moved along with preferred issues which soared after the company cleared arrears on the 5½ per cent issue with a declaration of nearly $150. The 5½ rose 30 to 270, prior preferred 5¼ to 108½ and 6 preferred ⅜ to 19⅝.

Addressograph - Multigraph, unopened until after noon, ran up 18½ points to 225 on its three-for-one stock split proposal. Pitney-Bowes picked up nearly 3 points as the company president gave a favorable forecast for the second quarter.

On the other hand, American Smelting fell more than 3 on its dividend cut. Gulf Oil and Crucible Steel lost over a point on lower earnings. Aluminum declined a point as the company cut its primary production by 10 per cent.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain futures prices closed mostly firm on the Chicago Board of Trade Wednesday.

At Chicago, wheat finished up ⅛ to ⅞ cent; corn (old) off ⅛ to up ⅜ cent; (new) up ¼ to off ½ cent; oats unchanged to off ¼ cents; rye up ⅜ to off ¼ cents; soybeans up ⅞ to 1⅝ cents.

Wheat traders seemed to find little cause for further apprehension about the Middle East crisis in the immediate future and the market range hovered between unchanged to slightly higher tones. Some hedging by commission house representatives met the early upturn. Several reports of purchasing cargoes by Brazil, India and Israel were circulated in the pits.

Corn futures made slight gains throughout the day, with most options evidencing featureless trading.

Generally favorable weather was reported in store for northwestern states.

"PEACE BATON" RELAYED

TOKYO (UPI) —Japanese bicyclists are relaying a "peace baton" 850 miles from Nagasaki to Tokyo in protest against the testing and use of nuclear bombs. The baton is filled with sand from Nagasaki, which was atombombed three days after Hiroshima in 1945.

Feeling of pressure is most highly developed among humans at the end of organs, such as the tip of the tongue.

ALUMINUM OUTPUT DOWN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Primary aluminum production in the nation totaled 115,325 tons in June, down from 126,327 in May, and 138,007 tons in June a year ago, according to the Aluminum Association. Production for the first six months of the year dropped to 762,561 tons, from 824,128 tons during the same period last year.

DROP IN CARLOADINGS

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Pennsylvania Railroad reported Wednesday that carloadings in the week ended July 19 dropped sharply to 69,518 from the 105,260 cars in the corresponding 1957 week. For the year to date the Pennsylvania has loaded 2,129,641 as against 2,866,070 in the like 1957 period.

DOES MORE THAN JUST "SHRINK" PILE TISSUES! NO SURGERY NEEDED TO Put Nerves To Sleep—Stop Pain Of Swollen Piles In Minutes!

To stop nagging discomfort of swollen piles in minutes, thousands use Stainless Pazo®. Not only reduces tissue swelling but stops pain at once, promotes healing of inflamed tissues too—all without surgery! Preparations that just act to "shrink" piles can't offer complete symptomatic relief. For real comfort, fast, you need this more complete medication.

In doctors' tests, patients had immediate relief. That's because Stainless Pazo combines the most effective ingredients known for piles. Thus works 3 ways at once: (1) stops pain, itching in minutes; (2) shrinks tissue swelling, congestion; (3) promotes healing of raw tissues. You get immediate new comfort while Nature's own healing magic goes to work!

Don't suffer needlessly. Get Stainless Pazo Suppositories or Ointment at druggists. Get relief without surgery or money back!

An Ethics Code With More Teeth

Nearly a year ago the House of Representatives passed a "code of ethics" resolution applying to all federal officials with salaries of $12,500 a year or more. The Senate has just finalized the resolution.

The code is merely "the sense of Congress," so it has no teeth. But it does outline good standards.

Key admonition is not to dispense special favors, whether for remuneration or not, and not to accept for oneself or family benefits that might be construed as influencing decisions.

Other recommendations are to uphold the laws, put loyalty to country above loyalty to friends, search for efficiency and economy, engage in no part time business with the government, and expose corruption wherever found.

Though this resolution applies to Congress as well as Executive department officials, Sen. Clifford Case of New Jersey proposes to particularize about the Congressional code.

He would make correspondence and telephone calls between members of Congress and the regulatory agencies public property. Then Case wants Congressmen and their staffs to file public expense accounts of their travels and to compel members of Congress and other high public officials to disclose their outside interests, their outside income and any gifts received. Case would create a commission to study Congressional contacts and outside interests.

If all this comes to pass, Washington sleuths can throw away their bugs, mikes and tapping devices and transfer their efforts to greener fields.

Early Casualty (Fainting Spell)

U. S., Still Losing Friends, Has Tough Time Lining Up Support

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—The American public doesn't know it, but all last weekend and early this week there has been more diplomatic arm-twisting, more table-pounding, and more due bills collected by American diplomats at the United Nations than at any other time in American history. The arm-twisting has been to drum up a two-thirds vote in the UN General Assembly to get a UN police force to take over for the Marines and thus get the United States off the hook and off the beaches in Lebanon.

The UN vote-getting has not been easy.

Here is how some of the one-time friends and allies of the United States have reacted:

IN LATIN AMERICA—Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Venezuela, Mexico have been cool. They argued privately that the good-neighbor policy has become a series of visits by American bigwigs and they are tired of smiling faces behind champagne glasses lifted to toast an empty policy. They point out that they are summoned by American-delegation office boys at the UN and told how to vote. They are telling American diplomats that they are tired of voting on instructions from the State Department.

IN EUROPE—West Germany, an anchor member of NATO, has been grumbling against American intervention in Lebanon. Norway, Denmark and Belgium are irritated. The French, though for intervention, are most unhappy over the fact that some 1,800 of their troops have been anchored off Beirut for almost a week, anxious to go ashore, but unwanted.

IN ASIA AND AFRICA—Japan, which we have depended upon as our chief Far Eastern ally, has been on the other side of the Lebanese fence. Saudi Arabia, which we have wooed and courted, sidestepped an OK for the use of the Air Force in Dhahran, and refused to send oil to Jordan, even though King Saud, less than a year ago, had stationed his troops in Jordan to rescue King Hussein. Indonesia, India, and most African-Asian states are against U. S.

Remarked one Latin-American ambassador: "How can I possibly explain to the people of my country why we should vote to take over for the U. S. Marines in a little country few of them have heard about and which they think is being occupied solely to protect American oil?"

Why We Slipped

In the last few days, some diplomats have been telling each other: "We've got to pitch in and save the United States. We can't allow her to lose face. It was bad enough to have Britain and France shown up as weak powers after Suez. We can't have the same thing happen to the United States."

All the above is not pleasant to contemplate. However, the American people would be guilty of keeping their heads in the sand if they did not wake up to the facts. And these unpleasant facts indicate how badly American prestige has slipped.

The question is—why? The answer, in brief, is that world leadership goes to:

1. The strong.
2. Him who leads.

On point 1, for the last 10 months it has been obvious that our onetime scientific and military supremacy has been going to the nation which was able to put a ton-and-a-half sputnik in the skies, and was able to test a long-range intercontinental missile as early as May 1957. In contrast, our ICBM, the Atlas, went p-f-f-ft at Cape Canaveral on July 19, the same day Khrushchev was demanding a summit meeting in brutal, bulldozing language.

On point 2, a nation which leads must not be a nation which waits. It must solve problems before they become acute. It must use imagination and inspiration. It cannot rely on bluster and talk. We have been talking big and carrying a little stick. We have been bragging about outer space, but beeping with a tiny sputnik. We have been talking about massive retaliation and agonizing reappraisal when the world knew we weren't going to attack massively with the atomic bomb, and the world has now come to realize that we have to undergo an agonizing reappraisal of our own policy of brinksmanship.

One policy we may have to reappraise is that of policing the world on the other side of the world—the equivalent of Russia landing troops near our border in Nicaragua, Guatemala, or Mexico. There was a time when we could do it without too much fear of the consequences. But Russia's intermediate range missile has changed that. She has them in quantity. We haven't.

These are some of the agonizing reappraisals we have to make. They are also some of the reasons why so much arm-twisting has been necessary at the United Nations to rally our old friends for a vote in the UN Assembly. They are not pleasant facts. But it's best for the American people to know them rather than keep our heads in the sand.

Near East Highlights

U. S. Ambassador Fletcher Warren left Turkey on July 12 for a two-month holiday. American Marines landed in Lebanon on July 15. Turkey, crucial key point in the Near East crisis, is now without an American ambassador. The new American charge d'affaires to Turkey is Carlos Hall, now en route to Istanbul and Ankara. Hall is a Latin American expert, speaks excellent Spanish, not one word of any Near East language. In fact, he knows almost nothing about the Near East. No wonder Turkish officials registered amazement . . . Chief goal of Colonel Nasser in the Near East is Kuwait, the little oil-soaked country at the head of the Gulf of Persia which gets $320,000,000 from oil annually, but has only 200,000 people. Saudi Arabia, with more than 6,000,000 people, gets $300,000,000 from oil. Nasser would prefer Kuwait to Saudi Arabia, with more oil per sonson. He wants oil to meet various Arab budget deficits. Nasser's book is like Hitler's "Mein Kampf." It outlines in detail his plans to take over the entire Near East . . . Trouble in the Near East and the danger of communism has put an end to the bickering between King Saud and his bother Price Faisal. For the time being they have made up.

Advantages Of Delay And Debate On Mid-East

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Delay and more debate — an honorable means of self-restraint that actuates big powers in a crisis when they really don't want to fight each other—could keep the unsolved Middle East problem in a state of suspense for a long time to come, except for a possible act of irresponsibility by any one of the Arab countries.

While outwardly Moscow and Washington have a certain degree of control over the next steps, the truth is that in a highly explosive situation, with rebel elements on the rampage, anything could happen to change the whole picture overnight.

The evidence is mounting that neither Washington nor Moscow wants to see the present situation aggravated. For one thing, the Soviets are eager to let the new Iraq government get stabilized, while Communist-inspired infiltration and subversion keeps on threatening the Jordan and Lebanon governments from within.

So the device of arguing inside the United Nations brings, for different reasons, satisfaction to both the East and the West for the time being.

The United States government, for instance, is well aware that it must satisfy world opinion and that it cannot let the impression be developed that the American Marines are to stay in Lebanon indefinitely. There is instead a repeated emphasis on the intention to withdraw as soon as the United Nations can take over.

But there are many things to be done before any such withdrawal of the military forces of Great Britain and the United States will be practicable. For one thing, the General Assembly of the United Nations must, by specific resolution, set up a police force with authority to prevent "indirect aggression" against both Lebanon and Jordan.

The mission of the American Marines, as stated by President Eisenhower last week, is to "assist the government of Lebanon to preserve its territorial integrity and political independence." The United Nations sent in a team of observers a few weeks back to investigate and report on the "infiltration," but it has no police powers and its members are unarmed. Soviet Russia has blocked the resolution offered by Japan to the Security Council providing for the strengthening of the U.N. "observer" force "to insure the territorial integrity and political independence" of Lebanon, but until a foolproof formula to accomplish this particular purpose has been worked out, the Marines cannot be withdrawn.

Likewise, in Jordan, until some assurance is forthcoming that the existing government of King Hussein is safe from outside interference, it is difficult to see how the British forces can be pulled out either.

So while both Britain and the United States will keep on saying they want to withdraw their troops at the earliest moment, the date when the evacuation will be practicable depends on lots of events that have not happened as yet.

The position of the Iraq government could be a pivotal factor. The new government at Baghdad claims it wants to protect foreigners and all their oil properties and wishes to honor all the commitments made by the previous government, including the Baghdad Pact. This is a natural maneuver designed to curry favor and to win diplomatic recognition for the new regime. But the United States will be wary about immediate recognition, preferring instead to wait and see just what happens innside Iraq. For the last few days the new government there has been permitting its radio to be used to broadcast Nasser's demand for an overthrow of its neighbor and supposed ally, the Jordan government.

The fact is that troops of Britain and the United States are on the soil of Lebanon and Jordan. To pull them out on the basis of paper assurances would be hazardous. Unless, therefore, some way has been found through the United Nations to maintain order by a small military force of its own, there is little likelihood of anything but stalemate for weeks to come.

During the debate that will ensue, there will be continued talk of a "summit" conference on the Middle East. Unless Moscow, however, shows some signs of agreeing on basic questions, the conference is not likely to materialize. The same reluctance to prepare in advance for a "summit" meeting has prevented any such conference on broader questions, and it could as readily block any other kind of conference outside the United Nations which seeks to deal with the Middle East.

There are all sorts of diplomatic missions, both at the United Nations and in the various capitals of the world, and an agreement would not be difficult if the Moscow government were sincere in its professed desire to arrange a settlement. It is the spread of propaganda that the Soviet government is really aiming for, and that is the chief reason why it has been agitating for a "summit" conference.

The encouraging thing about the general situation is that all sides are willing to talk. The Soviets may consider that they have a hold now on Iraq, but they are probably worried because their stooge, Nasser, no longer has a free hand to do as he pleases in the Middle East. For, staring him in the face today is a military force of sizable proportions consisting of units from the armies, navies and air forces of both Great Britain and the United States. The burden of proof rests this time not on the West, but on the East, which includes Nasser's regime. There must be evidence of an intention really to keep the peace before military forces will be withdrawn by Great Britain and the United States.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Continuous War

When troops move into position, it used to be a prelude to war. But not these days when war is continuous and troop movements are only a manifestation of irritability and resistance.

That war has been continuous and unceasing since 1939 is an historic fact which the politicians who manipulate nations do not like to admit. Yet there is no other word than war that rightly describes the condition that exists. In fact, one might be justified in saying that war has been continuous since the break-up of the Austro-Hungarian Empire in the war of 1914-18 left a vacuum in the middle of Europe which Russia sought to fill by new technical methods of warfare, namely propaganda and revolution.

The fall of the British Empire was the principal catastrophe of the early stages of this continuous war which has already lasted more than 40 years. In world affairs, the British Empire represented political and economic system—the word, stability, is too indefinite and will be contested by purists. The stabilized British pound sustained a wholesome currency throughout the world. The doctrine of freedom of the seas, maintained by the British Navy, which kept the lanes of trade and commerce open, was first damaged by the Kaiser's U-boats and then annihilated by the invention and development of the airplane.

The emergence of the United States as the world leader during the Presidency of Franklin D. Roosevelt was not an unmixed blessing. The United States was utterly inexperienced in assuming international responsibilities, and as Woodrow Wilson discovered, public sentiment among the American people could not be counted on to support a government policy. In Britain, it was different. A policy might be defeated to shreds in Parliament, but once adopted the people accepted it. In the United States, the people are not bound to and do not have the habit of following a leader. The President is always just another politician, and the public goes its own way.

So whereas Franklin D. Roosevelt was extraordinarily popular, he knew that he could not carry his people into the European war but could in a war against Japan. It might be an interesting speculation as to whether this country would have entered World War II had there been no Pearl Harbor.

In a continuous war, the costs are constant and the losses are constant. In 1958, it had been anticipated that the American people would be somewhat relieved of their enormous tax burden, but the continuous war, the enormous cost of war preparation, the shift from conventional techniques of war to novel techniques of war, are proving so costly that taxes may actually be increased or the standards of life could be reduced in quality.

There can be no stability either in currency or in commercial relations because the shifts in relationships among nations, the need for finding subsidies for countries which want them, the need to support weak but geographically well-placed nations, the habit of submitting to blackmail by so-called neutrals cost money which comes out of taxes, or by debasing currency, or by dumping goods. For instance, our present relations with Canada are based on the assumption that Canada is essential to our defense. The Government of the United States is therefore inclined to give Canada whatever that country wants. What is the alternative? There seems to be none.

But there will be many changes in this continuous war—changes in relationships, changes in personnel. The foundation of American strength is its own enormous economy. In addition, American strength will be prime as long as it remains part of the Western community of nations, which must always include Great Britain, France and Germany and the American continents. The United States possesses no gift for learning how to deal with Asiatic countries. Americans, of a very mixed origin, produce a soft, sentimental race which seems never to learn that weak and backward countries survive at the expense of strong states and develop a variety of techniques to achieve that end. The American attitudes toward Nehru and Nasser are examples of such softness.

In a continuous war of long duration, friends become foes, foes become friends and the strength of states waxes and wanes. That we see it all happen as on a radar screen does not change anything.

Baering Down On The News

My research department bugged the archives ten years ago and discovered the invention of fissionized warfare in 1815.

It was at Waterloo that Wellington yelled into the speaking tubes, "Up men and at 'em."

That was the launching of at 'emized warfare. It was the end of an illustrious Frenchman. Now an equally famous Frenchman wants to get at 'em.

Kuwait, Bahrein, Qatar

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

The best measure of the Western defeat in the Middle East is the character of the remedies that were discussed by Secretary of State Dulles and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

In brief, the American government has now three-quarters bought an idea that has always been popular in the British government — the idea of using the unpeopled-old-rich area at the head of the Persian Gulf as a kind of desperate hole-card in the desperate Middle Eastern game. Superficially, the hole-card looks attractive.

Even with no oil flowing from either Iraq or Iran, the entire British and Western European oil requirements can quite easily be met by the wells in the three little gulf-coast sheikhdoms, Kuwait, Bahrein and Qatar. All three are British protectorates. Kuwait in turn adjoins Saudi Arabia's eastern province of Al-Hasa, while the island of Bahrein lies just off shore. And the vast majority of the oil wells of Saudi Arabia is concentrated in this one province, which also contains the Dahran headquarters and refinery of the Arabian-American Oil Co.

In other words, the Western oil-jugular cannot be cut, so long as the oil flow from this single area at the head of the Persian Gulf is not interrupted. Britain furthermore maintains a considerable garrison on Bahrein, and Bahrein is also the base for British naval units operating in Persian Gulf waters. The United States also has some military forces in the area, at the Dahran air base close to ABAMCO's headquarters and refinery.

To complete the temptation, Bahrein is the only part of the area that is inconveniently overpopulated. Al-Hasa province is all but empty, except for the workers ABAMCO has brought in from all over the Arab world. The native population of Kuwait is only 35 000, although more than 150,000 non-Kuwaitis also live and work there now. Qatar was a mere village sheikdom before the big oil strike. Even Bahrein has only a million people. And although Bahrein is riddled with pro-Nasser sentiment, the place has been calm since the Sheikh of Bahrein locked up the committee of Nasser sympathizers who used to lead the agitation there.

The British idea is simply to hang on to the Gulf coast sheikhdoms by military force if need be. There would be no great difficulty in doing this, if the most important oil-producer happened to be Bahrein, where British troops are already stationed. But the Bahrein wells are of minor importance, and Kuwait and Qatar are the real prizes, with Kuwait by far the biggest prize of the two.

What Selwyn Lloyd asked for in Washington, therefore, was the promise of American support for military occupation of Kuwait and Qatar, if Nasserite agitation in the sheikhdoms made this step necessary. According to reliable sources, John Foster Dulles at least three-quarters committed himself to give the British moral support, providing the legitimate governments of the sheikhdoms ask the British to aid them with troops.

This in turn gives special interest to the sudden appearance in Damascus of the present ruler of Kuwait, Sheikh Abdullah As-Sabah. The Sheikh of Kuwait was apparently vacationing in the Syrian capital when Gamal Abdel Nasser flew in from Moscow. Hence the recent meeting between the Sheikh and Nasser may perhaps have been accidental. But taken in conjunction with the Sheikh of Kuwait's earlier visit to Cairo, it was "the sort of accident that makes you think," as one American policy-maker remarked.

At present, however, most of the real power in Kuwait is in the hands of Sheikh Abdullah Mubarrak. This uncle of Sheikh Abdullah As-Sabah is now Kuwait's acting ruler. It is thought that if the ruler himself strays towards a deal with Nasser, the acting ruler can be relied on to do whatever may be needful.

Besides the danger in Kuwait, the danger in Saudi Arabia cannot be overlooked. King Saud's virtual abdication in favor of Crown Prince Faisal has by no means stabilized the situation there. A Nasserite conspiracy to seize control of the Arabian government is just as likely, in fact, as a Nasserite grab for Kuwait. If this danger materializes, the British will surely press the American government to try to detach and hold Al-Hasa province. And this project looks fairly feasible, if it wins the support of the virtually independent Governor of Al-Hasa, Sheikh Saud din Jaloui.

There is, indeed, only one difficulty about the Persian Gulf hole-card. In the present state of the Middle East, the mere dispatch of British troops to Kuwait would have the approximate effect of a big bomb in a crowded movie house.

Children Must Learn Not To Tease The Pup

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A busy physician rarely misses a week without receiving a call about a child who was bitten by a pet. The youngster usually is at fault but there always is a question about rabies. Each case represents an individual problem that warrants careful investigation.

The wound should be cleaned immediately and carefully with soap or a detergent and water. Deep wounds need cauterization. Animal bites seldom are sutured except on the face to prevent ugly scarring. Tetanus antitoxin may be needed.

The decision to use rabies vaccine depends upon the health and the availability of the animal; it seldom is necessary when the animal is known to have been immunized against rabies or if a dog or puppy has been confined to the house and not exposed to rabies.

Dr. H. A. Carithers of Jacksonville, Fla., treated 157 children bitten by pets over a period of 20 months. The most common offenders were dogs, followed by cats, rabbits, squirrels and other mammals.

Dr. Carithers found that the child usually was responsible and, to avoid these mishaps, has devised the following rules:

1. Children should not own pets until they can show discretion in their handling and care. This ability is rare under age 4 and unusual under age 6.
2. Older animals make better pets for young children.
3. All youngsters should be taught that animals have rights, including freedom from pain and excessive teasing.
4. Teach boys and girls to avoid all strange animals, especially those that are sick or injured.
5. Children should be instructed not to try quelling a fight between animals, even though their own pet is involved. They should call for an adult, use a garden hose on the animals, or resort to coaxing.
6. Young people should be taught not to tresspass and not to ride bicycles where dogs are known to chase vehicles.
7. Every child ought to make friends with the pets in its neighborhood, under the supervision of an adult.

BLOOD AND URINE TESTS

B. P. writes: Are tests available to determine what vitamins and minerals are lacking in the system?

REPLY

Chemical tests of the blood and urine are available for most minerals and all vitamins except C and K but they are expensive and not practical. It is cheaper to eat a well balanced diet or to take a supplement containing all the known vitamins and minerals.

READING SUPINELY

M. W. writes: Does reading flat on the back damage the eyes?

REPLY

No, provided illumination is adequate and the eyes are not strained.

KIDNEY DILEMMA

A. J. writes: Is it possible to have one kidney removed and still have a floating kidney?

REPLY

RELAXATION IN ULCER

W. S. writes: How will a tranquilizer help a duodenal ulcer?

REPLY

By encouraging relaxation of the victim. This in turn quiets the stomach and reduces the activity of the acid producing glands.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

In Washington there dwells an ambitious worker who has neither a first name nor a middle name: just Jones — plus initials R. B. The government took a dim view of this unusual nomenclature and entered his name officially as R (only) B (only) Jones. Sure enough, when RB's first pay check came rolling in, it was made out to Ronly Bonly Jones!

A Detroit youngster wasn't having any of his father's pontificating. "I'm tired of hearing about how a fool and his money are soon parted," he protested. "What I'd like to know is how they ever got together in the first place."

Hep youngster was out of school with a virus infection for a few days, accosted his teacher when he returned with a blithe, "So tell me, Miss Casey, what's new in ancient history?"

Frostburg Little Leaguers Host Williamsport Today

Teams Play In District Semi-Final

Game Set For 6 P.M., Home Club Hopes To Avenge 1957 Defeat

Williamsport and Frostburg, a pair of two-game winners, will battle it out today at 6 p. m., at Frostburg in a semi-final round contest in the Little League district elimination tournament.

The Washington countians earned the right to play Frostburg's Little League All-Stars by defeating Halfway, 6-0, on a no-hitter by Don Hott, and the Valley Little League All-Stars of Hagerstown, 14-1, on a one-hitter by Leo Payne.

Diehl, Richards Score

Frostburg, skippered by William Biggs and William Groves, made its debut in the tournament with an 8-1 victory over the Oakland All-Stars at Oakland Monday in a game highlighted by a one-hitter by Billy Diehl. On Tuesday, the Mountain City tossers, with Donnie Richards, Tom Wilson and Wayne Harper playing the leading roles, eliminated Hancock's All-Stars at Hancock by the score of 4-2. Richards turned in a five-hit performance, Wilson rapped a pair of doubles, scored one run and batted in two and second baseman Harper excelled in the field with a sparkling one-handed stab of a line drive that nipped a Hancock rally in the bud.

The Frostburg team is well stocked with pitchers for the tourney and has Robert Layman (3-1) of the Lions, Wayne Harper (3-0) of the Lions and John Denning (3-2) of Rotary available for duty in today's game. During the league campaign Donnie Richards was 2-1 for the Elks and Billy Diehl 3-1 for the Orioles.

Wilson Pounds Ball

Tommy Wilson has been the hitting star in the two games played to date. Against Oakland he smashed a double and two singles and in the Hancock game he banged a pair of two-baggers.

The winner of today's game at Little League Field in Frostburg will advance to the district finals. The district champion will compete in the state championship games July 29, 30 and August 7 at a site to be announced.

Same Teams Met In 1957

The Washington countians of the Conocoheague League won their first two games and in the third contest at Williamsport, Frostburg was eliminated in a 6-5 battle after it had disposed of Oakland, 4-3, and Berkeley-Hancock, 6-0 on a no-hitter by Jimmy Diehl who also blasted a two-run homer. Williamsport trimmed Halfway, 18-2, and the Hagerstown Federals, 11-0.

In the district finals, the Frederick Nationals stopped Williamsport, 5-4, and went on to win state honors by whipping Easton at Frederick, 15-3.

Alston Still Backs Dodgers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "Don't count out the Los Angeles Dodgers. We'll have a lot to say about who is going to win the National League pennant."

A brash statement? Maybe so. But it comes right from manager Walt Alston whose club is 9 games off the pace and locked in a grip with the Pittsburgh Pirates for seventh place.

The amiable skipper of the Dodgers said any club could win the pennant.

"The team is in good spirits and I still think we will have a lot to say about who is going to win the pennant. The current eastern swing could tell the story."

Power Not Enough, Giants Seeking Better Pitching

Rigney Feels 92 Wins Takes Flag

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Power alone won't win pennants as the Giants of 1947 can testify. They set a home run record with 221 and finished fourth.

The San Francisco Giants of 1958, the most surprising club in the majors, have power with a crop of come-through rookies and established veterans. How about pitching and defense?

It turned out to be his biggest worry as his club battles to remain at or near first place.

Pitchers Disappointing

Rigney still seeks another relief hurler or two. Veteran Marv Grissom has a 6-3 mark. Newcomer Don Johnson from Toronto has seen only limited action. Former Minnesota football All-America Paul Giel goes in spot starts and relief.

Daryl Spencer at short and Danny O'Connell at second base have proved a reliable double play combination, and the club slipped defensively when Danny was sidelined in June with a rib injury.

While the Giants stand first in batting with .271, they are sixth in the National League in fielding with .976.

Catches On Quickly

Orlando Cepeda, the 200-pound rookie at first base, catches on quickly to the fielding tricks, and Jimmy Davenport at third rates with Henry Thompson in the days when he played standout ball for the Giants.

Rigney, who feels it will take 92 games to win the pennant, believes his club can do it. He sums up:

"It would be tough to pick out one man or one single thing. There's a combination. A tremendous spirit on the club, power and determination—a club that isn't beaten until the game's through.

"There's also help from a stronger bench. Last Saturday Jabbo (Ray Jablonski) got us even with just one smash with that pinch home run with two on."

Orioles Rally To Nip Chisox

Ginsberg Hitting Star In 6-4 Win

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Baltimore Orioles exploded for four runs in the ninth inning Wednesday to shatter Early Wynn's bid for his 10th victory and defeat the Chicago White Sox, 6-4.

Wynn, yielding only two runs on four hits through eight innings, was nicked for all the ninth-inning runs when the Orioles belted him for four hits.

Bob Nieman opened the rally with a double and scored on Joe Ginsberg's single. Ginsberg took second on Brooks Robinson's sacrifice. After Wynn struck out Billy Gardner for the second out, he lost control completely to walk Gus Triandos on four straight pitches.

Jack Harshman lined a pinch single to score pinch-runner Jim Busby and Bob Boyd completed the rally with a two-run double off the center field wall.

Chicago scored in the second on singles by Sherm Lollar, Al Smith, and Luis Aparicio, and collected three unearned runs in the fourth inning after errors by Boyd and Gardner. Ginsberg was the Orioles' batting hero, hitting his first home run of the season with Gene Woodling on base in the fourth inning, and batting in a run with a single in the ninth-inning outburst.

French Lick Opens Today

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (UPI)—A field of 23 of the country's leading women professionals are entered for Thursday's start of the First Annual $7,500 French Lick Open Golf Tournament, with such name stars as Beverly Hanson, Fay Crocker, and Louise Suggs among the top contenders.

Host pro Roy Seneff said only cooperation from the weatherman was needed to make this first venture here a success.

The girls are scheduled to play four 18-hole rounds through Sunday. Should rain wash out one or more rounds, tourney officials indicated the play-for-pay troupe might be forced to double up for 36 holes.

Finsterwald, Bolt, Snead To Vie In Eastern

Slammer Finally Decides To Play

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Dow Finsterwald and Tommy Bolt are set to open bids for the Eastern Open golf title Thursday but tournament officials are smiling mainly because Sammy Snead decided to compete.

Finsterwald is the newly-crowned P.G.A. champion. Bolt, the U.S. Open champion who was placed on indefinite probation last week by the P.G.A. is the defending Eastern champion.

But it's Snead, the favorite of golf galleries everywhere, who brings in the money. The last time the Eastern tournament was a financial success was in 1952 when Sam entered and won with a 72-hole total of 275 that still stands as the tournament record.

Originally, Snead didn't plan to play here this year. But Sam stopped in Baltimore to visit a friend, Charles Bassler, after the P.G.A. tournament ended last week end and was asked to enter the $20,000 Eastern. He said he would because "Gus Hook wants me to." Snead said Hook had done a lot of golf in the Middle Atlantic area, Sam 's home P.G.A. section, and he wanted to repay him. Hooks is superintendent of parks in Baltimore.

Besides Finsterwald, Bolt and Snead, other stars in the field include Cary Middlecoff, Jackie Burke, Jay Hebert, Frank Stranahan, Dick Mayer, Bill Casper, Fred Hawkins, Porky Oliver, Julius Boros, Ken Venturi, and the young South African, Gary Player.

The tournament will be held on the 6,895-yard course of the Mt. Pleasant Golf Club. The fairways are wide and the greens are open in front and very large, offering large targets. Tournament officials believe most final scores for the 72 holes will range in the high 270's and low 280's.

Runaway Race Hurts Jr. Loop

Attendance Down Comiskey States

CHICAGO (AP) — American League attendance has slumped for lack of a pennant race, White Sox vice president Chuck Comiskey said Wednesday, but he disagreed that "break up the Yankees" might be the cure.

Comiskey said "why break up something that's good?"

"It's up to the other clubs to build up so that they're equally good," continued the Sox executive, who said league attendance is down by some 600,000 or approximately 12 per cent.

"That's stricly because there is no pennant race," Comiskey said. "The Yankees were six games out in front before they even came west to meet the clubs in this sector. That was ruinous."

The first pure food law in the United States was passed by the state of Michigan.

Dark Vintage Takes Lassie

Filly Wins Sixth Straight Victory

CHICAGO (UPI)—Dark Vintage, a fast-stepping brown filly, rolled to her sixth straight win without defeat by two lengths Wednesday in the $101,150 Arlington Lassie to win $63,850.

It was the fourth stake win for the horse, owned by Edward E. Voynow and Stanley Hubbard. She was clocked at 1:10 4-5, only 2-5 of a second slower than the best time ever posted in 29 previous runnings of the race.

Dark Vintage, who earlier won the Miss Chicago, the Joliet and the Pollyanna, was backed down to the even money choice in the field of 15 by the crowd of 19,555.

Starting from post position No. 4, she was never worse than second in the six-furlong chase. She trailed Mrs. Harry Trotsek's Debbie Lorraine on the far turn at the top of the stretch, but never by more than two lengths. Jockey Johnny Heckman moved Dark Vintage into contention at the eighth pole and she drew out going down the stretch.

Little Kid, owned by Kennedy-Veale Stables, finished second for $20,000 place money, Debbie Lorraine held on to show for $10,000 and W. N. Modglin's Khalita, previously unbeaten in four starts with two stake victories, grabbed fourth for $5,000.

Practice Scheduled

The Toy Shop team of the City High School Baseball League will drill Friday at 10 a. m. at Fort Hill field.

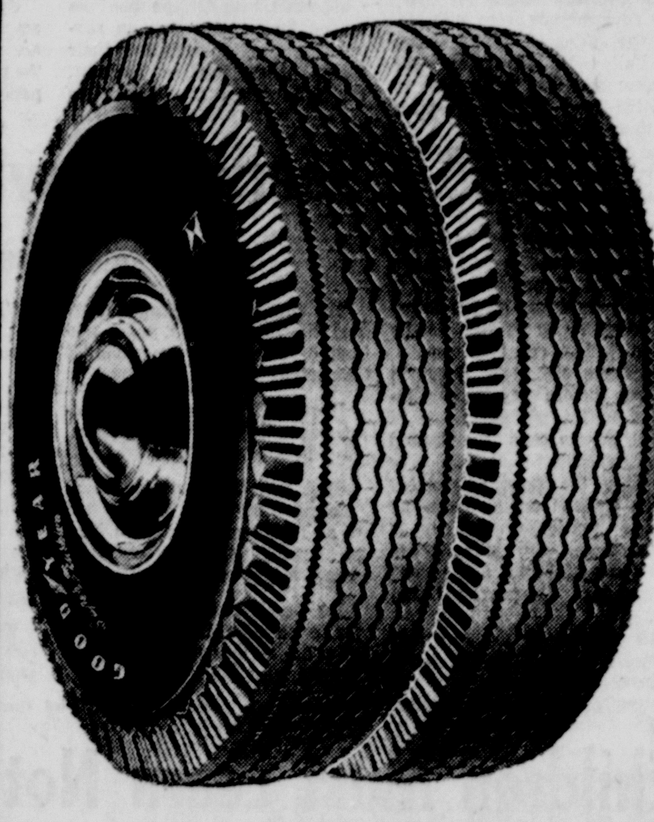

All-Stars To Drill

The Dan Division all-stars will hold a practice session today at 9:30 a.m. at East Side Field, the manager of the Little Leaguers announced last night.

Brown Retains Lightweight Title, Decisions Lane

Late Rally Gets Nod Of Three Judges

Sellout Crowd Of 11,000 Sees Champ Win Close Battle

By JACK CUDDY
United Press International

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Joe Brown's rally in the second half of the fight Wednesday night enabled him to keep his world light weight championship on a close but unanimous 15-round decision over southpaw Kenny Lane before a sellout of more than 11,000 fans in the Coliseum.

It was a terrific fight in which former farmboy Lane of Muskegon, Mich., almost turned into an upset against veteran Brown of New Orleans.

Second Title Fight

Each weighed 134¼ pounds for Houston's second title fight within three months. And their battle had the huge crowd cheering in almost every round. And the promoters were cheering also, for the gate was estimated at more than $68,740 for a new Texas record.

When the decision was announced, the crowd greeted it with mingled boos and cheers. The sentiment sounded almost evenly divided.

Referee Ernie Taylor, 143-142; Judge Jimmy Webb, 145-141, and Judge Bill Cornelius, 144-143. The United Press International had the bout a draw, with each getting 143 points.

See-Saw Bout

It was a see-saw fight in which Lane, 26, forced the action in most of the rounds with his right-handed attack and solid lefts to the body and head. However, Brown landed apparently the harder punches and had the muscular brown-haired Kenny bleeding from the mouth, left brow and nose. Kenny also had a "scrape" on his forehead.

There were no knockdowns; but Lane was set back onto his heels in the eighth, ninth, 10th, 12th and 13th by Brown's countering right uppercuts and left hooks. Thirty-two-year old Joe knocked out Kenny's mouthpiece in the 10th and 15th rounds. In the 15th he had Kenny practically out on his feet by the final bell.

The three ring officials agreed in giving Brown unanimously seven rounds and Lane six.

Prep For Bout

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Pete Rademacher and Zora Folley put the finishing touches Wednesday on preparations for their nationally-televised 10-round bout Friday night, with Folley still rated a 2½-1 favorite.

Phils Jolt Giants Twice In Sawyer's Pilot Debut

Win Suspended Tilt By 3-2; Cop 2nd, 2-0

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies welcomed Eddie Sawyer back as manager Wednesday night by knocking the San Francisco Giants out of first place in the hot National League pennant race with a 2-0 regulation game victory after taking a 3-2 decision in a completion of a suspended game of June 22.

The twin triumph gave Sawyer an auspicious debut in his return to baseball after a six-year absence. Sawyer, who led the Phillies to the National League pennant in 1950, took over as the Phils manager when Mayo Smith was fired suddenly by the front office.

Rookie right-hander Ray Semproch picked up his twelfth victory against six defeats as he hurled five-hit ball in the regulation game. The Phils' victim was southpaw Mike McCormick who suffered his second loss against seven wins and his first defeat in his last four outings.

Philadelphia gave Semproch the one run he needed in the first inning on a walk to Chico Fernandez and successive singles by Harry Anderson and Ed Bouchee. The other Philadelphia run came on Bob Bowman's fifth homer of the season to lead off the fourth inning.

The suspended game was decided by Harry Anderson's three-run sixth inning homer off reliever Johnny Antonelli. The June 22nd game had been suspended due to Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew law with the Giants leading 1-0 and the Phils having runners at first and third and two out. Ruben Gomez had been pitching at that time but manager Bill Rigney replaced him with Antonelli, a southpaw, against the left-hand swinging Anderson.

Nixon's Bat Paces Tribe To 5-3 Win

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Russ Nixon drove in three runs Wednesday night to pace the Cleveland Indians to a 5-3 victory over the Washington Senators.

Nixon hit his fourth home run in the second innings off Pete Ramos, and then doubled two runs home in the seventh to break a 3-3 tie.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant scored his seventh victory with a route job in which he gave up only five hits. Ramos lost his ninth game and also suffered a badly bruised leg. Vic Power hit him with a line drive in the third inning.

Yankees Belt Detroit, 16-4

New York Finally Whips Frank Lary

DETROIT (UPI) — The New York Yankees, sparked by Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra and a pair of six-run innings, Wednesday night hammered the Detroit Tigers for the second straight night, 16-4, and beat Frank Lary for the first time this year.

The Yankees, still stinging from Detroit's seven victories in a row over them earlier this year, routed Lary, who had beaten them six straight times, with four runs and then went on to rake three other pitchers for a dozen runs.

Art Ditmar, who pitched three-hit ball until the ninth, took the victory although he needed help from Johnny Kucks after Detroit rapped out four straight hits to open the inning.

Bob Friend Wins His 12th Victory

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates shoved the Los Angeles Dodgers into sole possession of the National League cellar Wednesday night, sweeping a twi-night double-header, 11-3 and 6-3.

The teams were tied for eighth place going into Wednesday night's meeting.

Bob Friend won his 12th victory of the season in the nightcap but failed to last the route. Roy Face replaced him with two outs and two men on base in the ninth and got pinch-hitter John Roseboro on a pop-up to preserve the victory.

Between the first and the ninth innings, Friend had allowed only one hit—a scratch single by Gino Cimoli. He struck out 10 batters, a high mark for the season by a Pirate hurler.

The Pirates splurged on extra-base power to win the opener, collecting 14 hits from four Dodger pitchers. Ron Kline, picked up his 10th victory, allowing only four hits.

Rain Cancels Slate

Yesterday's all-day rain cancelled out the area's slate of baseball and softball contests. The schedule included two City Softball League games, a Men's Rec League softball tilt, two Little League contests and two games in the Hot Stove baseball circuit.

Anne Quast Wins, Two Curtis Cuppers Lose Golf Matches

CHICAGO (UPI) — Two Curtis Cup players were eliminated from the 58th Women's Western Amateur Golf Tourney Wednesday, but medalist Anne Quast and two other team members advanced to the quarter-finals.

Miss Quast, a 20-year-old Stanford University history student, stroked even par for 14 holes to oust Sandra Clifford, Mexico City, 5 and 4. She had four one-putt greens to give her 19 for 47 holes played in the tournament.

Anne Richardson, another Curtis Cup player from Columbus, Ohio, was four over par, but played consistently to defeat Berridge Long, Huntington, W. Va. Barbara McIntire, Jupiter, Fla., eliminated another Curtis Cup member, Barbara Romack, Sacramento, Calif., 7 and 5.

The second Curtis Cup player to lose was Polly Riley, a veteran competitor from Fort Worth, Tex. She lost to Mrs. Paul Dye Jr., the Indiana state champion from Indianapolis, who was six over par with two double bogies, both attained when she hit into the water. But Miss Riley had trouble with nearly every shot to lose 3 and 2.

Philadelphia Signs Catcher Gus Niarhos

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday signed catcher Gus Niarhos and sent righthand pitcher John Gray to Miami.

Niarhos has been working this season as a pitching instructor with the Phils' Johnson City, Tenn., team and saw previous major league service with the New York Yankees.

Gray had a 0-0 record this year, working a total of 17 innings in relief, allowing 12 hits and nine runs.

Milwaukee Moves Into First Place

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Young Joey Jay pitched a sparkling two-hit, 6-0 shutout over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night to put the Milwaukee Braves in firm possession of first place over the San Francisco Giants, who dropped two games to Philadelphia.

The only two base runners for the Cardinals were Gene Freese who got an infield hit in the fifth and Don Blasingame who topped a safety into the infield in the ninth.

The strapping right handed Jay who signed for $40,000 with the Braves in 1953, walked none and struck out seven. He faced only 29 batters, or just two over the minimum for a nine-inning game.

The win was also Jay's fifth straight and his sixth complete contest in nine starts. As a starting pitcher he has allowed just 10 earned runs in 72 innings for an ERA of 1.25.

Eddie Mathews' 20th home run of the season, with Mel Roach and Wes Covington on base in the second inning, was the big blow of the game. One other run was scored in the inning before Mathews parked the ball in the right field bleachers. It came on Johnny Logan's lead-off double, Roach's infield hit and Covington's scratch single off starter Larry Jackson's leg.

North End Plans Field Day Today

North End Playground will hold a Field Day today, with children participating in various track and field events, according to Maureen Cavanaugh, play leader.

The events will include a discus throw, broad jump and 50 and 100 yard dashes. The program will run from 1 to 5 p. m., Miss Cavanaugh said, and there will be separate divisions for senior, junior and pee-wee entrants.

A doll show will be presented today at 7:30 p.m. at the playground, the play leader said.

The expression to "read the riot act" dates back to old laws which provide that a soldier read a notice to warn a disorderly crowd of people to disperse before arresting any of them.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 heart	Pass
3 clubs	Pass	3 diamonds	Pass
3 spades	Pass	5 clubs	Pass
6 clubs	Pass	Pass	Pass

A complete description of the layout of a hand is quite as important as conveying information as to its high card contents. Today's hand from a recent tournament was subjected to a wide variety of treatments in the bidding and the play.

The opening bid and response were uniform. Some Souths chose to rebid two no trump. This call is somewhat unorthodox, for the South hand contains only 17 high card points, two short of the requirements, but there is compensation in the form of the near solid six card suit plus the promoted value of the queen in partner's suit. The no trump rebid almost uniformly resulted in a three no trump contract.

Those Souths who chose a jump in clubs glided into the suit slam. North properly showed his second suit and South cue bid in spades as a temporizing measure. North now showed the fine fit by jumping to five clubs. South needed no further coaxing and proceeded to six.

The low score on the hand was made by the pairs that reached the three no trump contract. The five of spades was opened and some declarers held themselves to five when they needlessly ducked two rounds of the suit.

One no trumper took the first spade trick, since everything hinged on the finesse in clubs. When this worked, he took all the tricks because as he ran down the clubs and hearts West was unable to hold on to both the diamonds and the spades.

Actually it would have been safe for him to unguard his diamonds except for the fact that East had carelessly let go a small diamond, placing the burden of stopping that suit entirely on West's shoulders.

The slam in clubs is a safer contract than three no trump, because even had the finesse lost six clubs could be made, but an unfavorable location of the club king might ruin a three no trump contract.

Four Hurt In Turnpike Crash

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — A Connecticut woman and her three children were seriously injured Wednesday afternoon when their car swerved off the Pennsylvania Turnpike near here.

Mrs. Patricia Smolen, 35, of 150 North Ave., Westport, Conn.; her daughter, Debbie, 9, and her sons, Robert, 2, and Jay, 11, were admitted to Harrisburg Hospital where they were reported in "unsatisfactory" condition.

Police said Mrs. Smolen was traveling west on the Turnpike when her car swerved across the medial strip, broke through a guard rail and plunged down an embankment, rolling over several times.

FISHY REPORT

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI)—The state Fish Commission Wednesday denied reports that thousands of dead fish were floating down the Susquehanna River towards here. The commission said a "large amount" of fish were destroyed in Clearfield and Cambria counties by heavy storms last week, but the dead fish would either be grounded or deteriorate before reaching Harrisburg.

Even though curly hair doesn't need a permanent, it, too, must be disciplined for beauty's sake.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

A Hair Line

Not every woman can afford to be a slave to her hairdresser. Even if you could, there are certain fundamental things — all strictly personal — that should be known about your crowning glory. That is, if you want to choose the right hairdo for yourself.

For instance, you must first know whether your hair is easy or hard to manage: whether it is fine, coarse or medium in texture: and whether it is curly, straight or slightly wavy.

In the summertime, particularly, you want a hair style that doesn't require elaborate fussing. You usually want it short — and this season when short hair's in fashion, you'll really go in for a bout with the scissors. A permanent will make it easier to wave and get your hair in a certain shape. It also gives body to the hair, if needed.

But, you may have the kind of hair that does better without a permanent. Usually very soft, fine hair doesn't take a permanent too well. If you have this kind, you may eliminate any difficulties and look better if its natural tendencies are observed and encouraged.

Also, very thin hair looks better with a diagonal part. It should run from a point on your forehead line to an opposite point on the crown of your head. What this accomplishes is to provide an even distribution of the hair, making it appear to be heavier.

If you have a widow's peak, you're one of the fortunate ones; for this is one of the most coveted natural hair flatterers. When you're young, you can wear it straight back without a part. But later, part to one side of the peak . . . . never in the direct center.

Two Neighboring Mayors Have Traffic Problems

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI)—The mayors of Wheeling and adjacent Bethlehem are involved in separate traffic squabbles, each on a different end of his respective controversy.

Wheeling Mayor Jack R. Adams fined earlier this week after being stopped and charged with going 50 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone, claimed police cruisers had been "tailing" him and his family for two weeks.

Adams viewed the alleged action as a result of published reports that he was against a pay raise for policemen. He said this was not true — that he favored a 3 per cent across-the-board pay raise for all city employes, including policemen.

Mayor William N. Dixon of Bethlehem was accused, on the other hand, of ordering the village's four-man part-time police force to pick up residents for minor traffic infractions. And Wednesday he refused to allow a Wheeling News-Register reporter to see the records of arrests.

"The records do not concern the newspaper in any way, shape or form," Dixon said. The village's four councilmen said they didn't mind the reporter looking over the records and said they were a matter of public record. But Dixon said the records were "not for publicity."

A number of Bethlehem citizens said they planned to protest at an Aug. 4 council meeting against what they said was the practice of the village marshals of "tailing" cars and hiding in wait for cars to go a mile or two over the speed limit. The marshals get $25 a month plus $3 for each arrest.

Naturally, as the use of mails increased, it was only a matter of time that the picture postals or picture post cards came into being. While records are sketchy, it appears that the Austrian government issued its Korrespondenzkarten in about 1869, and within a few years the German, Swiss, Belgian, British and Dutch post offices followed suit.

Privately produced picture cards seem to have made their appearance in 1870, and there is some debate as to whether the industry's birthplace was France or Germany. However, the scenes and comic designs attracted attention and laughs around the world.

The Post Office has long since outlawed some which became too fancy—decorated with gilt, bits of metal or sequins. Mail carriers and clerks complained that these gadgets scratched and cut their hands. It was also found that they frequently clogged or damaged cancelling machines. So they were ruled out.

Picture post cards, once a popular penny item, were later raised to three for a nickel and two for a nickel. However, a few penny cards can sometimes be found, but the better grade of post cards showing historic scenes, vacation spots, and the like now sell for as much as 10 cents each, and there are always bargain-priced cards for much less. Each of these requires a two-cent stamp and after August 1, the price will be a three-cent stamp.

Under the new regulations, the "cute" miniature cards, if less than two and three-quarters inches by four inches, will not be handled at all after July 1, 1959. Cards over the accepted regulation size are now subject to letter postage rates.

Stamp increases August 1, in addition to the rise of the two-cent postal to three cents, also provide for a five-cent air mail card, instead of the present four-cent air mail missive. First class letters of course jump from three cents to four cents, and air mail letters go from six to seven cents. Other rates also have been adjusted upward.

B&O Crew Restores 13 Derailed Cars

Thirteen cars of a B&O freight train that were derailed in the westbound yards here yesterday morning were restored yesterday at 4 p. m.

The cars were a part of a slow-moving eastbound train, and all 13 remained upright after leaving the track. No one was injured in the incident.

A B&O spokesman said last night that it is believed that a broken rail caused the derailment.

Police recovered $31 from one boy and $50 from the other. The boys hid the money in their bedrooms. The rest of the $190 was spent on beer, gasoline and other items, police said.

During questioning, one boy ran out of the Police Station, but was later apprehended by police.

The same two boys, Detective Morrissey said, admitted being with two others and taking beer on the Centre Street Playground earlier this week. They informed police the beer had been purchased in nearby West Virginia with a phony draft card.

Detective Morrissey last night questioned another youth in connection with the draft card that the youths used to purchase the beer.

Equity Suits Filed

Four equity suits have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Theodore R. Robertson vs. Dorothy M. Robertson, LeEsta M. Martin vs. Delbert W. Martin, Johanna Claudette Cartwright vs. James Robert Cartwright, and Hazel E. Day vs. Thomas L. Day.

Pa. Republicans Ask Help With Platform

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — A committee of high-ranking state Republicans Wednesday called on interested organizations and individuals to help nail the planks in the GOP platform for the fall elections.

Johnson said the 21 - member committee will meet Aug. 7 to set up dates for public hearings to be held in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg.

The committee, at its initial organization meeting here Wednesday, pin-pointed 21 fields which will be subject to a thorough going over before platform recommendations are submitted to the state committee Sept. 6. They included agriculture, education, appropriations, revenue, youth programs, mental health and welfare, women in business and government, veterans affairs, civil rights, industrial development, and public health and sanitation, including atomic energy and radiation studies.

The committee also named Mrs. Sara Leffler, of Lebanon, as permanent secretary, and Gloria Sabatini, Philadelphia, assistant secretary.

Among those attending the Wednesday meeting were Johnson, House Speaker W. Stuart Helm, state Chairman George I. Bloom, Mrs. Esther Detweiler, committee vice chairman, Judge Robert E. Woodside, candidate for the state Supreme Court, and Andrew J. Gleason, Johnstown, candidate for lieutenant governor.

The three other candidates for state office, ex officio committee members, were unable to attend.

Drivers Face Charges After Accidents

Drivers of two automobiles have been charged with motor violations in two separate accidents in which three persons were injured, according to Maryland State Police.

In the first accident, which occurred late Tuesday night in Mt. Savage, Mrs. Virginia L. Gordon, 49, Mt. Savage, has been charged by Trooper Willis E. Foreman with failing to grant the right of way.

Also charged in an accident yesterday morning on Town Creek Road near Flintstone is Thomas E. Tribut, 25, of RFD 1, Flintstone. He has been charged with failing to drive to the right of center by Trooper J. W. McFarland.

Mrs. Gordon will be given a hearing July 29 in Frostburg, and the hearing for Tribut has been set for July 28 in Flintstone.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital following the mishap yesterday morning were Mrs. Vivian Irene Slider, 19, of RD 1, Oldtown Road, and Tribut.

The accident was also investigated by Cpl. Harry S. Bosley.

Police said Ronald R. Slider, husband of the injured woman, was driving north on the road, while Tribut was driving south. The cars met almost headon on a slight curve. Police said the mishap was apparently caused by Tribut's failure to keep to the right of the center line.

Trooper Foreman said Miss Betty Gordon, 18, of Mt. Savage, was treated at Miners Hospital, Frostburg.

County Obtains

Allegany County has ranked sixth consistently in the state after Baltimore City and the four counties adjacent to Baltimore and Washington. In the past fiscal year, according to Mr. Tawes' figures, the leaders were Baltimore City, $1,027,533.33; Baltimore County $244,499.13; Prince George's County, $169,120.79; Anne Arundel County, $123,014.29; Montgomery County, $112,225.12; Allegany County, $61,022.28.

Garrett County does not share in this tax because sale of distilled spirits is not licensed there.

Seek Beer License

Robert R. and Ida May Norris have filed an application with the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners for a Class D beer license in premises on U.S. Route 40 near Piney Grove.

JP REAPPOINTED

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Gov. George M. Leader reappointed Wednesday Raleigh C. Snell, Edinboro, as justice of the peace for that Erie County borough, to serve until January, 1960.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

County Obtains $140,085 From Tax On Liquor

Yield Covers 27-Month Total

Allegany County has received a total of $140,085.72 from the excise tax on distilled spirits in the 27 months since it was first collected in the spring of 1956.

Mrs. Johanna N. Sills, the county auditor, receives a check each quarter from State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes. It represents 50 cents on each gallon of distilled spirits delivered to authorized retail outlets in this county. The latest check was for $13,442.14, representing collections for 26,884.29 gallons delivered to retailers in this county in the quarter between April 1 and June 30. The check arrived late last week.

When Comptroller Tawes distributed the latest checks to Baltimore City and 22 of the 23 Maryland counties, he reported Allegany County's total for the fiscal year at $61,022.28. That included the final check of $13,442.14.

Checks Come Later

However, Mr. Tawes' figures and those prepared by the county auditor for the fiscal year do not coincide for one very obvious reason. The state comptroller reports on the taxes collected during a fiscal year. However, his check for each quarter does not go out to the county until the next month after the quarter ends.

Mrs. Sills must close her books for the fiscal year as of June 30 and the check for collections between April 1 and June 30 does not reach her until well into the following month.

The 122,044.58 gallons delivered to Allegany County retailers in the fiscal year which ended June 30 represented an average of 1.36 gallons a year for each of Allegany County's 89,556 persons counted in the 1950 census.

The $61,022.28 reported by Mr. Tawes for Allegany County for the fiscal year ended June 30 was 4.65 per cent less than the $63,999.32 reported in the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1957.

During the 1956-57 fiscal year which ended June 30, 1957, Mrs. Sills received a total of $65,627.42 from the state comptroller. During the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1958, she received and deposited $61,016.16 from this tax source. Now she has the first $13,442.14 for the current fiscal year.

More In Holiday Season

Highest quarterly returns each year have been in the quarter ending December 31, reflecting increased purchases for the Christmas season. Biggest check of all was $22,440.43 for the quarter which ended December 31, 1956. During the same quarter last year the total was $20,375.31. In each case, the figure represented about one-third of the annual yield.

Following are the quarterly collections, beginning with the quarter which ended June 30, 1956.

$15,064.12, June 30, 1956; $15,045.92, September 30, 1956; $22,440.43, December 31, 1956; $13,076.95, March 31, 1957; $13,436.02, June 30, 1957; $14,267.91, September 30, 1957; $20,375.31, December 31, 1957; $12,936.92, March 31, 1958; $13,442.14, June 30, 1958.

Since the tax has been distributed beginning in June 1956,

Pets Win Honors

New Price Of Postal Cards Surpasses Cost Of Living

In these days of mounting living costs, few such widely used items as the postal card have tripled in price in a four-year period.

The United States government entered the field of postal cards in 1873 and sold them for a penny each. A special card stock was eventually designed for the purpose. The cards met with instant acceptance and sold for one cent each, including the affixed stamp, until 1952 when the price was raised to two cents.

On August 1, postal cards will be raised to three cents, but the Post Office Department anticipates their popularity will continue.

The nation's enormous post card business was not started by the government, but originated in 1861 when John P. Charlton of Philadelphia obtained a copyright for the first practical open-face mailing form or card.

Shortly after, the inventor passed the copyright on to another Philadelphian, who set up a business of printing and selling "Lipman's Postal Cards."

The Post Office Department reports that of the 60 billion pieces of written mail now handled annually, nearly three and a third billion are cards. Their contribution to the government's income is around $66 million annually, and with the increase in price is expected to produce close to another $33 million annually.

Printed stamps on the first official postal cards showed the profile of the Goddess of Liberty. Later editions bore the portraits of Jefferson, Grant, McKinley, Washington, Lincoln and Franklin.

But regardless of the stamp portrait, the idea of a quick, one-piece mailing device proved a good one. In fact, a double postal card which provides for a return answer has evolved and has also been highly popular.

The government has continued to call its cards "postal cards," while other manufacturers more

Family Service Representative To Speak Here

Mrs. Marion Sisson, field representative of the Family Service Association of America from New York City, will speak at a meeting of the family counciling committee of the Allegany County Youth Commission at 8 p. m. today in the office of the County Board of Education.

Magistrate Morris Baron, who is chairman of the committee, said that all committee members, members of the Youth Commission and other interested persons are invited to attend tonight's meeting.

Mrs. Elinor Westerfeld, director of the County Welfare Department, who contacted Mrs. Sisson, said that the visitor will discuss how the Youth Commission might conduct a survey to determine whether the family counseling services offered by local clergymen and school officials and existing agencies are sufficient to meet the needs of the community and the area.

In some large cities, family counseling is provided by skilled persons who operate much as do psychologists or psychiatrists. In general they charge for their services on the basis of the patient's ability to pay. In some cases there is no charge whatsoever.

The Family Service Association of America is composed of representatives of family agencies whose members are properly qualified to perform their required services.

The Youth Commission was organized in the spring to help coordinate activities designed to reduce delinquency in the area.

Boy Scouts Advanced

Harley Winer was advanced to first class and was presented with five merit badges.

Advanced to second class were David Arrington, William Aumiller, Lester Boden, James Castle, David Grove, Richard Jackle, Delton Johnson, Robert Mongold, James Shrout, Bradley Stone and Michael Wagoner.

Also advanced were Clinton Campbell and Edward Morrison to tenderfoot.

The awards were presented by Preston Luck, neighborhood commissioner for the troop, and a short talk on advancement was made by John C. Means, district advancement committeeman.

July Tax Collections Exceed $3,000 Daily

Tax Collector J. Wallace Close at the Court House reported yesterday that daily collections of county and state real estate taxes have been averaging between $3,000 and $4,000 during the month of July.

Collections during July are entitled to a four per cent discount on county taxes. In August, the discount drops to three per cent and in September a one-half per cent penalty will be charged.

$75,000 Sought In Four Suits In Court Here

Thanksgiving Day Crash Involved

Four damage suits seeking a total of $75,000 from a Delaware woman and the operators of a local petroleum company were filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The four actions resulted from a three-way collision on U. S. Route 40 near the eastern end of Allegany County involving two cars and a tractor-trailer truck last Thanksgiving Day.

A $40,000 suit was filed for Mrs. Mary Metz, 464 Columbia Street, against Mrs. Annie Mason, 104 East Monroe Avenue, Wilmington, Del., and James H. Garland, trading as Garland Petroleum Company, 12 West Roberts Street.

Mrs. Metz stated in her declaration, filed by Attorney Edward J. Ryan, that she sustained a fracture of the left femur, fracture of the right hip, bruises, shock and other injuries. She was a passenger in an automobile being driven east on U. S. Route 40 by her niece, Miss Viola McCoy, 4606 Main Avenue, Baltimore. Mrs. Metz said her niece was driving properly behind an eastbound Garland truck, operated by Franklin Westfall.

She asserted that suddenly the tractor-trailer owned by Garland crossed to the left of the center line of the road in the path of a west-bound car driven by the Delaware woman. The woman lost control of her car and struck the McCoy vehicle which she said was being driven properly.

A $20,000 suit was filed by Mr. Ryan in behalf of Mrs. Emma M. McCoy, 4606 Main Avenue, Baltimore, sister of Mrs. Metz and mother of the driver. A passenger in the same car, she contended that she was badly cut about the head and body. She stated that a tube had to be inserted in her throat to keep her from suffocation, and nerves in her face and head were damaged.

Miss McCoy, the driver, sued for $10,000 for the loss of her car wrecked in the crash and for a fractured wrist.

The fourth suit filed by Mr. Ryan seeks $5,000 damages for Joseph Metz, husband of Mrs. Mary Metz, for loss of his wife's services and for hospital, medical, surgical and nursing expenditures as a result of her injuries.

Local Guard Unit To Train Next Month

Captain Eugene M. Light, commanding officer of Company C First Battalion, 115th Infantry Regiment, Maryland National Guard, said the unit will begin its annual field training on August 16.

Captain Light said the local unit will undergo its training this year at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation in Pennsylvania, for a two-week period.

The local guard unit will join other units from other armories in Maryland and West Virginia, at the campsite near Harrisburg.

The local group will physically join the regiment for the first time since last year's field training was devoted to the advanced phases of infantry training.

The training next month will be the culmination of the Army teamwork lessons learned during the weekly sessions during the year.

The activities this year will include "pentomic" tactics under the new Army policy of the infantry's duties in combat in the event of an attack under nuclear conditions.

It also will consist of range firing of larger weapons and the training will be concluded with a division on August 23.

Last year the local unit scored well on its training and is looking forward to bringing its members up to a high degree of efficiency during the field training.

Captain Light expressed his appreciation to the employers of the National Guardsmen for their cooperation by making the men available for training.

Boy Is Fined After Crash Injures Mother

A young driver of a car in which his mother was injured was fined $15.50 yesterday in Romney, W. Va., as a result of a motor violation which caused an accident on Cooper Mountain in Hampshire County.

Richard Robinson, 16, of Glen Burnie, pleaded guilty of driving on the wrong side of the road and was fined by A. L. Russell, justice of the peace.

The auto operated by the Robinson youth skidded across the highway and struck an automobile operated by Robert See, 37, of Fairfax, Va.

The youth's mother, Mrs. Mary Robinson, 51, suffered head injuries when she was thrown through the windshield, but refused medical treatment, according to Sgt. W. Frank Bowley.

The first accident happened about 2:30 p. m. when a late model automobile driven by Glenn Wesley Rhodes of West Des Moines, Iowa, skidded on the wet highway and crashed head-on into the left front of a tractor trailer that was ascending the steep grade on U.S. Route 50.

Rhodes and his wife were taken to Winchester (Va.) Memorial Hospital where he was released after treatment of minor injuries.

Mrs. Rhodes was admitted to the hospital with fractures of both lower legs and severe lacerations of the head and face suffered when she was thrown through the windshield of the car by the impact of the collision.

Trooper C. E. Dorsey, who investigated, said the driver of the tractor rig was Robert Lee Marshall, 27, of Hagerstown.

Charges are still pending, Trooper Dorsey said.

Thunderstorms Again Forecast By Weatherman

Rain Continues To Dampen Area

Thundershowers and more thundershowers have been in the forefront of the weatherman's predictions all week, and late last night he was still calling the same turn.

For today, weather is expected to be warmer, more humid, with more thundershowers in the area during the afternoon. Some clearing is anticipated for Friday and probably a warm, dry weekend is in sight.

Thus far July has been unseasonably wet, with almost an inch of rainfall reported here in the past 24 hours alone. Thus far for the month, the area has had close to six inches of rainfall with 1.65 inches recorded on a single day, July 16.

Despite the heavy rains, however, streams have not approached anything near a flood stage, are swollen but not as much as might be expected. The rains have come intermittently enough that water has run off steadily and safely.

Local gardeners of both the vegetable and flower variety are complaining this week because everything, including the weeds, is growing too fast. One man, who had anticipated a record tomato and pepper crop said, "So far, the plants have just kept growing and growing, but we need some sun and dry weather to produce the ripened vegetables."

Nobody Swims

Outdoor activity has been greatly curtailed, putting a crimp in the vacation business. Swimming pools have been almost neglected, except for a few brave souls who will swim come rain or shine, warm or cool. In the Deep Creek Lake area almost two inches of rain has fallen in the past seven days, and cottagers and summer residents have spent more time than they like indoors.

In West Virginia, which was hit with up to two inches of rainfall in a 24-hour period, some streams were high, debris was washed onto a number of roads and highways, but last night, the State Road Commission reported all highways open and clear and no streams in danger of flooding.

Some low-lying farmlands were inundated when small streams and creeks went out of their banks, but damage was reported slight.

W. Va. Rivers Overflow

The rain was extremely heavy Wednesday in a 75-mile radius of Charleston. Charleston itself recorded 2.07 inches from midnight to 4 p. m. and 2.5 inches was measured at Sutton. This latter caused some sharp rises on the Elk River, resulting in low - lying areas getting some overflow.

The Ohio, Monongahela, Kanawha, Little Kanawha, Greenbrier, Gauley and New Rivers rose, with some lowland flooding along the latter four.

The rain left W. Va. 2 slick near Pt. Pleasant and a skidding car crashed into another, killing two persons and injuring three. An electrical storm hit near West Union and two young boys were injured when a bolt of lightning struck a tree under which they were playing.

The same electrical storm also hit in Barbour County where a lightning bolt struck a barn, killing one cow and setting fire to the structure. Five other animals were not injured. Earl Forman of Nestorville, operator of the farm, estimated his loss at $5,000.

Money Is Stolen From Restaurant

Parade Will Feature Ridgeley Homecoming

The committee planning the annual homecoming celebration in Ridgeley, announced last night that the week-long activities will begin Monday

The activities during the homecoming event will be featured by a parade that will be held next Friday at 7 p. m.

The committee also listed the prizes that will be offered to units participating in the march. They include $50 for the best band; $50 best drum corps; $25 best appearing unit; $25 unit with most in line; $25 unit traveling greatest distance; and $25 for the best float.

The committee has received word from 15 units that plan to take part next Friday. Other units in the area, interested in marching, may contact the American Legion home in Ridgeley.

Judges for the parade will be William W. Jackson, 10th district commander of the American Legion in Charles Town, W. Va.; Lincoln Cox, department first vice commander of the American Legion in Kirby, W. Va.; Glenn Boyd, Luke, a member of Voiture 164, 40&8 Society in Cumberland, and Fred Steward, chef de gare of Voiture 1212, 40&8 Society, Keyser; and David Shears, mayor of Romney, W. Va.

The homecoming activities on Thursday will be featured by "The Barbarians" from Keyser. This group of 24 members is made up of boys and girls from Keyser High School.

They have played several times at Baker VA Center in Martinsburg, W. Va., and have received an award from the hospital for entertaining the personel hospitalized there.

Vets Bonus Study Group To Be Named

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Aides to Gov. McKeldin said Wednesday they are preparing a list of six appointments to a special commission created by the 1958 Legislature to study the possibility for payment of a veterans bonus.

The appointments will be announced shortly after his return from a vacation abroad about Aug. 15.

The 1958 law provides the commission be made up of six delegates appointed by the Speaker of the House, three senators appointed by the Senate president and six at-large members named by the governor. At least three at-large members are to represent veterans organizations.

The commission is to name its own chairman and to study all legislation affecting veterans with emphasis on the bonus study.

House Speaker John C. Luber (D-Balto 5th) has appointed Dels. Thomas Hedrick (D-Balto 2nd), Lloyd Simpkins (D-Somerset), Charles Culver (D-Balto County), Noel Cook (R-Allegany), Lewis Tawney (D-Anne Arundel) and William Hodges (D-Balto 6th).

Senate President Louis L. Goldstein (D-Calvert) has appointed Sens. Ralph Mason (D-Worcester) Frank Shipley (D-Howard) and Thomas Mudd (D-Charles).

RAYMOND M. KELLEY

Cumberland Man Appointed To Luke Post

Raymond M. Kelley, 636 Bedford Street, has joined the maintenance department at the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Mr. Kelley is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, attended Potomac State College, Keyser, W. Va., for two years and then transferred to West Virginia University where he received a bachelor of science degree in business administration in 1952. He served in the Navy from 1943 to 1948.

He joined the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company at Akron, Ohio, in 1952 as a supervisor in sales accounting, but the following year returned to Cumberland to join the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company for time study work. In 1956 Mr. Kelley joined the Westinghouse Electric Corporation in Baltimore as a time and motion analyst. The following year he went to work at the Celanese Corporation of America plant at Amcelle as an engineering supervisor.

Mr. Kelley is married to the former Miss Elizabeth Louise Coyle of Cumberland. They have two sons, Randall James, 4, and John Douglas, 6 weeks.

Boys Admit Theft From Woman's Home

City Police have questioned two local boys who they said have admitted taking $190 in cash from the home of Mrs. Charles A. Ways, Bedford Street, last Saturday night.

The two 16-year-olds were picked up Tuesday night and were questioned by Detective Kenneth W. Morrissey.

Mrs. Ways told police that $450 in cash and a $600 watch had been stolen from her home during the past several weeks.

Detective Morrissey questioned the youths for several hours Tuesday night, but they would not admit to the crime until the father of one of the boys came to headquarters.

Police said the boys had a key made in a downtown store last week and entered Mrs. Ways' apartment around 9:30 p. m. Saturday.

They admitted ransacking the apartment until they found the cash in a money sack under Mrs. Ways' bed. They took all the bills, but left an amount of change.

The boys informed Detective Morrissey that after obtaining the money they went to a local theatre where they split the "take." They later got rid of the key by

City Officials Discuss Plans For Thruway

Ramp To Armory Site Proposed

City officials came away from a three-hour conference in Baltimore yesterday afternoon without any absolute decisions but with a better understanding concerning the west approach of the Cumberland Thruway.

Meeting in the office of Norman M. Pritchett, chief engineer of the State Roads Commission, were Major General Milton A. Reckord, adjutant general of the Maryland Military Department; Mayor J. Edwin Keech, City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum, City Attorney William R. Carscaden and City Plumber Simon Carroll.

One of the chief topics of discussion was the possibility of a ramp leading from the Thruway to the new National Guard Armory which is to be built in Ridgedale Addition. In that particular area, city officials were told, there is a six per cent grade on the Thruway and a 60-foot cut through the hillside.

Mr. Pritchett assured the conferees that the matter will be studied and if the cost is not prohibitive a ramp will be planned to the new armory. Plans for the Thruway do call for an interchange with U. S. Route 220, the McMullen Highway. Vehicles could leave the Thruway at that interchange, travel to the Dingle Circle and thence on Gephart Drive to the armory site.

Primary interest at yesterday's conference, which ended about 5 p. m., was learning full details of the sewer and water lines the city will have to relocate in connection with the western end of the Thruway. Plans for water and sewage lines to the new armory, another city obligation, also were discussed.

In planning a ramp from the Thruway, SRC officials are not limited to a six per cent grade, it was learned yesterday. It was reported that the steepest grade on any city street at the present time is 17 per cent and the ramp would have far less grade than that.

Many False Insurance Law Claims Filed

A check by the Motor Vehicle Department of Maryland has indicated that a number of registrants erroneously answered the insurance question on the application form for their 1958 licenses.

James B. Monroe, commissioner of Motor Vehicles, said this was noted in a comparison of accident reports submitted to the financial responsiblity division with the registration records of the Motor Vehicle Department.

The Unsatisfied Claim and Judgment Fund Law provides, in substance, that every person who registered an uninsured motor vehicle in this state for the yearly period commencing April 1, 1958 or May 1, 1958, must pay an additional fee of $8.

Persons who registered an insured vehicle during this same period were required to pay only a $1 fee.

The law further provides that any person who operates an uninsured motor vehicle without having paid the prescribed fee is subject to a fine of $100 to $500, or imprisonment for not more than 30 days, or both.

The commissioner of motor vehicles announced his intention of referring to Dan M. Vann, manager of the Unsatisfied Claim and Judgment Fund Board, files on which it appeared that improper fees had been paid at the time of registration.

Mr. Vann will study the files submitted to him and refer them to the prosecuting authorities where such procedure is indicated.

Agent Seeks To Trap Moving Gypsy Moth

A representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture was in Allegany County this week setting traps for gypsy moth and urging enforcement of the quarantine to keep travelers from bringing plants into Maryland from the New England and Middle Atlantic states.

The gypsy moth has been active in New England for years and at times defoliates entire hillsides. Phillip Schroder, the agricultural department agent, who is working an area from Ohio to New Jersey, reported that some gypsy moths have been found in Pennsylvania this year and the aim is to keep them from spreading farther south.

Work Progresses On Allegany Gymnasium

Workmen of the George F. Hazelwood Company are making daily progress in the construction of a large new gymnasium for Allegany High School plus additional classrooms for music and art. Contract for the new addition to the school was awarded in February by the Allegany County Board of Education on a low bid of $871,870. The addition is not expected to be finished until late winter or early spring. The gym will have a seating capacity of more than 2,100, the largest in the county.
